Like a kaleidoscope, a school year at Aldine is an ever changing pattern of people. With the beginning of school the students entered a mass of confused scenes and patterns. As the days progressed, these changing scenes began to take shape.

You, the students of Aldine High School, were these changes, this variegated changing pattern. The school year of 1965-66 continued with the colorful array of patterns typical of a school year.

As the year grew older, these changing shapes took form. The form of a year of school for all students. Through the confusion of 1600 students, we of the 1966 ROUNDUP have tried to arrange for you, the students, a book of memories which will serve as a treasure chest of great moments in the lives of Aldine High School students.

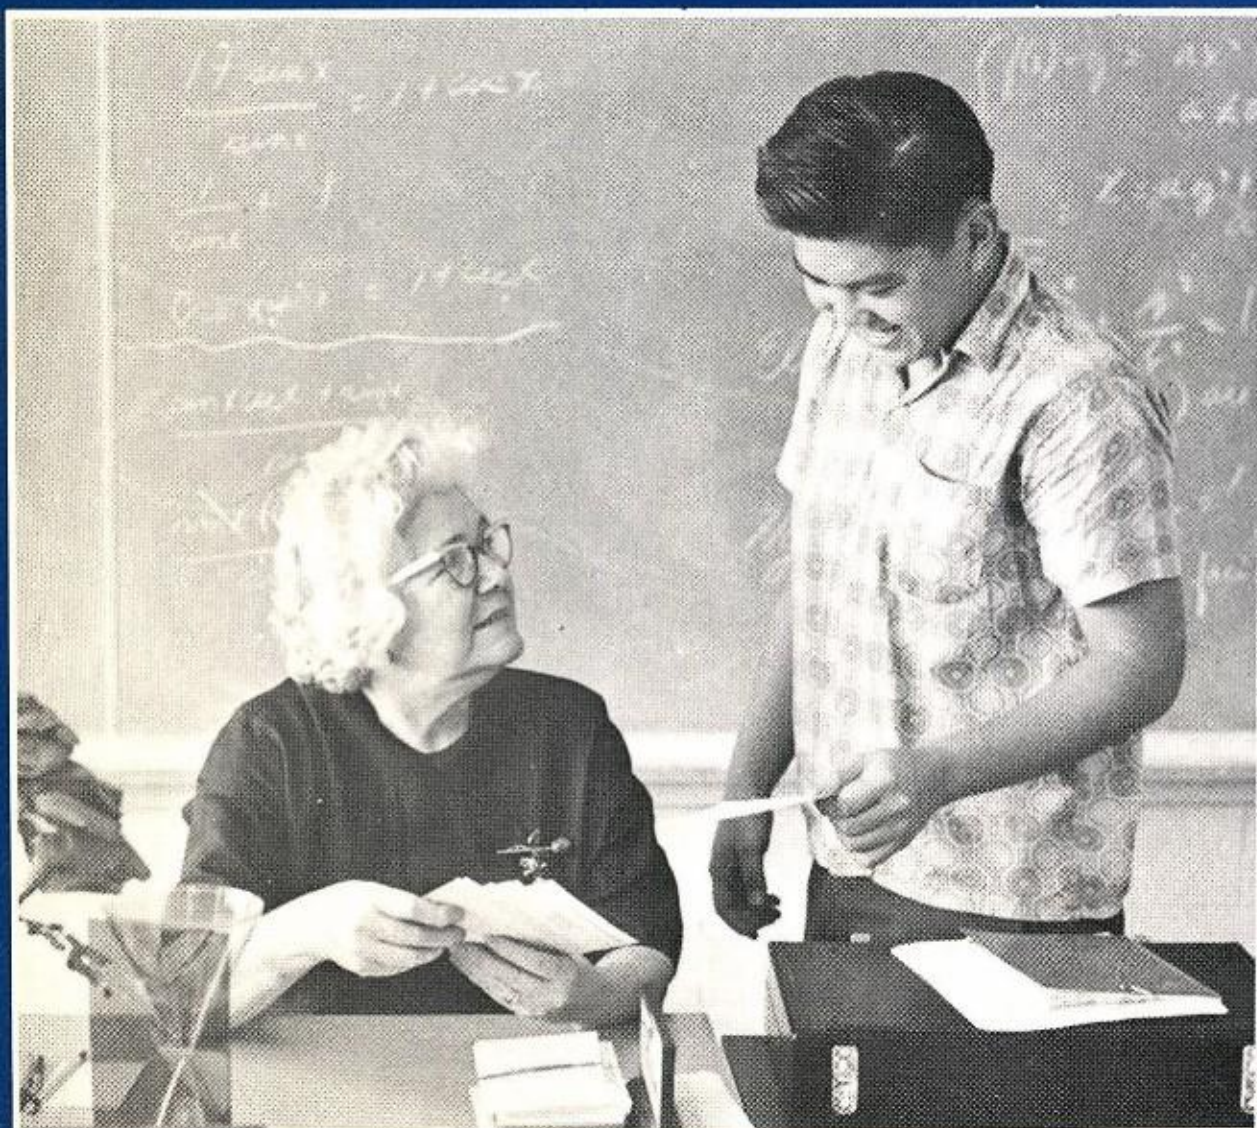

Sincerely yours,

In a whirl of mass confusion September opened its doors to a record enrollment of 1,575 students. Due to the excessive over crowded conditions, ten classrooms at Stovall Junior High were being used by A.H.S. students.

New friends and acquaintances began the school year by participating in varied activities. Class meetings were held for the nomination of officers, and the announcement of class officers was highlighted during a dance sponsored by the Student Council. Also, enthusiasm prevailed as the student body showed support for the football team, the school band, the Vaqueras, and for the cheerleaders at the first pep rally and during all the football games. As September drew to a close the confusion ended as the students settled down to the normal routine of life at A.H.S.

One of Mr. Miksch's daily duties is taking to parents and business associates.

Every school must have a captain to keep it on the right course. This is the part portrayed by Mr. T. W. Miksch, the principal. Mr. Miksch has been Aldine's principal for three years and before this, he served as assistant principal for two years. Before coming to Aldine, Mr. Miksch served two years as assistant principal of Stockdale High School. He received his B.S. degree from Texas A&I in 1956 and his M.E. degree from Southwest State College in 1960. His degrees have aided him in the important job of guiding the students of Aldine Senior High, and making it progress academically.

Mr. Miksch's job contains many different tasks. Some of these are: talking to many parents and business associates, attending many different club meetings, sending monthly reports to the superintendent, and attending conventional meetings for principals.

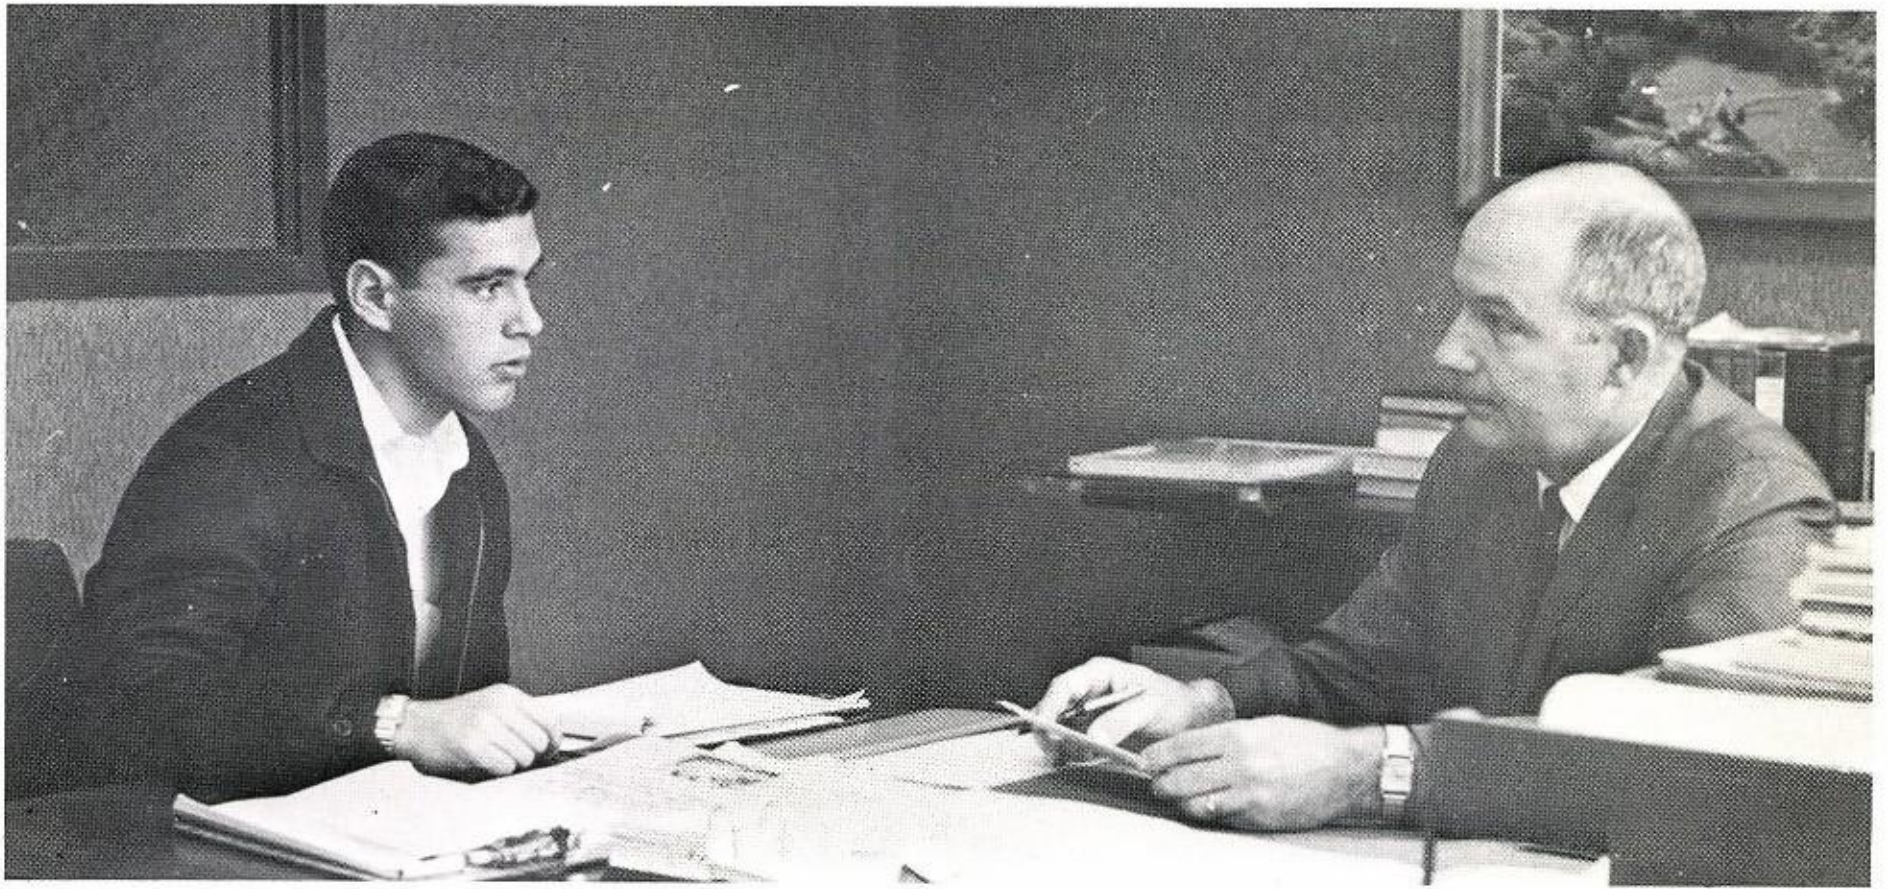

Mr. Miksch gives some helpful advice to Lynne Fenley.

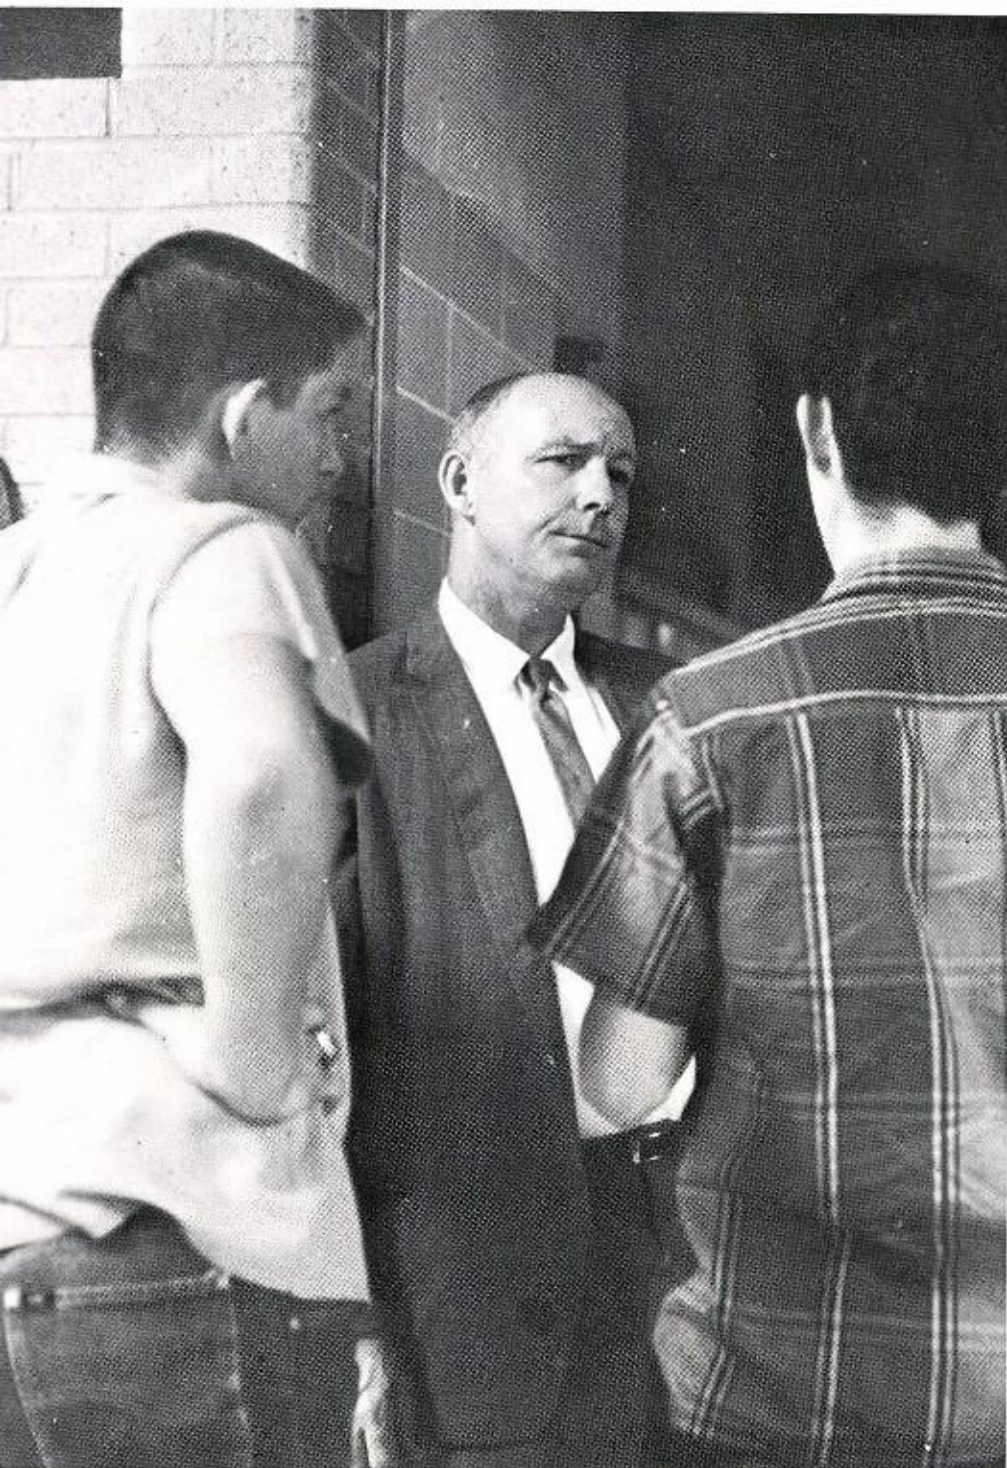

Mrs. Stallcup cashes a check for Mr. Miksch for school purposes.

Principals Pilot Students

Mr. Tiggeman takes time out to talk "business" with Randy Rucker and Robert Rodriguez.

Mr. Floyd Tiggeman is the first mate of Aldine's captain, Mr. Miksch. Mr. Tiggeman taught history at Aldine for four years before being appointed to the position of assistant principal. He has held this position for two years. After graduation from high school, Mr. Tiggeman attended Southwest State College where he received his Masters Degree. He also taught at Carlisle, Uvalde and Piersall. His experience explains how he fulfills the difficult task of being assistant principal. Some of his tasks include: Going back and forth to Stovall every day to make the morning announcements; taking care of the disciplinary actions at Aldine; and organizing many activities. Although the job of assistant principal could keep a person quite busy, Mr. Tiggeman still finds time to be a friend to the students as well as fulfill his job.

Office Personnel Promote

Mrs. Louise Hurlbut finds that talking to Mr. Thorne on the telephone is one of her many duties as school secretary.

Mrs. Marie Stallcup pauses a minute as she totals numbers for the ledger.

Mrs. Barbara Seelhorst, the girls' counselor, talks with Linda Fendley about her four-year plan.

Mrs. Charlotte Bradley, the school registrar, calls another school to check on a transcript.

smooth Running of A.H.S.

Mrs. Phyllis Campbell, the school nurse, takes the temperature of Debbie Bailey.

"Office personnel play an important part in the smooth running of A.H.S.," states Mr. Miksch, Aldine's principal. The office personnel department consists of the following people: Mrs. Seelhorst who has been with Aldine for 12 years, Mr. Miller who has been with Aldine for 8 years, Mrs. Hurlbut, 2½ years, Mrs. Campbell and Mrs. Mullens have been with Aldine for 2 years, and Mrs. Stallcup and Mrs. Bradley are experiencing their first year.

The people in this department hold many different jobs. The counselors, Mrs. Seelhorst and Mr. Miller, help students with their four-year plan and discuss any problems a student may have. The school nurse, Mrs. Campbell, is always on hand to cope with anyone who becomes sick during the day. The attendance clerk, Mrs. Mullens keeps the attendance records and calls the homes of persons absent. Mrs. Hurlbut is Mr. Miksch's secretary and she performs the regular duties of a secretary. The bookkeeper, Mrs. Stallcup, handles the money and takes care of the bookwork. The registrar, Mrs. Bradley, registers new students, helps those who wish to check out, sends transcripts, and posts grades. All in all, this department is kept quite busy with the job of running Aldine.

Mr. W. H. Miller, the boys' counselor, helps Clarence Thompson decide what courses would be best for him.

Mrs. Margaret Mullen is found busily posting in the register.

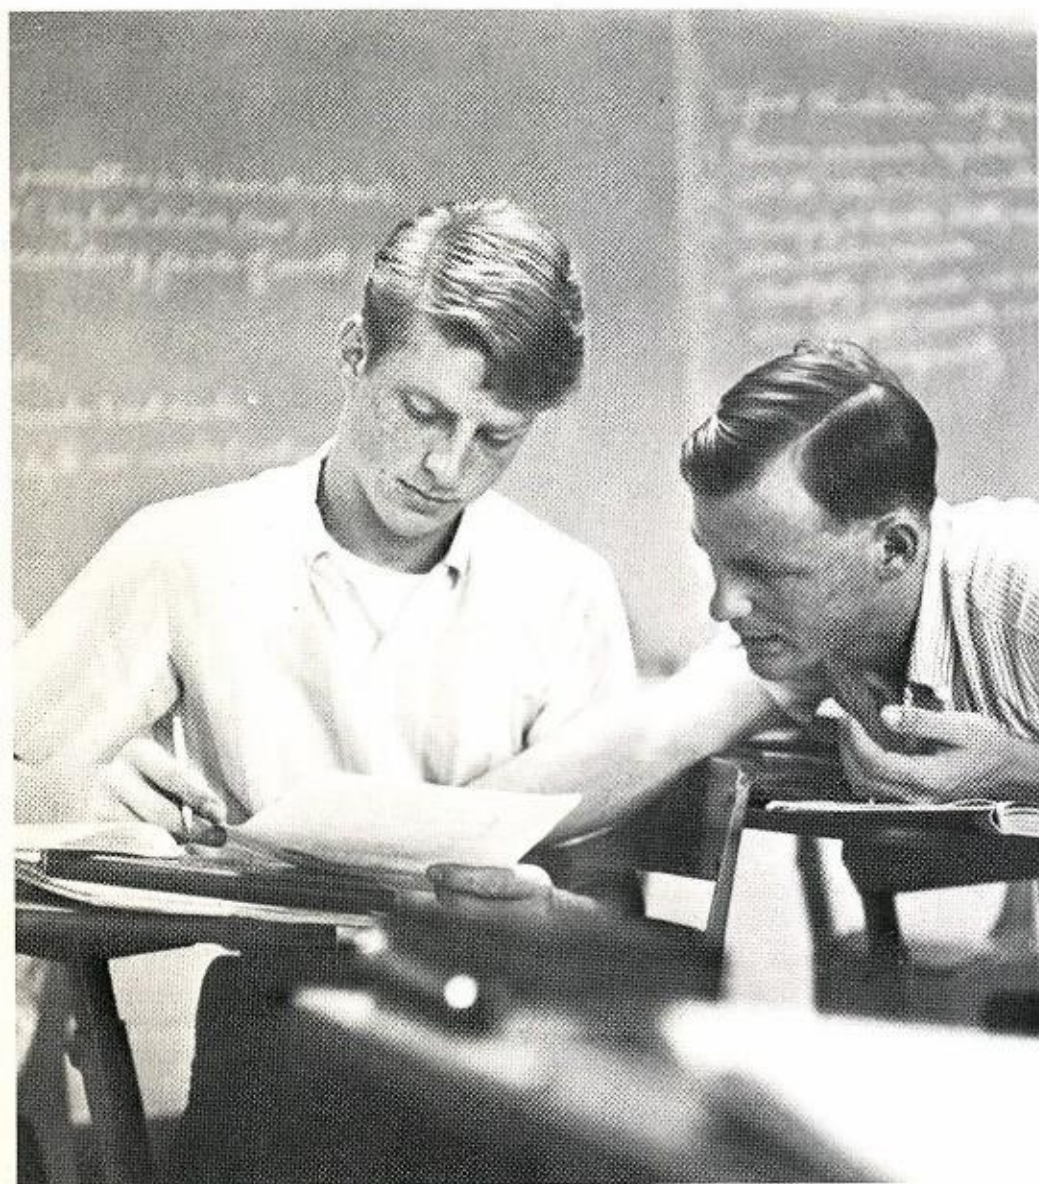

Mathematics

Learning how the cave man counted is one of the first steps in related math, a new course being taught in the Mathematics Department this year. The objectives of the Mathematics Department are to give every pupil all the mathematics he needs for living in the present day world and to prepare those pupils who will study science, engineering, or advanced mathematics in college.

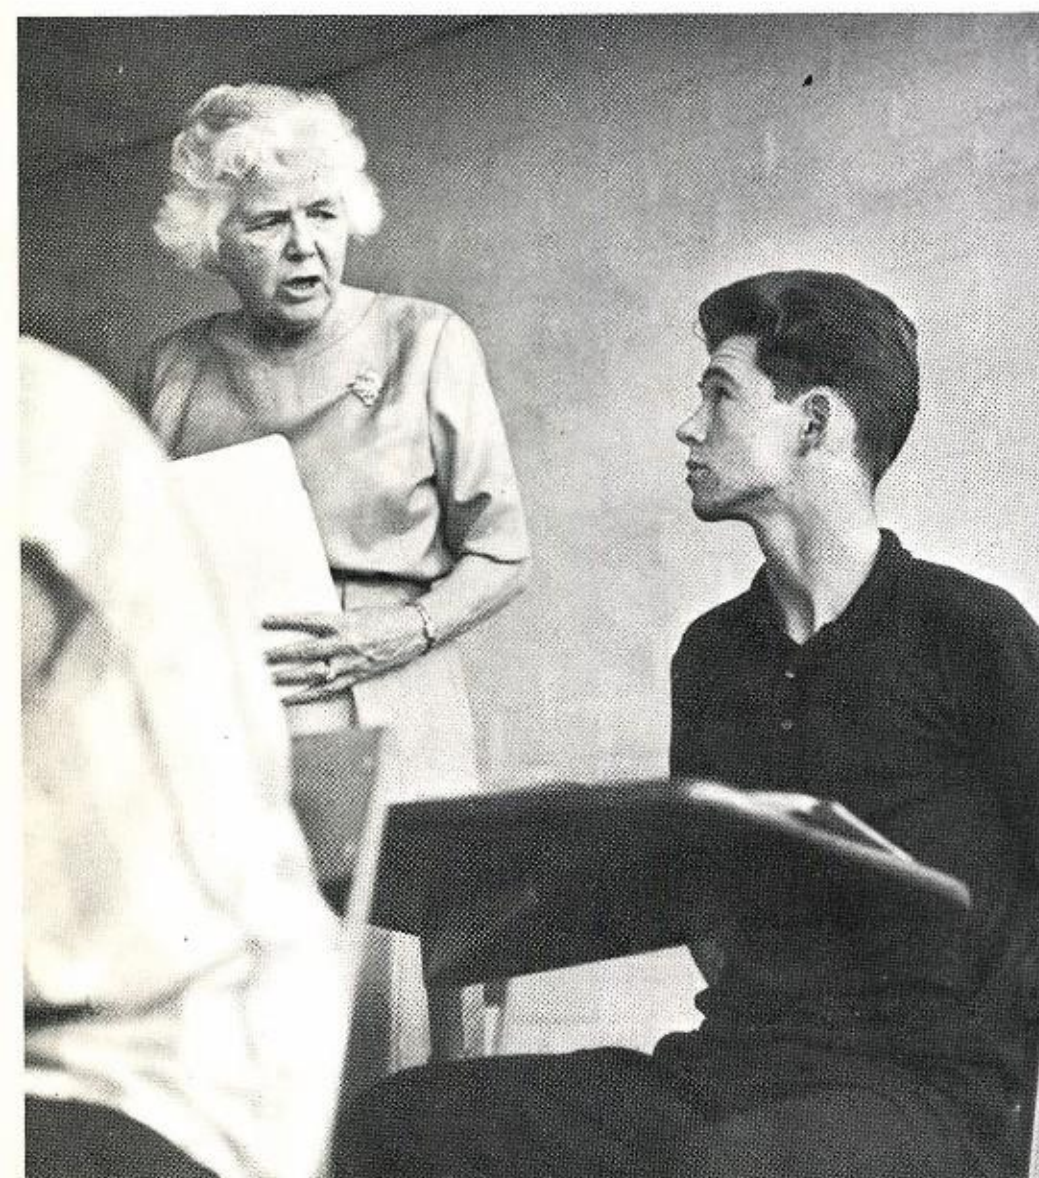

Slide rule and number sense groups have competed in several invitational tournaments and will enter the Interscholastic League meet. Overhead projectors are used extensively in related math, algebra I, II and, geometry.

College preparatory courses in mathematics are algebra (two years), geometry, trigonometry, and advanced mathematics. Basic, practical, and related math are also taught for those students who wish to prepare themselves for the business world.

Several new books in mathematics have been added to the library. Mr. Robert Thomas (who was moved to the Central Office as Math and Science Coordinator) gave a volume in appreciation of the fine students he enjoyed while teaching at Aldine High School. Pupils are encouraged to use the library for reference work.

What type of trigonometry problem could be stumping Weldon Bailey and Ronald Griffith?

Mrs. Ruth Jones and Charles McCoy discuss his trigonometry homework.

Textbooks, notes, and tests! Every history student at Aldine High School is familiar with these three terms. Textbooks are important to the student to help him learn more about history. Notes, too, are important. Film strips, lectures, and articles found in the library often are helpful to history students in writing research themes, essays, or reports. Textbooks and notes help the students study for the tests, which evaluate how much each student has absorbed.

The history courses show the students the mistakes made in the past and, it is hoped that the students will learn from the mistakes of their forefathers. History courses give students a good background in government also.

Among the courses offered at AHS are World history, American history, and Advanced government which are two semester courses; and Economics, Texas history, and Civics which are one semester courses.

English Prepare

English, one of the major subjects at Aldine is divided into three levels which are linked together. First, there is Sophomore English.

This course prepares the students for Junior English. Sophomore English teacher, Mrs. Anna Petrusas stated that Sophomore English "teaches the student to develop an appreciation for Literature" The main approach to teaching is through lecturing, discussion and reading.

Next comes Junior English; Mrs. Jody Tyson, says that the main purpose is to "teach the student to express oneself both orally and in composition form; also to read and to appreciate good literature." The main book used in teaching this course is "An Anthology of American Literature, which gives the student a cross section of the best works of our most famous authors."

The third course that Aldine offers is Senior English. This course, according to Mrs. Willie Ermel, who teaches Senior English, "Prepares the student for college in every way we hope. This course pertains mostly to composition, not much literature. If a student has no composition he will not pass College English." The main approach to teaching Senior English is "through lecture, demonstration, and through practice," says Mrs. Ermel. Other courses offered to Seniors are: Journalism, Communicative Speech, and Business Communication.

The Major objectives of the biology classes are to make students more conscious of their environment and to desire to learn more about living things. Today, we live in a science oriented culture, and it is essential that one be familiar with the basic concepts. A majority of high school students take biology during their sophomore year. Chemistry and physics are taken by juniors and seniors who have a desire to continue their study of science or have chosen a career that requires a knowledge of these.

Each class employs laboratory work to illustrate or explain basic concepts and principles in addition to regular classroom instruction. There are some field trips within the department each year such as trips to NASA for lectures and Houston Lighting and Power science day. In the spring of the year the biology students may take short field trips on the campus to gather specimens for study.

Mr. Gene Marion and Mr. Carroll Haisty have both studied at special summer institutes for science teachers sponsored by the National Science Foundation. These classes are designed to improve the overall background of the science teacher in the United States.

Glenda Adams talks to Judy Mars about a story to appear in the "Mustang".

Journalism takes on two forms at Aldine High School. First of all, there is the "Roundup" staff which is made up of students who are dedicated to making the yearbook the very best possible. In order to do this, they must meet deadlines, sell ads, write body copies, crop pictures, write headlines, and many other things. Yearbook students, editor, and sponsor work very closely to put out the yearbook. Each layout must be approved by editor and sponsor so that the finished product will be journalistically correct as well as interesting. "The "Roundup" is one of the finest yearbooks in South Texas and has been very highly rated by the National School Yearbook Association," stated Mr. W. G. Wilson, yearbook sponsor.

The second journalistic form at Aldine is the Mustang staff and journalism class. These two classes work together to produce a school paper which will be interesting to all the students. These classes are kept busy interviewing teachers, sponsors, and students in order to cover even the slightest news item in school. This year the "Mustang" staff has put out seventeen issues, more than have ever been produced in the past. During the year, the staff has strived to make the Mustang a better paper, according to Mrs. Rowena Lightfoot, sponsor.

Journalism student, Marlene Kent, sells papers for the "Mustang".

Knowledge of Languages

Miss Wright increases students' knowledge of French by pronouncing words for them.

"Buenas dias"—These are familiar words to those students who take Spanish. Spanish is just one of the foreign languages taught at Aldine. French and Latin are also offered. With the growing conflicts in the world today, language is a necessity. Peace cannot be achieved unless people understand each other. For this reason, foreign language is the first step to world peace.

The students learn the customs and beliefs of the people in other countries; they learn about the lands themselves; and, of course, learn to speak the language of the country. The students learn a great deal of the language from records, tapes, and earphones. Most of the classes require the students not to speak in English, but, rather, in the foreign language. This teaches the students to speak correctly and fluently. Each year foreign exchange students visit Aldine. This year Estella Franco was an exchange student from Mexico. These students live in the homes of AHS students. This arrangement helps both, because the AHS students learn from the exchange students, and they, from the AHS students.

"Yck! It's a bug!" screamed Nancy Bowen, sophomore. Gay Chastain had just opened Nancy's hand, placed a bug in it, and smashed it closed. This all actually occurred during what the girls referred to as the "bucket brigade" in which they moved dirt to the soccer field to help fill in the holes. Such incidents occur now and then and help to make P.E. a bright part of the day for the girls.

Team competition between classes is stressed to help make the sports more interesting for the students. What Miss Nancy Etie refers to jokingly as her "gripe" technique" (actually nothing more than encouragement for her team) also gives the games a little more spirit.

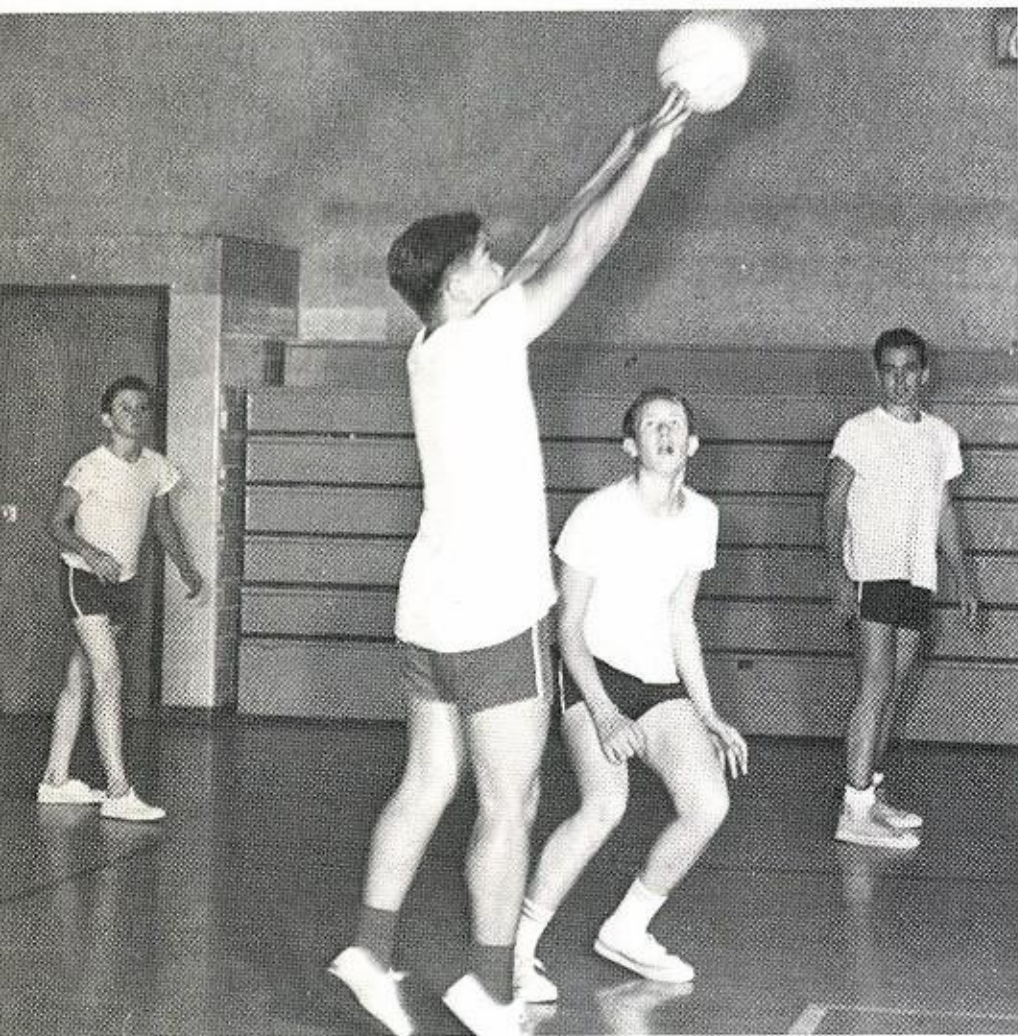

Several new things have taken place in the girl's P.E. department this year. A new method of teaching swimming was employed. Team teaching was used and according to the P.E. teachers, it was very effective. The first intermural basketball tournament was held during the month of February. Also this year they attended two volleyball tournaments and a volleyball clinic.

Many activities are engaged in during the year, and with each new activity taken up, new rules and techniques are taught. Team cooperation and good sportsmanship are constantly stressed.

Girls form a "bucket brigade" moving dirt to help improve the soccer field.

Boys Keep Fi

Robert Ando, John Gaubetz, Darrell Hilton, and Randy Carter practice up on their volleyball technique.

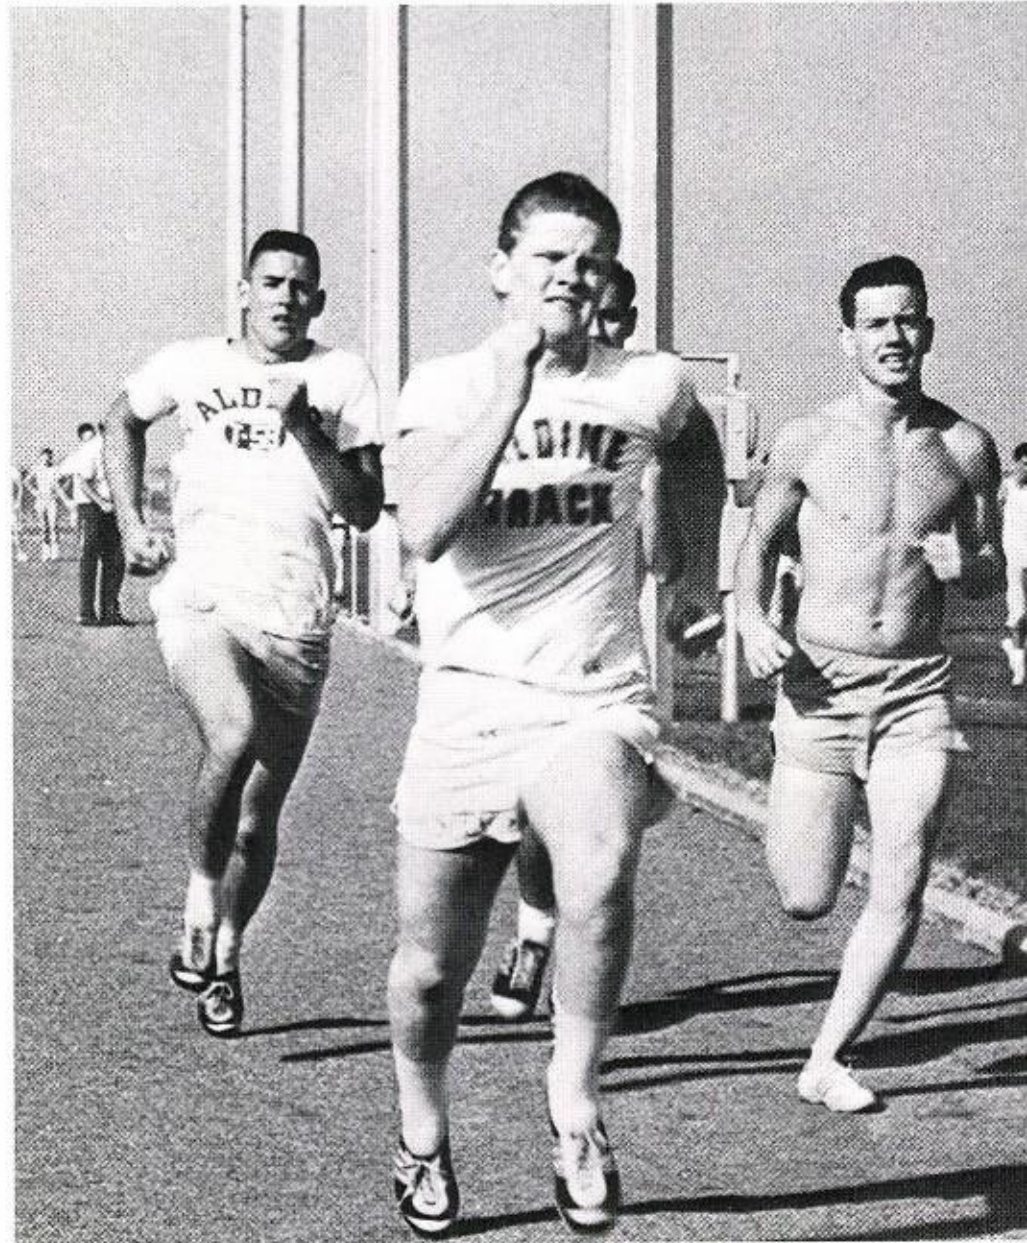

"A greater emphasis must be placed on physical education due to the fact that our modern way of life demands much less physical activity than in the past. Because of the tremendous benefits derived from competitive sports, all students that are not physically handicapped should take part," stated physical education teacher and head coach, Mr. Larry Rice.

Each day before participating in any activity, the students are required to take part in a group of strenuous calisthenics. This not only warms up the muscles of the body, but promotes greatly the overall physical condition of those involved. Physical fitness tests are given twice each year to evaluate the physical progress of each boy.

The Boy's Physical Education curriculum is composed of the following: basketball, volleyball, touch football, track, softball, swimming and health education. Prior to engaging in each of the above listed sports, the students are taught fundamentals.

Aldine Business Courses Prepare

Mary Jane Buske spells words as she pronounces her shorthand.

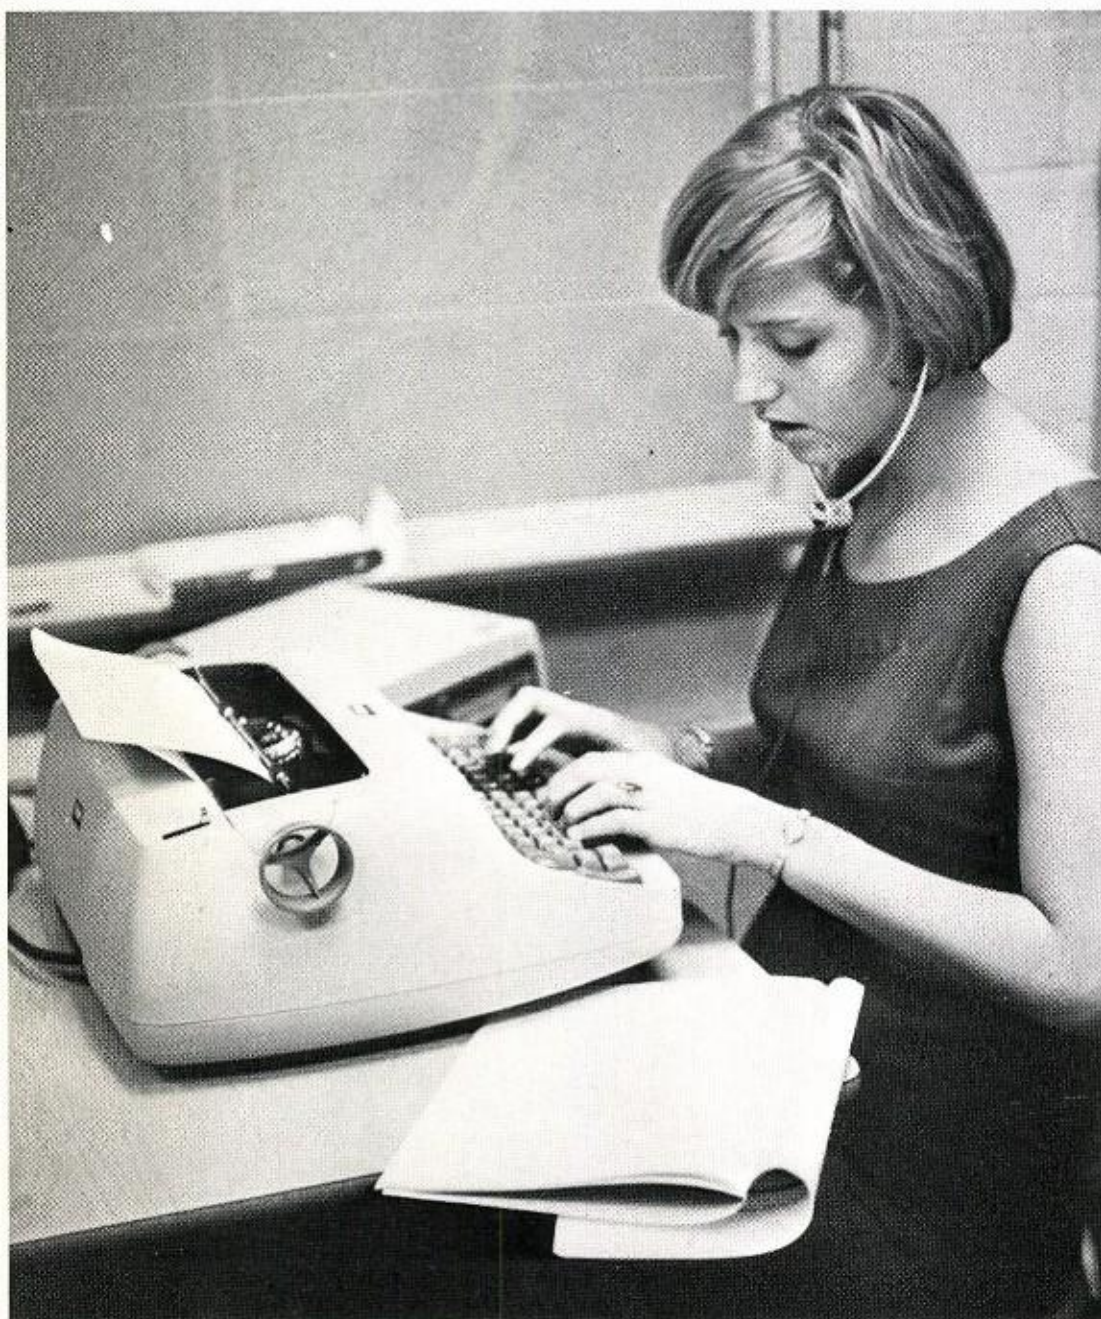

With the rapidly increasing need for highly educated men and women in the fields of finance, advertising, accounting, etc., a well-rounded business curriculum is a necessity in all high schools.

Keeping this in mind, the AHS business department offers courses in Typing, Bookkeeping, Shorthand, Business English, Commercial Law, and Junior Business Training. Students taking these courses get an insight of the business world.

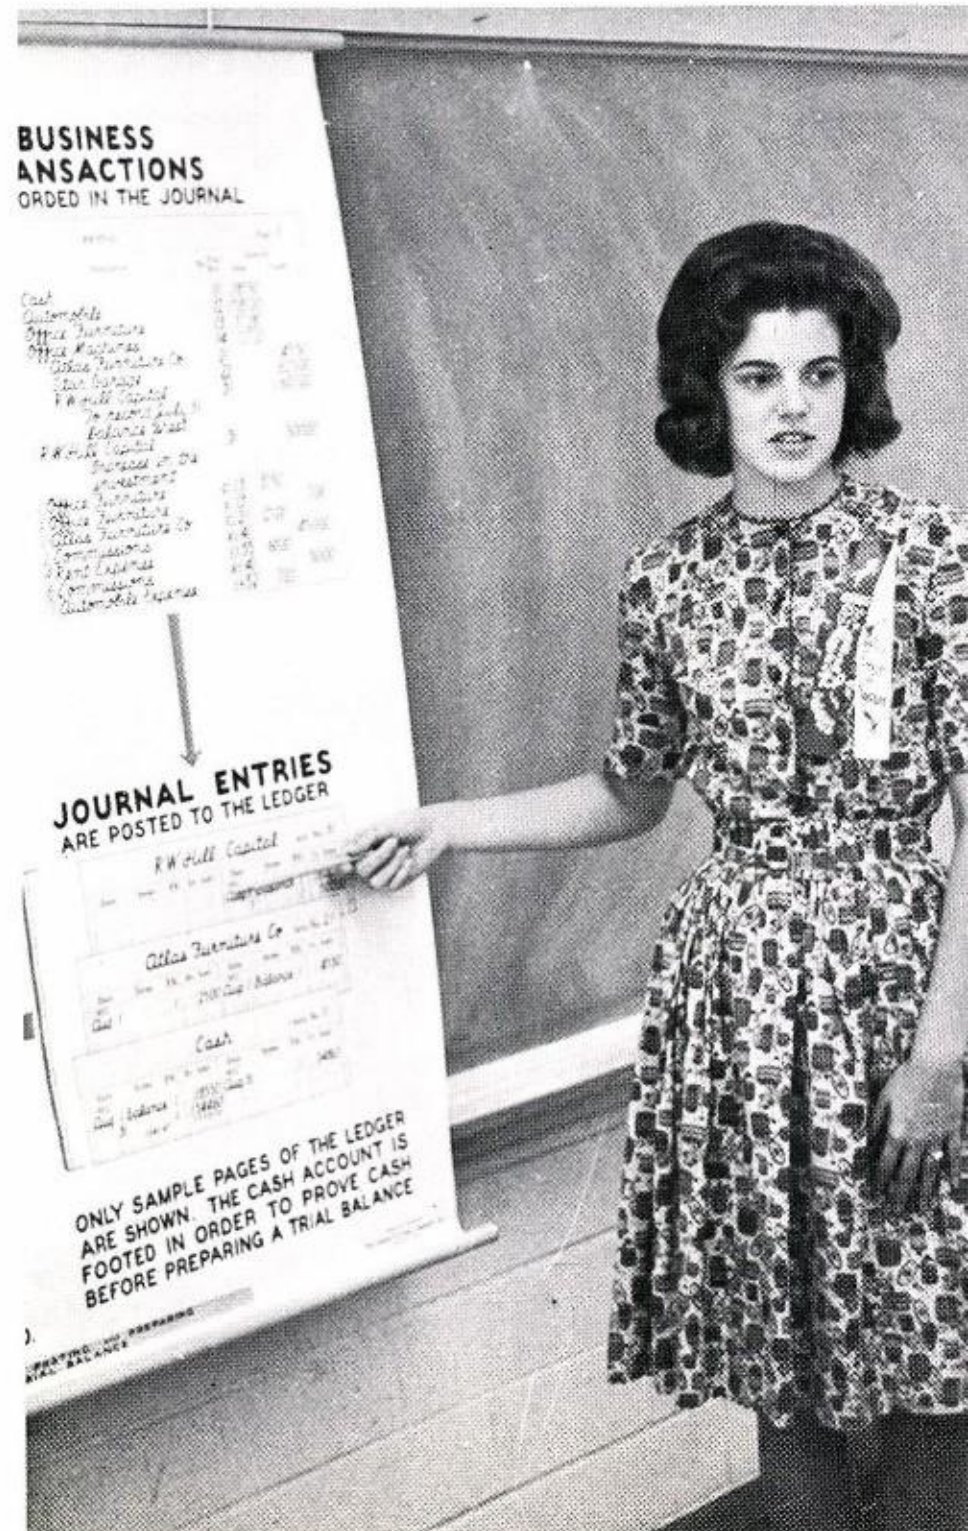

Since most of the business courses are skill courses, the only common technique in a field of this kind would be that of practice. Skill is obtained by practice in such courses as typing and shorthand.

Competition in these skill courses is gained at the Interscholastic League meets. Speed tests, timed dictation, and accuracy help determine the winner. Some of the Aldine students usually place in this highly competitive activity, which perhaps proves the strength of Aldine's business courses.

Homemaking not only introduces girls to the practices of a modern home, but also gives them experience in these fields; foods and nutrition, clothing construction, health and safety, good grooming, and home and family relations.

The head of the Homemaking department is Mrs. Mary Rutledge who has been with Aldine for 10 years. Miss Gloria Moffett has been here five years, Mrs. Elizabeth Yeaman, and Mrs. Velma Rollins have both been here for three years. The homemaking teachers attend the area in-service meeting where they discuss the latest trends in clothing and teaching Homemaking. They also attend the State meeting in the summer which lasts a week. It is required that these teachers attend these meetings in order to keep well-informed.

The teachers approach the task of teaching homemaking by presenting each problem as a family situation. Some of the techniques used in teaching are demonstration, by teachers, lectures, field trips, roll-play, films and printed material.

Vocational Agriculture Train

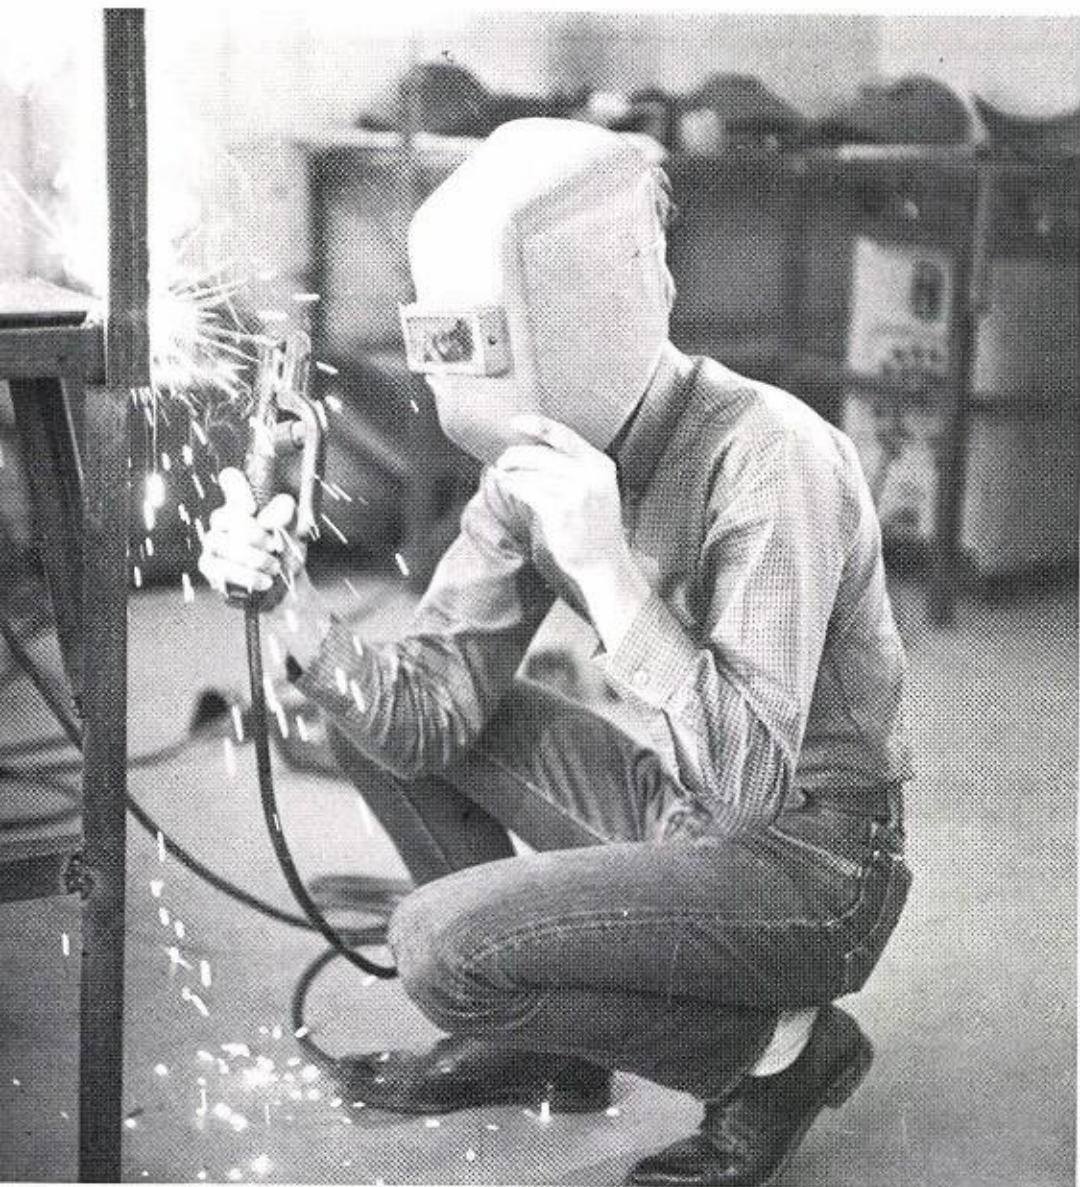

Farming is the key word in Vocational Agriculture. The boys are taught about dairying and dairy judging and are taught about the care and value of all livestock and meat processing. These boys also study soil, how to use power tools and learn how to manage money and parliamentary procedure. The Vocational Agriculture boys learn through field trips, class work, and projects. They show their talents and how much they have learned by entering contests. At Aldine High School, boys are able to take three years of Vocational Agriculture. Mr. Donald Parker teaches the first year boys while Mr. Jack Wilson teaches the second and third year boys.

Students Prepare for Future in Cosmetology

In the four years that the Cosmetology department has been established, it has grown rapidly as a vocational course. This is due to the great interest displayed by the girls at Aldine in Cosmetology as a future.

This two year course enables its students to become beauticians of skill and knowledge. All the basic techniques for professional beauticians are taught in this class, such as, hair styling, scalp manipulations, manicures, and facials.

One of the new additions added to the Cosmetology department this year is the projector and film from the Clairol company. This phase of teaching enables girls to get a diploma in the field of hair coloring while they are in high school. This eliminates the necessity of having to attend a beauty school after graduation.

Mrs. Dorothy Jackowski has been the Cosmetology teacher at Aldine for two years. This year there are 47 girls taking this course. One of the outstanding girls who has achieved honor in the field of Cosmetology is Linda Taylor, who is District Secretary.

Future Mechanics Their Goal

Removing a broken stud from a manifold is one of the skills Wayne Hester is taught.

Chris Hester finds that working on a transmission involves laying flat on his back and dodging grease spots.

Automechanics classes are designed to prepare high school youths for employment by providing training in the basic skills and technical knowledge of the automotive field. Each student receives three hours of shop instruction each school day which is taught under the guidance of Mr. Bob Barnes in a modernly equipped shop.

Students receive a Vocational Certificate from the Texas Education Agency after completing this two year course. They can not be absent any more than ten days per year to receive this certificate.

The automechanic classes take periodic field trips to different manufacturers in the automotive field or related areas. They also visit other school shops to get different ideas for shop lay-outs.

World of Electronics Is Unveiled

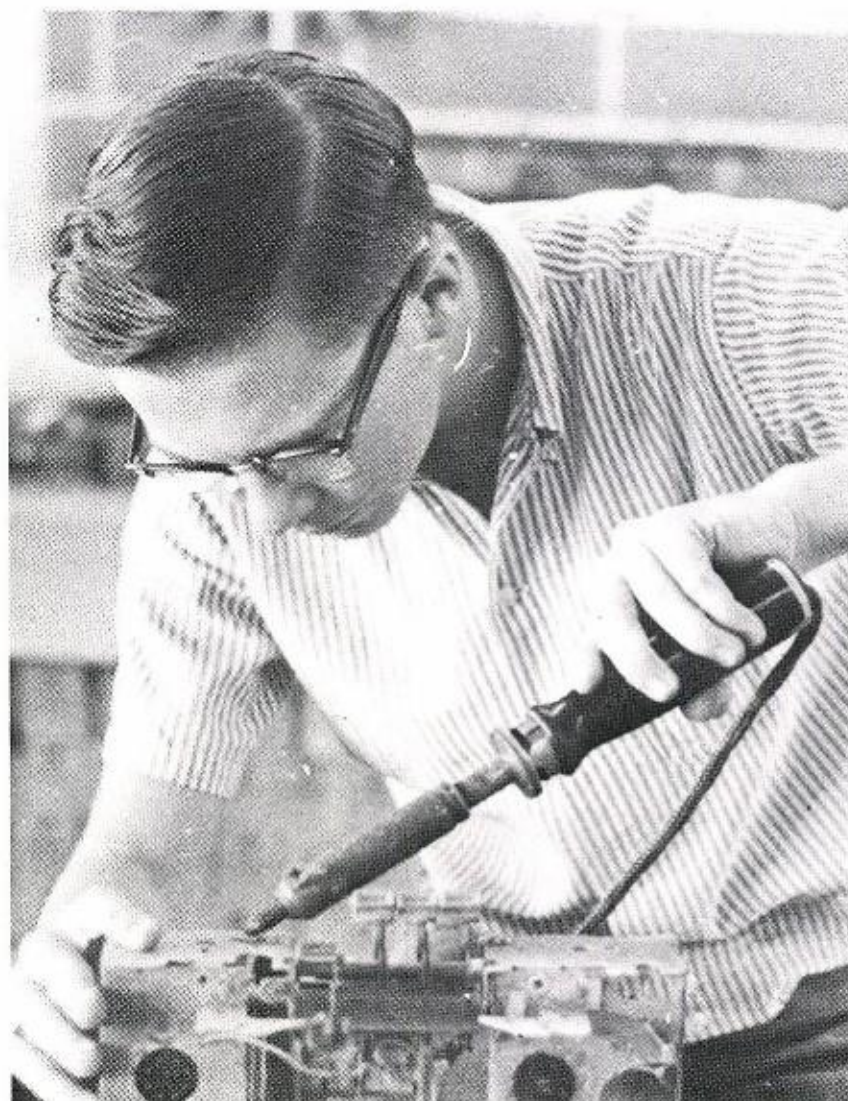

A simple task for Richard Smith is cleaning a tube socket.

"My opinion is that we have a real good group of people," says Mr. Marion Hill, radio and electronics teacher. He has also stated that they have the best attendance record of any group. This year there are twenty-three students taking radio and electronics. In this three hour course they prepare for a future in electronics. First year students study the basic rules and laws that occur in electronics. During their second year they apply and practice these rules and laws.

The electrician of tomorrow must be able to understand the intricate parts of electrical circuits. Mr. Hill feels that the boys should also learn to get along with other people. "Our teaching is based on thinking of the other person first." Students are never to say that a person is wrong but to suggest a different way to do it. In this way they will not only be well skilled but they will also learn to get along with their business acquaintances.

Students Construct Future in Building Trades

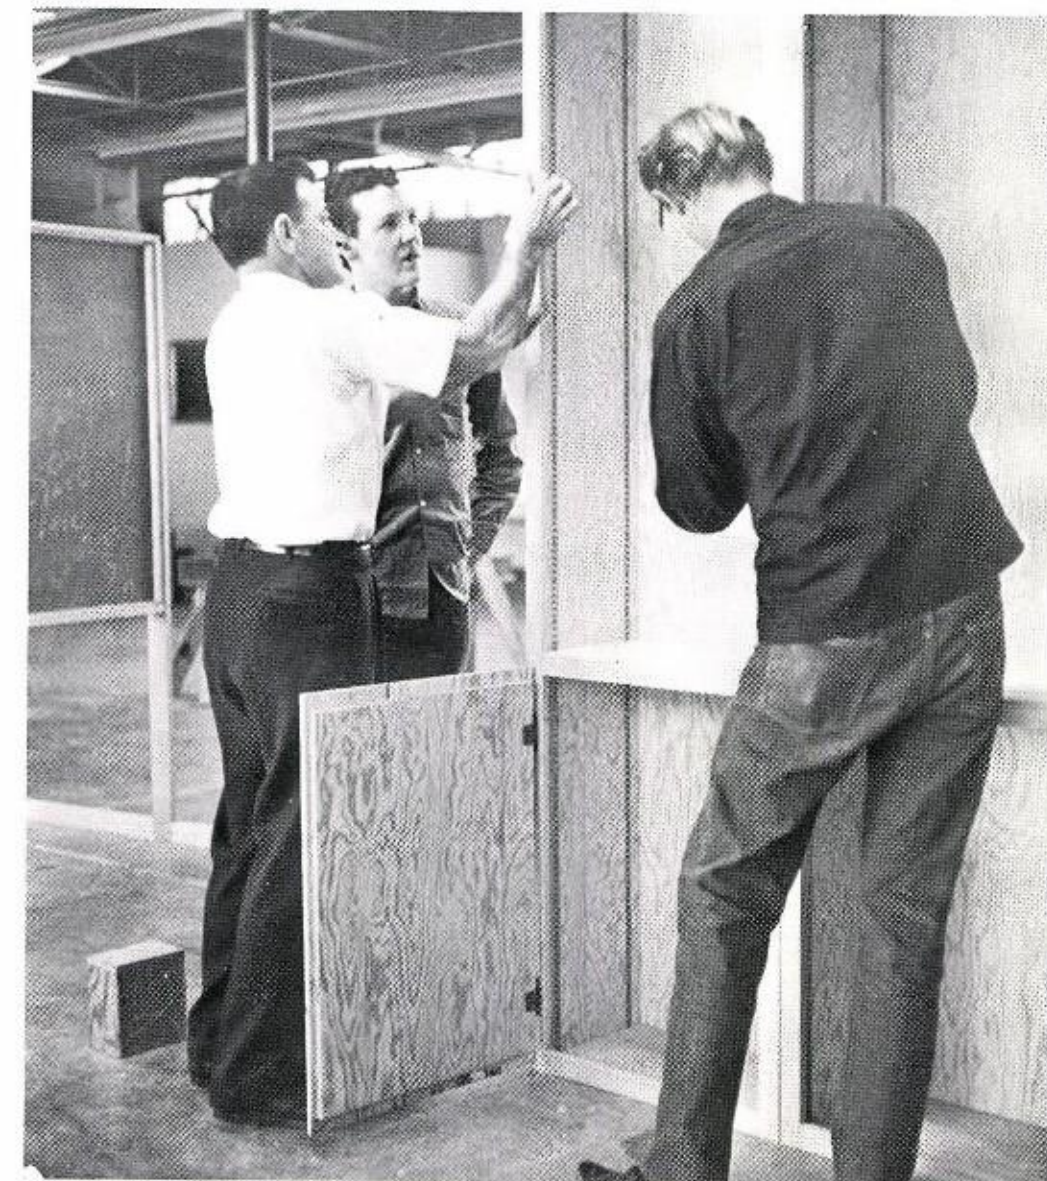

Darrell Kindred and Tommy Robertson stack lumber, which is not a skill-requiring task, but very necessary.

Building Trades is a six year course set up on a two year basis for junior and senior boys. It prepares boys to meet the ever increasing need of industry, by giving them a well-rounded background in the many phases of constructional needs. A well-rounded program consisting of plumbing, brick laying, roofing, painting, electrical wiring and blue print reading are taught. This preparatory training in the field of building trades is designed to prepare high school youths and adults for employment in this industrial trade by providing training in the basic skills and technical knowledge of the trade through shop or laboratory experiences. While securing the proper experience in carpentry or construction, students are also taught how to meet the needs of our changing world in the best way possible. It is a course such as this which gives the student the desire to learn and think on his own. After completing this course, he realizes he has gained an independence of thought which gives him a chance to create on his own.

Air Conditioning Taught for First Time at A.H.S.

Teaches—Air Conditioning &
Refrigeration

A.H.S. gladly welcomes the new vocational course of Air Conditioning and Refrigeration. This course, taught by Mr. Shelton Jack, contains thirty-seven students, all of which plan to enter this profession upon graduation. There are 13 in the morning class and 19 in the afternoon class. All of these students are first year students. After completing this course, students are capable of becoming an advanced apprentice. After serving as an advanced apprentice, students may obtain a degree as an air conditioning engineer if they wish to further their education. This field could be very rewarding according to Mr. Jack. "As there is a vast shortage of refrigeration mechanics and an unlimited demand for such mechanics, there is a ready market for their skill and knowledge." A new class will be taught at the new McArthur High School.

Practical Skills Stressed in Industrial Arts

Concentrating on his pipe drawing, Tim Morkisch attempts to construct his first semiplant.

Quite determined to finish his project, Charles Souchon works energetically.

Saws, hammers, T-squares, and scales typify the scenes of the Industrial Arts Department. Consisting of mechanical drawing and woodshop, students are trained in skills that will be useful in the future. These skills are especially useful in the fields of engineering, drafting, and construction.

In woodshop, the students are trained in general woodwork to give them an idea of some of the methods used in construction. The students build everything from tie racks to gun cabinets and work on various projects throughout the year.

In mechanical drawing the goal is to teach the students enough about vocational drafting so that they will be able to hold a position upon graduation. During the course of a year the students are instructed in pipe, technical, and architectural drafting.

Art Classes Develop Skills

To teach students to understand and appreciate the art of painting is the main objective of the art classes at Aldine. In art classes students are taught the uses and techniques of various media in paintings and drawings. Some of the media techniques are charcoal, pastel, chalk, pen and ink etchings, water color, still life, fashion illustration, figure drawing and oil paintings. Oil paintings techniques are done through the use of the acrylic polymer emulsion technique. The students also studying lettering and lay-out composition. Throughout the course application and relationship are made to various media by a brief study of the history of the media and the artists in the past who have used them. This year there were three classes of first year art and one class of second year art at Aldine High School.

Music Appreciation Through Band and Choir

Music helps to brighten our lives, and any Aldine student who displays any outstanding talent is encouraged by Mr. Ralph Goodman to join the Band or by Mr. John King to join the Choir.

Band activities include all the football games, a variety of Contests, and Concerts given at the school for the students. Also included is the Band Festival in which the Junior Highs attend. This year the Band was invited to march in the Fat Stock Show Parade. Also added to this busy schedule is a Summer Band Camp for the Drum Major and the Majorettes.

The choir also performs at many functions, including the Christmas Cantata and the Annual Coronation.

Speech Develops Self-Expression

This year the drama department & speech classes of Aldine were kept busy developing "self-expression" by accomplishing many interesting things. Through the combined efforts of the speech classes and the Thespian Club, the production of "Our Town", was one example of this. It was staged on December 9, 1965.

This group of students also produced the play the "Heritage of Wimpole Street", for contest on April 2, 1966, and for presentation to the student body at Aldine and the three district Junior Highs.

On February 11, 1966, they attended a Speech Tournament at Sam Rayburn High School.

The future plans of the speech classes and the Thespian Club included a tournament at Milby High School and a field trip to Sam Houston State Teacher's College, March 18, to see "The Three Sisters" by Anton Chekov.

If you are a Senior Girl with a "B" average you may sign up and be Office Assistants, Library Assistants, or Nurses Assistant. Students who do take this course help by doing filing, typing, running errands, and assisting in many other ways. In the Library they make displays, check out books, and assist students who need help.

Also, students, who may be interested in a career in nursing may help in the Nurse's office by performing such duties as; keeping student files, running errands, and caring for sick students when they come to the nurse. "Student assistants prove more than valuable in helping Aldine to run more smoothly" stated Mr. W. H. Miller, Boy's counselor.

Special Ed.

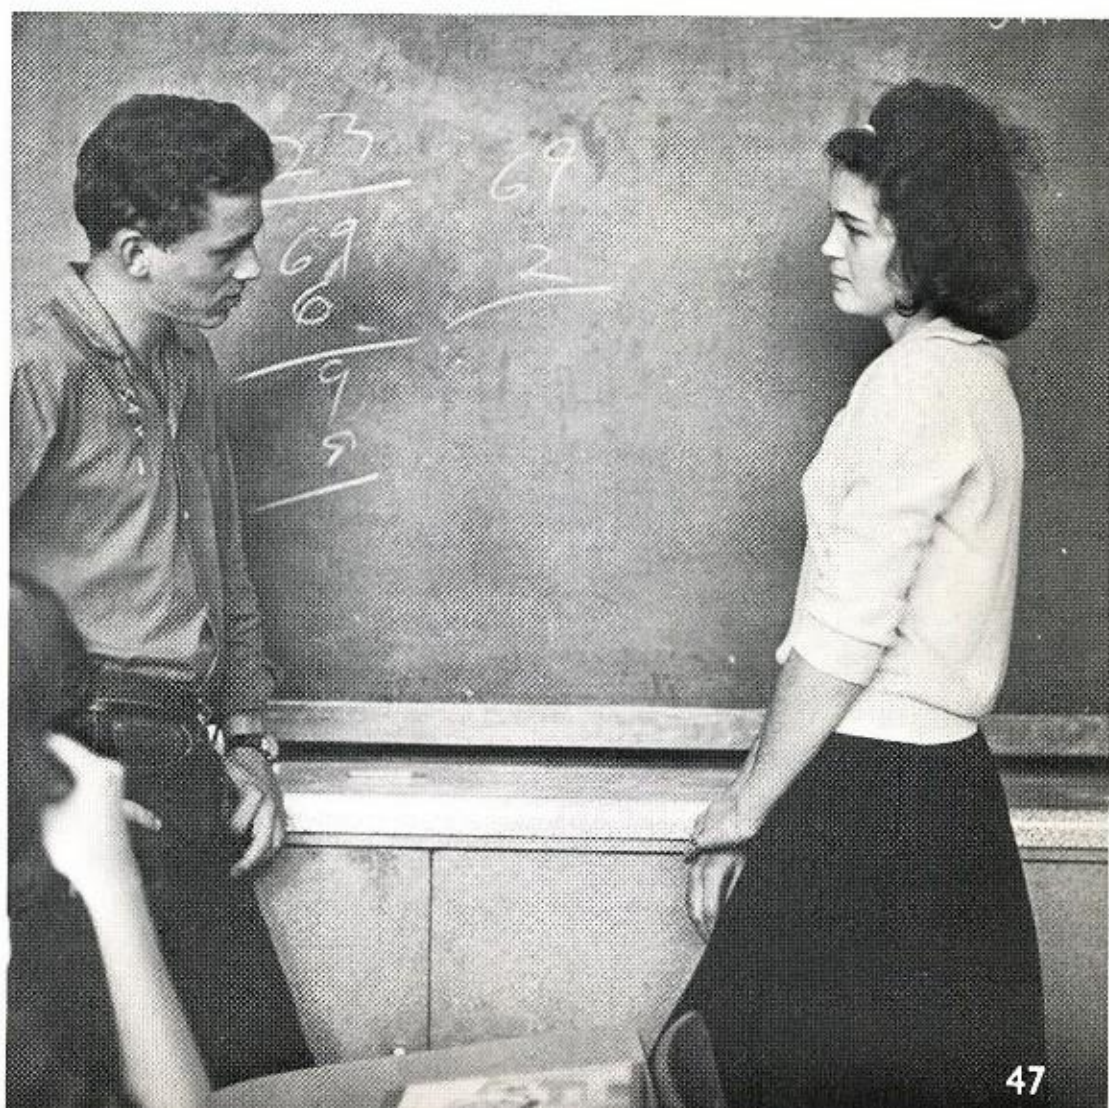

Of the three years spent in high school, special education students spend their first year in the classroom. There they are taught good work habits with an emphasis placed on job training. During the activity and lunch periods these students serve the school by working in the school store and cafeteria. Students spend their junior and senior years working at various businesses in the community. Nine students are participating in on the job training this year. In June, five will have graduated with Special Education Diplomas. Learning good work habits and gaining training in a vocation helps to prepare these students for their future lives.

Sam Houston Edges Out Mustangs 20-14

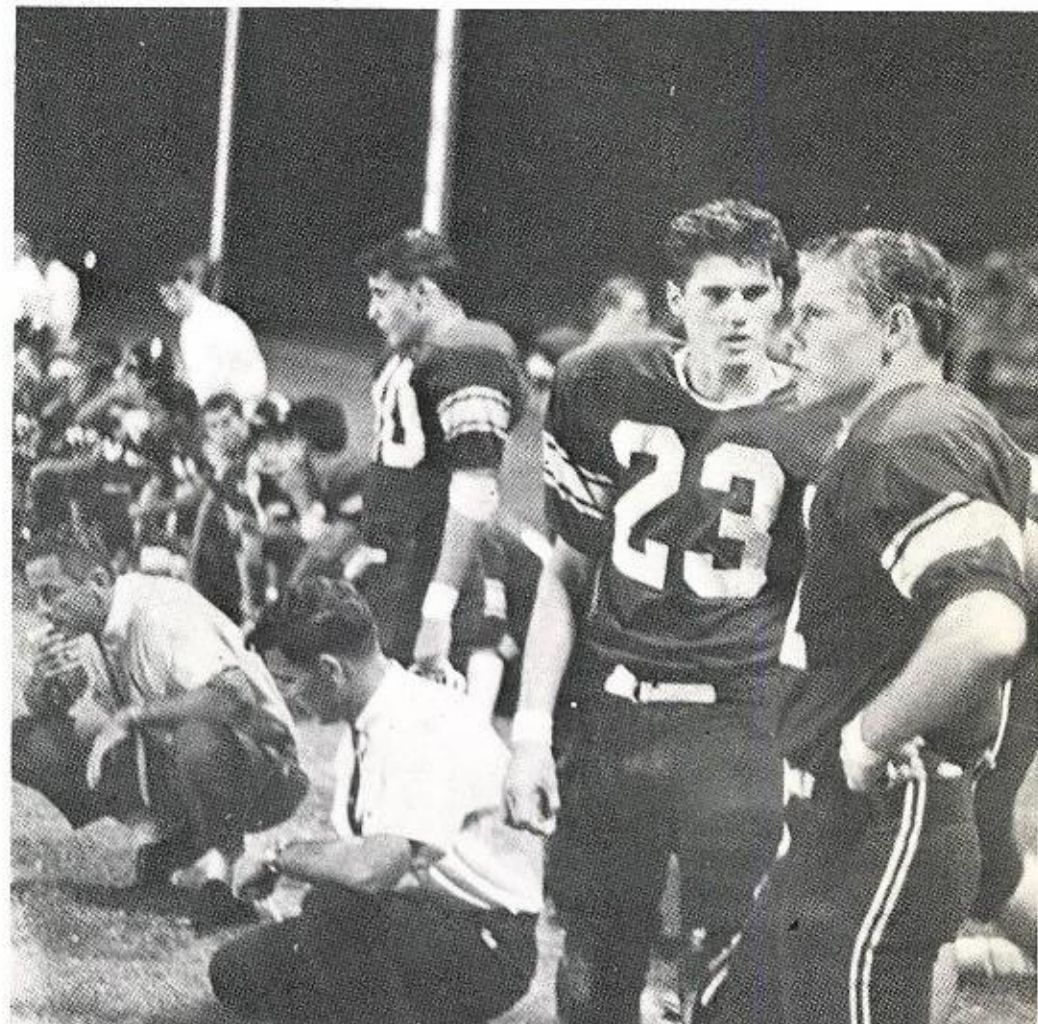

A tired Jerry Burney relaxes during halftime.

In the opening game of the season on September 13, Sam Houston handed Aldine its first defeat of the year.

The Mustang's scored in the first quarter on a pass from Billy Sheffield to Dale Hill. An extra point attempt by Mike McCallum was no good. Sam Houston came back in the second quarter with touchdown runs of 50 and 37 yards by Jim Wheeler, and one of 10 yards by Billy Jones. Aldine retaliated in the fourth quarter on a three yard plunge by Jackie Owens. George Millen made a two point conversion, making the score 20-14. Aldine tried to muster another drive but time ran out. One squad member summed up the whole game saying, "We didn't hold them on the big ones."

Aldine's Spirit of '66 Lie

Aldine's typical, "Blue-White," which is executed at each pep-rally seems to be the favorite of the student body.

"A.H.S. Cheerleaders have worked quite hard to make '66 a better year. They have tried many new things that have proven to boost the Mustang spirit," said Miss Wanda Eaton sponsor. The most successful thing tried was the use of a "spifit stick" which was awarded to the class with the most spirit.

"The Spirit Stick has proven to be the backbone of the Aldine Spirit," replied Judy Pierce, Head Cheerleader.

Along with the Spirit Stick came the Class Color Day which is a designated day for all classes to wear their particular color for the pep-rally. The class with the highest ratio of participation in wearing the color could receive points for the Spirit Stick campaign.

During the week of Homecoming, the Cheerleaders presented a Spirit jug to the student body, which would enclose all of the spirit. At the Homecoming Pep-Rally the Spirit Jug was opened and all of the Aldine Spirit was released.

Each summer Aldine Cheerleaders attend the Cheerleader School at Sam Houston State College in Huntsville. This is to promote a better understanding of cheerleading and teach the latest trends in cheerleading techniques. At this clinic outstanding squads are awarded with ribbons for their performance. Aldine came home with Honorable Mention Ribbons from the clinic.

Judy Pierce, Head Cheerleader, awards the Spirit Stick to the winning class for their demonstrations of good school spirit for that particular week.

Reagan Rattles Aldine 12-0

Aldine's second defeat of the season came when the Reagan Bulldogs rattled the Mustangs 12-0. On three occasions the Mustangs pushed inside the 20 yard line. Jackie Owens carried the ball 68 yards on 18 attempts down to the Reagan 16 only to give the ball up on fourth down. On two other occasions the Mustangs made a strong threat inside the 20 only to give the ball up on fumbles. Reagan's first offensive score came in the second quarter on a 25 yard pass and run combination to right end David Hoot. Their second touchdown came with 1:04 remaining on the clock as Wayne King intercepted Billy Sheffield's pass to Gary Frieling. On another occasion the Bulldogs marched down to the Aldine 3 yard line. The Mustang defense proved too much for the Bulldogs and they gave the ball up on the Aldine 1 yard line.

Mustang Band Help

To add to the enthusiasm of the pep rallies, the majorettes perform their dance routine for the student body.

With the sound of a whistle, and the raising of a baton, the Aldine High School band marked the beginning of another football season with their participation and entertainment during the games and at half-times. When Drum Major Doyle Peake was asked the question of "What is the main goal of the band students?" his reply was "We band students dedicate our first period class to practicing our music, so that we will be able to bring enthusiasm and entertainment to the student body with pep rallies and at football games."

This year's band consists of ninety students, fifty-one of these members are new additions to the band, and compose the largest band that Aldine High School has ever had.

During the football season, the band performs at every game, and they also participate in contests such as the Marching Contest and the District Band Contest.

According to Mr. Ralph Goodman, sponsor and director of the A.H.S. band, "The students this year have put forth a great amount of hard work, pride and enthusiasm, which has resulted in making this ensemble something to be proud of."

"May we go in now, Mr. Goodman?" think some of the members the band after a good but hard practice session.

These practices are held in the summer three weeks before school starts from 7:00 to 10:00 A.M. When school starts they practice every Tuesday and Thursday afternoons from 3:00 to 5:00 P.M.

Under the guidance of Mrs. Charmayne Bondurant the Vaqueras, as well as leading school spirit, perform precision dance drills during half-time at football games and during pep rallies. During basketball season they act as a pep squad to lead school spirit among the students. In the winter, after these sports are over, they work with the March of Dimes and also usher at the Ice Capades.

Panthers Upset Mustangs 25-15

The Davis Panthers rallied in the fourth quarter to defeat the Aldine Mustangs 25-15. The Mustangs led the ball game up until the last minutes of the fourth quarter. Aldine made the first touchdown of the game when Billy Sheffield completed a 16 yard pass to Dale Hill with Danny Claussen running it over for the extra two. Jackie Owens carried it over on a nine yard drive late in the second quarter with Mike McCallum's kick to make the score 15-13 Aldine's favor. Davis came back with two key passes to put the ball on the Aldine 27 yard line and fourth coming. Andy Tamayo then passed to Mike Gilbert making the score 19-15. The Mustangs came back on the kick-off by driving the ball back to the 7 yard line. With first and goal to go the Mustangs fumbled the ball in a mix up of plays giving the ball back to the Panthers. Davis then made another strong drive against the hopeless Mustangs to make the final score 25-15.

"Strangers to Friends" Goal of F.H.A. Social

Getting acquainted with new and old members was the goal of the "Get Acquainted" social sponsored by the F.H.A. The social was held in the student lounge from 7:00 to 9:00 P.M. Not only did they play games, and have refreshments but they also had a special guest. Judy Graf portrayed the part of a clown. She mingled with the guests and led them in songs and ring plays.

Judy Graf, sophomore, made the following statement concerning the social, "It was a real good social. It was well-planned and one could tell that a lot of work was done on it." She also said that the party went very smoothly and everyone had a lot of fun.

It seems that Cynthia Rice enjoys the company of the clown, portrayed by Judy Graf.

Eating was one of the main events of the evening and it seems that these girls are enjoying it.

Round Up Staff Sets New Records

Assistant editor, Sylvia Seawright, spends much time going through other yearbooks to get ideas for the '66 ROUND-UP.

Mary Foree finds that checking pictures and hunting for their negatives is a big part of the production of a yearbook.

Total amount of ads sold and yearbooks sold are some of the records set by the '66 ROUND-UP staff. Twenty staff members started the year by selling $3,800 of ads. It is these ads which help pay for the publishing of the annual. A record total of 950 yearbooks were sold. Patti Jones, editor, was quoted, "The '66 staff has already set several records, and we plan to set more."

Setting records isn't the only goal of the yearbook staff. They follow the motto "To build a better Yearbook." Working at taking and cropping pictures, writing cutlines, headlines, and body copy, proofreading, and the confusion of meeting deadlines, the staff devotes countless hours of worry and work to the development of the '66 ROUND-UP.

There might be a dozen pictures, but Brenda Murray has to pick only three or four to use.

October Brings Varied Activities

October brings to Aldine a month full of activities. For the first time a spirit stick has been awarded by the cheerleaders to the class showing the most participation at each pep rally and later at the game. With this school tradition, spirit has been greatly boosted. Students also wait with anticipation for the first six weeks report cards. With the beginning of their sales campaign, the "Roundup" staff has begun to try to sell the largest amount of yearbooks. Therefore, the school year bustled with activities, which helped the year be a memorable one.

Juniors out yell the other classes in an effort to boost school spirit and win the spirit stick.

"Thank goodness, I passed!" cries Brenda Bowin as she happily receives her report card.

Conroe Downs Aldine 13-0

Quarterback Billy Sheffield throws long in an attempt to gain yardage despite onrushing Tiger linemen.

Bruce Aldrige charges through the Tiger's line to gain needed yardage in an attempt to even the score.

Friday, October 8th marked Aldine's fourth defeat of the season with a scoreless game of 13-0. Conroe's wingback Bob Bruce made the first touchdown with an 82 yard drive. John Bruce, Bob Bruce's brother, playing guard, got into the act by blocking Aldine's punt, while Tiger Bob Graham fell on the ball and 6 points in the end zone.

Mustang's Sid Seawright and Jackie Owens carried the team through the first 3 quarters, but were unable to keep up the pace throughout the final period. With the scent of victory in the air, the determined Aldine Mustangs were able to hold the Tigers scoreless until the fourth quarter.

A Typical Meeting of the Aldine

As well as giving opinions and suggestions, Miss Jean Kennedy former sponsor, gives the Council her approval on their decision.

Larry Parker, president, presides over one of the usual bi-weekly meetings of the Aldine Chapter of Student Councils.

As a duty of a Student Council member, Sharon Burnaman gives her homeroom a report of the Council meeting.

The members and alternates of the AHS Student Council are selected by voting through the homerooms. These members serve both semesters and must obtain a passing average throughout the year. Officers of the Student Council are elected by a school wide election during the spring semester. All officers must obtain no lower than a B average at all times, and serve diligently as a school leader.

To be a student Council representative, a member must participate in projects, committees, district meets and other essential programs to be eligible for the Council pin which is a honor to receive.

This year Aldine has the largest Council in the history of the school. There is a total of 74 members and 7 officers sponsored by Miss Jean Kennedy, who has recently been promoted to a higher job. Mrs. Virginia Perryman, and Mr. Thomas Miksch, principal; also act as sponsors.

High School Student Council

The standard procedure of the Student Council begins with a call to order and roll call.

Sharon Gibbs presents her opinion of the motion on the floor.

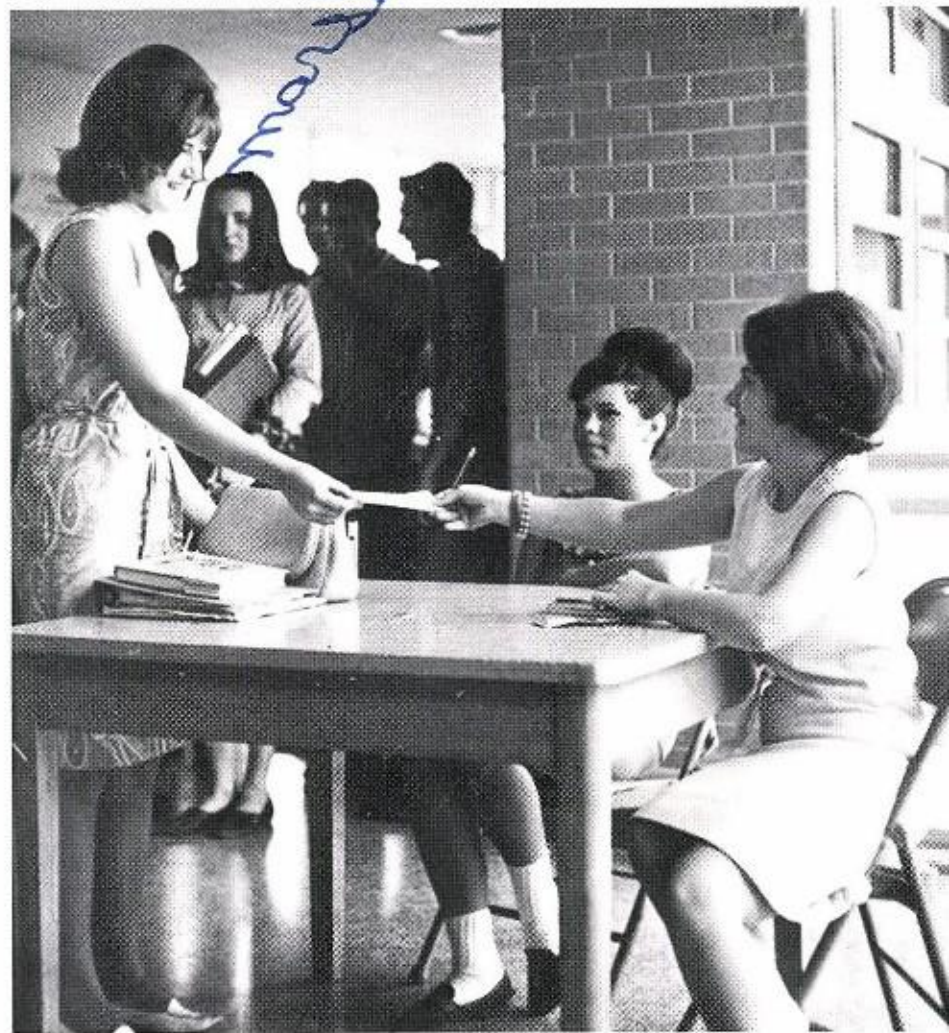

Student opinions are shown through the voting procedures of the Council members.

Student Council Participates in Projects

In order to serve on the Aldine Student Council, the members must serve on committees and do extra projects to receive their Council pin. A good example of one of the more important committees is the G.S.L., or the Good Sportsmanship League which is a committee consisting of three members from the Council that will strive to enforce Good Sportsmanship. These individuals must be trustworthy and dependable, and be ready to accept responsibility. They are elected by the representatives of the Student Council and serve in the Council even if they may not be elected by their homeroom.

Other committees that are quite important to the Student Council are the Sweatshirt Committee and the Election Committee. These committees are formed by several members who are willing to render their services during their lunch prior to aid the students of the school.

1. Kathy Papet and Dianna Garrett accept the order from Judy Wilson for her Mustang sweatshirt.

Members of the election committee, Carol King and Linda Beu combine eating lunch and caring for the ballot boxes.

2. In order to promote good sportsmanship between competing schools, the Good Sportsmanship League, consisting of Norman Graham, Sherry Odgen, and Bruce Larson, not shown, exchange tokens at district football games.

D.E. Students Get Acquainted at Initiation

"Who fired that shot?" wonders Robert Adams as Charles George rolls with laughter.

Sounds of laughter and joy filled the air as the members of the D.E. club took time out to forget their daily routine and training of the D.E. program. The initiation, which was held primarily for the purpose of the first and second year students to become better acquainted before the election of club officers, was held on October 8, 1965.

According to some of the students there were no real goals to reach in the initiation but to see if everyone was able to get along with the group. There were games such as volleyball and horseshoes which were played. The sponsors of this social were Mr. and Mrs. Dunkin and Mr. Durrett.

In consulting Mr. Dunkin, D.E. sponsor, it was concluded that "everyone passed with flying colors."

"Oh! That hurts!" yells Mary Fritzsimmons.

"Eek! What is it? Is it alive? Is it human? Oh! Is it a boy? Is this what it takes to be initiated? Help!" screams Beverly Davis.

North Shore Defeats Aldine 20-6

Aldine dropped their first game of district play with a 20-6 loss.

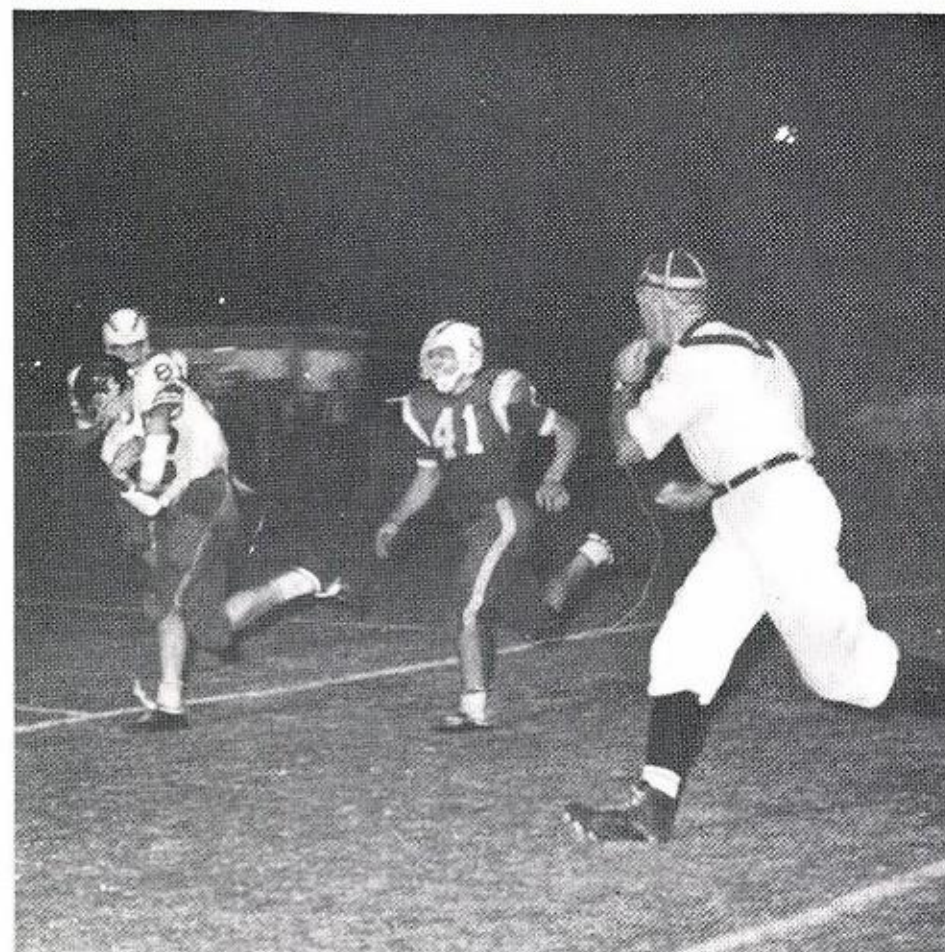

The Mustangs put the ball to rolling in the second half with a 25 yard pass completed to Louis Ryter, thrown by quarterback Billy Sheffield. Moments later, end Dale Hill rallied to receive the pigskin enabling him to score, this being the only score of the night for Aldine. Many avid Mustang fans cringed when Dale Hill bobbled the ball in the air as he crossed over for the single touchdown. This one and only touchdown was not enough to keep the "fighting Mustangs" encouraged enough to win the game for Aldine.

Gary Frieling fails to recover a pass thrown in an attempt to gain yardage.

Mustang tackles Sidney Seawright and Larry Dacus put an end to yardage attempts by North Shore.

Dale Hill goes over for six points to make the only touchdown scored for Aldine in the game.

Bears Squeeze by Mustangs 7-0

Aldine held the Spring Branch Bears to only 7 points. This is the only year that the Bears have never scored less than 30 points against the Mustangs.

"The Mustangs", as stated by Coach Rice, "played their best game of the season." They made several deep penetrations with the furthest dying on the 5 yard line after a fumble.

The Bears scored in the second quarter when halfback Ronnie Hickman ran off tackle for 50 yards. The Bears saw other penetrations die at the hands of the brilliant Mustang defense on the 12, 29 and 11 yard lines.

Larry Moran makes another tackle; this time on Ronnie Hickman.

Billy Sheffield finds that short yardage is tough to get.

October 23rd brought festivities which began with dancing and drinking "kick-a-poo-juice" to marriages being performed by a country judge. The theme of the party was carried out by a wide variety of costumes worn by the students and teachers. Also, the authentic scenery used provided a perfect atmosphere for the dance.

Throughout the evening Seniors participated in the various activities. They danced to an old-fashioned hoe down, entered the traditional Sadie Hawkins' race, and the girls were able to catch and marry the guys of their choice. During the evening activities Sylvia Seawright and Rodger Kercheval were chosen as wearing the most original costumes. With these fun-filled festivities the party was said to be a success by the Senior Sponsors.

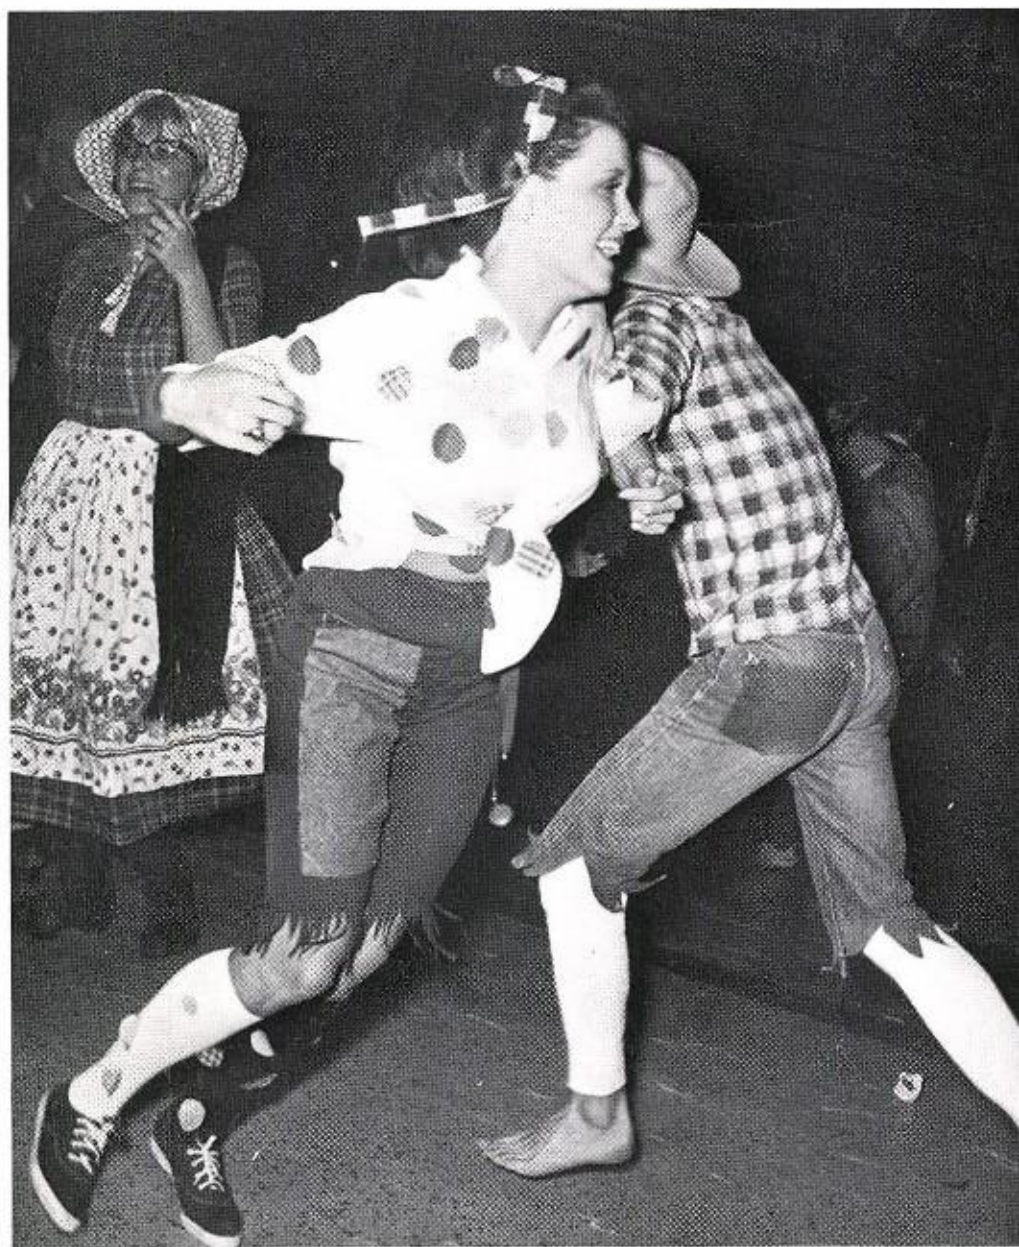

This group takes time out to recuperate from the Sadie Hawkins activities.

Student Council Has District Meet at U. of H.

In a discussion group, the representatives listen for new methods to advance their school.

Each semester the Aldine Student Council attends the District meeting of the Southeast Gulf Coast District of Student Councils. These meets are held to promote a better understanding of Student Council duties. At these meetings, discussion groups are set up by the President School and led by the represented schools. At these discussions group representatives of each school attend to obtain ideas and suggestions from other schools.

By the election of Officer Schools at each Spring Meet, the association is led under Parliamentary Procedure. The schools representing the Officers of this year are: President, Furr Junior, Senior High, Vice-President, Galena Park, and Secretary-Treasurer, Ursula Academy. These schools have to be dependable, capable, and be ready to undertake any situation concerning the responsibilities of the Student Council.

These meets are sponsored by the committees of the Texas Association of Student Councils, the teachers and the administration of the Council schools.

Sylvia Seawright, Recording Secretary, discusses with Galena Nash, Dee Mendiola, and Linda King, Vice-President, the topic of their discussion group.

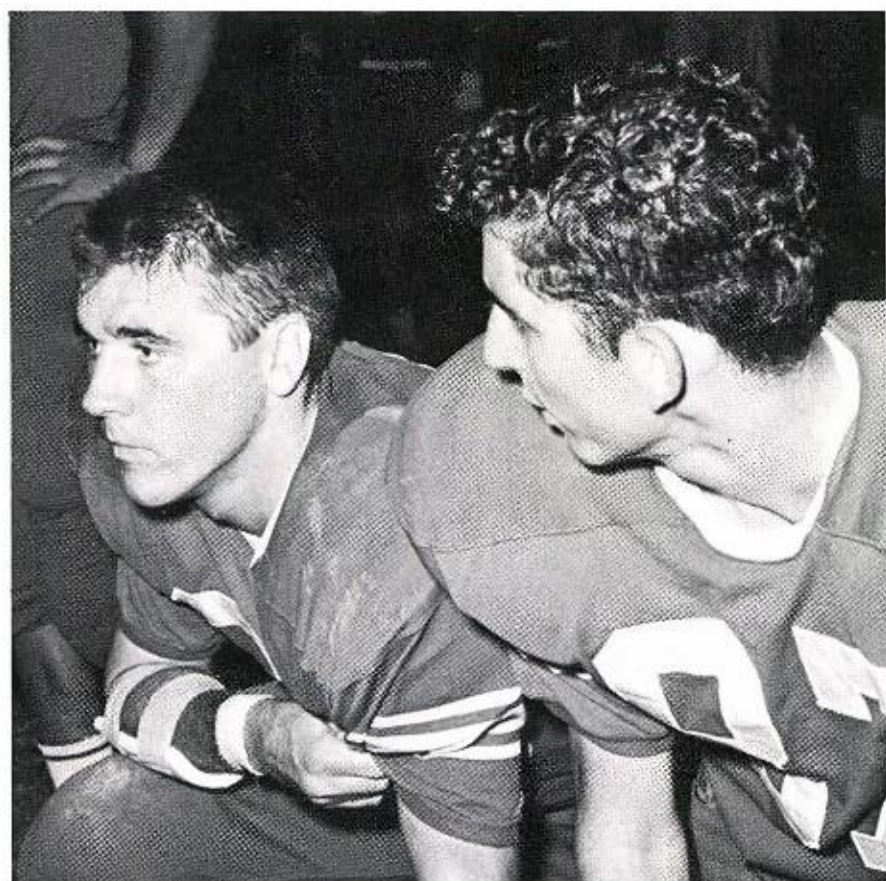

While waiting for the General Assembly to begin, Robert Hansel, Ralph Norman, and Walter Truitt compare ideas and suggestions.

Mustangs take a well deserved time out.

Trojans Down Mustangs 21-14

Dale Hill watches the game intensely as he listens to Mike Reynolds.

The Trojans from South Houston came from behind in the fourth quarter to defeat the Mustangs 21-14. The speed of Jimmy White proved to be the big difference as he scored two touchdowns on runs of 67 and 37 yards. White also set up the third touchdown with a 19 yard sprint to the one. White gained 125 yards on 6 carries.

Jackie Owens turned in the best performance for the Mustangs with 106 yards in 19 carries. Owens scored one touchdown from the one. Billy Sheffield scored the other Mustangs talley from 7 yards out.

The Mustangs moved inside the 28 twice within the last eight minutes losing the ball on fourth down plays each time.

November Highlighte

Highlighted by the bonfire and the Homecoming game and dance, the month of November became a month full of fun, excitement and work.

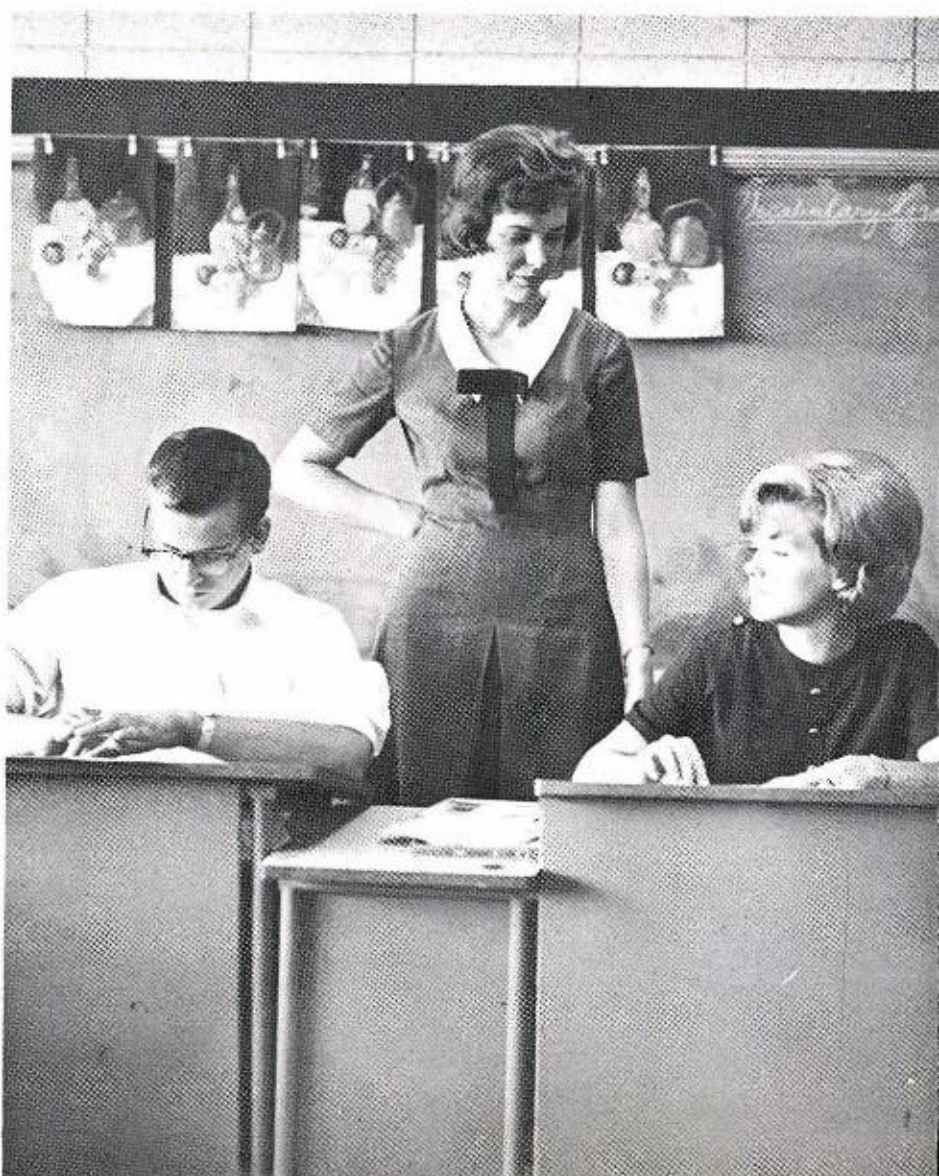

During the month the Smiley cheerleaders made their traditional visit to Aldine before the rival Aldine vs Smiley game. Also, the classes competed in the annual homecoming hall decorations contest; this year the senior hall was chosen by the judges for their winning theme "The Football Hall of Fame". With the spirit of Homecoming in the air, exes returned to reminisce with teachers and former friends.

Martha Sammons and Garner Moran, Seniors, put the finishing touches to the Senior hall decorations.

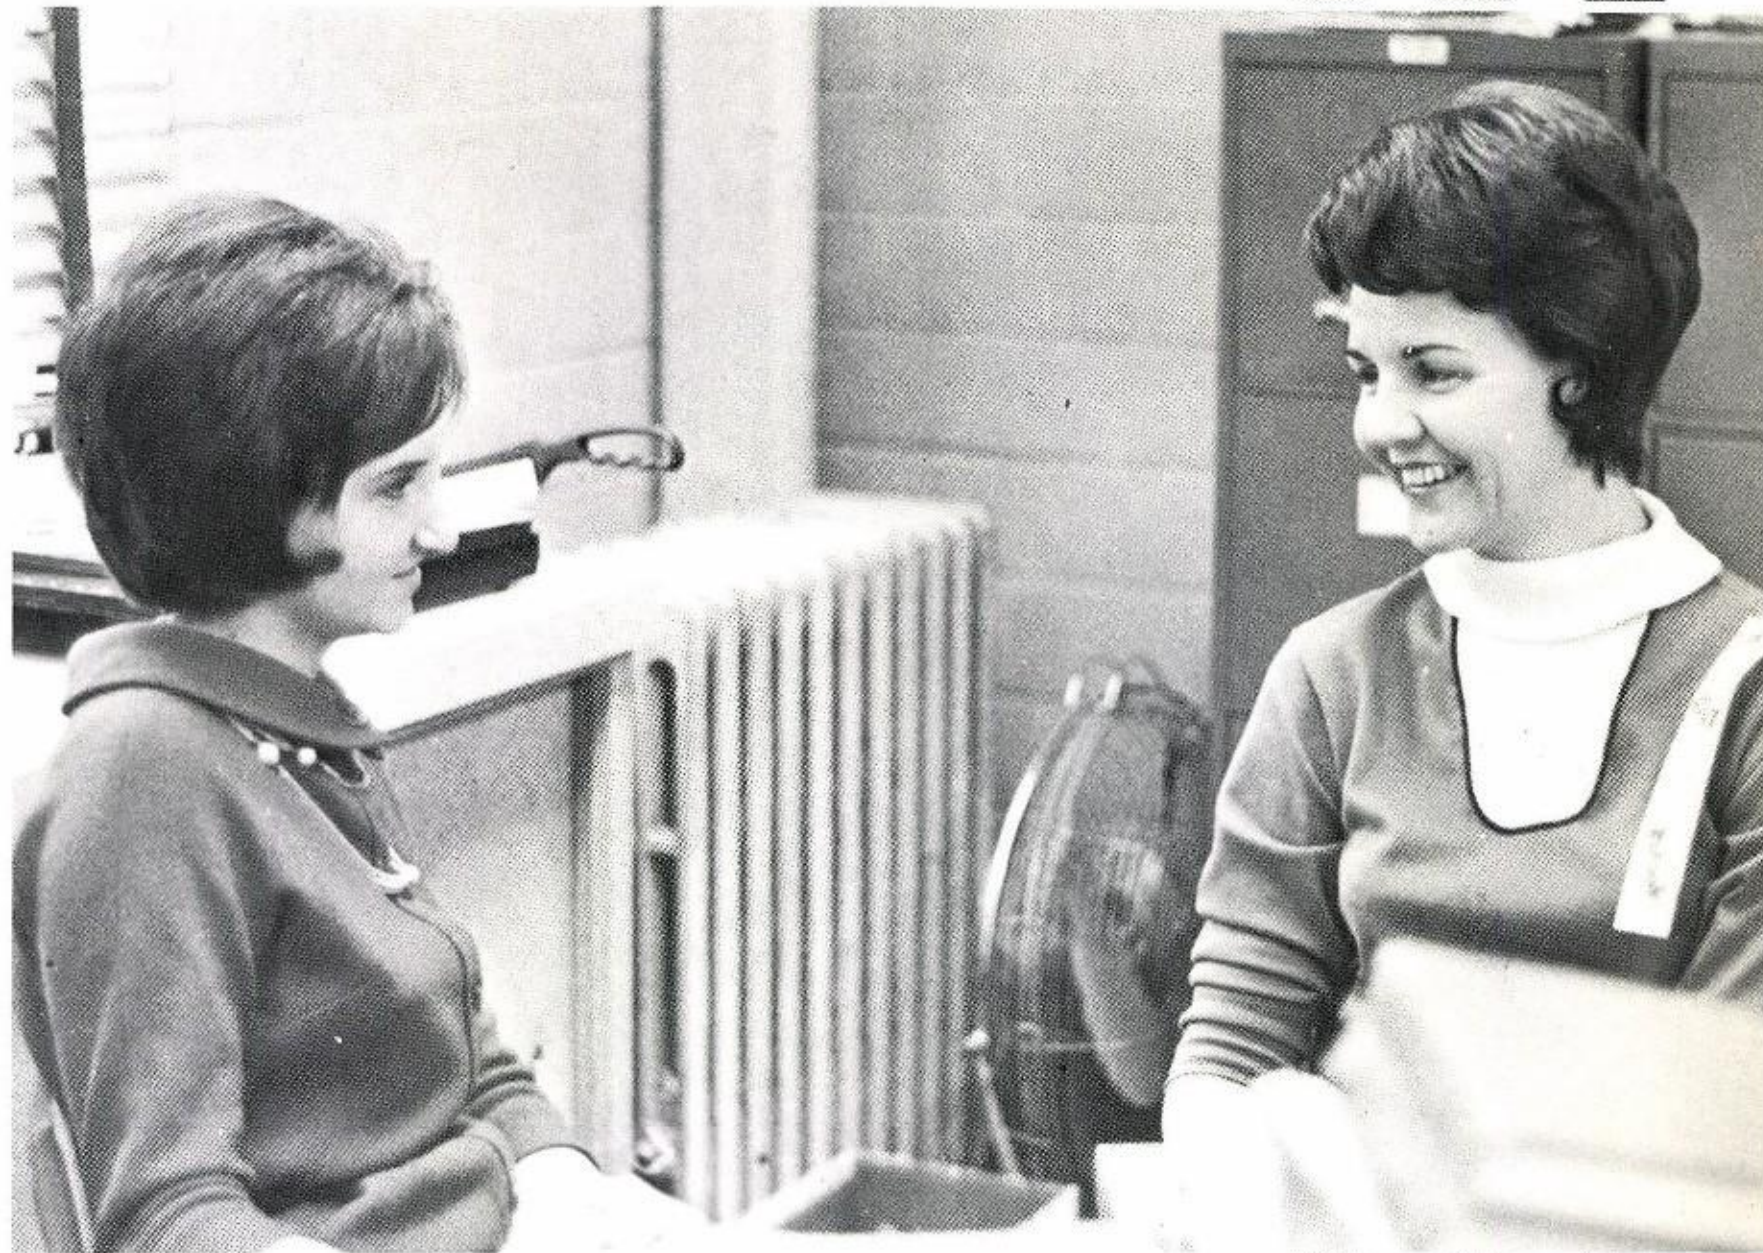

Juniors work hurriedly to finish their hall decorations before the final deadline with high hopes of winning the annual hall decorations contest.

C.S.U. Gives Spiritual Inspiration

This is a familiar sight on every Tuesday morning at 8:05 in the auditorium.

Peggy Tampke and Patty Lovell lead the students in "Christ For Me."

Every Tuesday morning at 8:05 a numerous amount of students gather in the auditorium for the weekly C.S.U. meeting. Under the guidance of Mrs. Lillian Rushing, the C.S.U. committee invites special guests such as preachers of various denominations, teachers such as Mrs. Ermel, and Mr. Marion, and students. Students such as Judy Mars, Donna Hale, Judy Graft, Jimmy Welch and Pat Welch often present the special music. Special guests bringing musical programs were the Worsham Family Singers and the Pat Hoffmeister Trio.

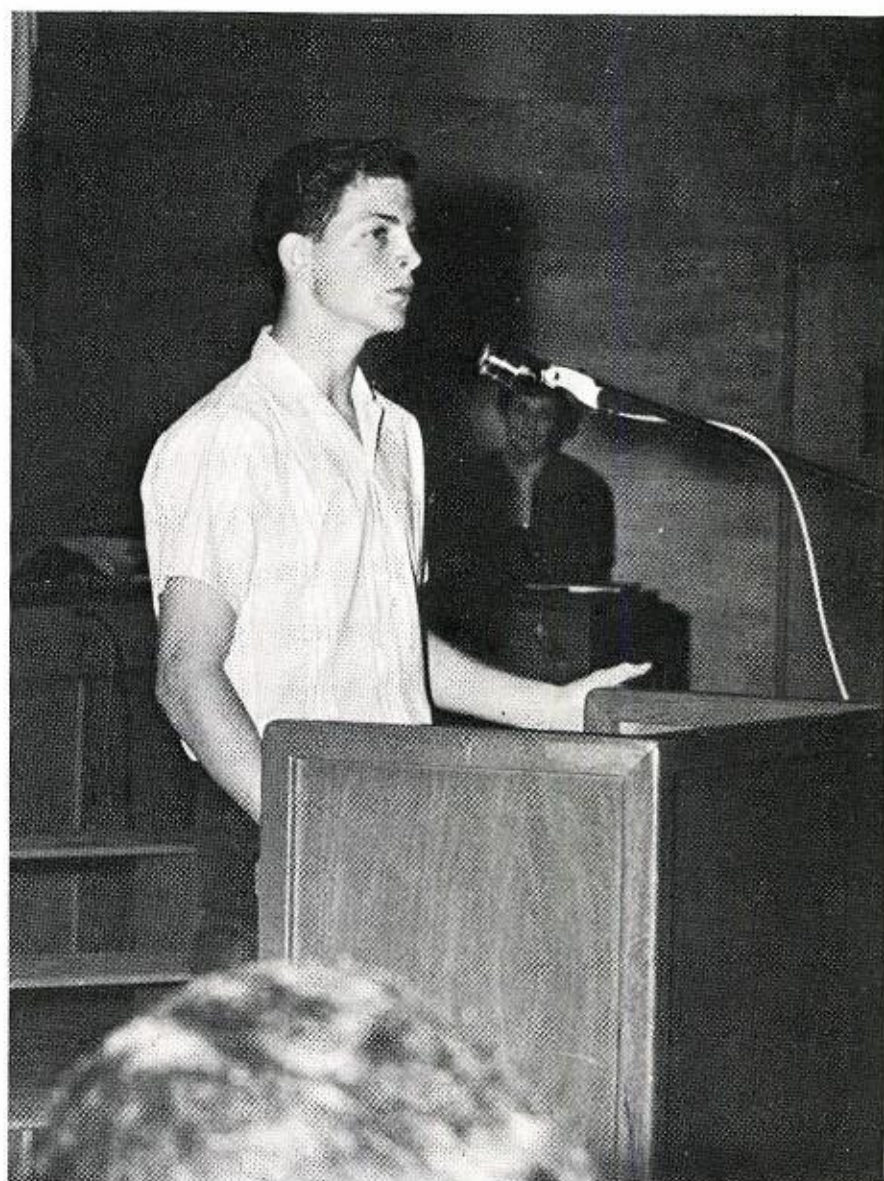

Besides weekly meetings the C.S.U. begins each morning with a devotional. On special occasions such as Thanksgiving, Christmas, and Easter, the C.S.U. provides the student body of A.H.S. with spiritual qualities of the occasions.

Eagles Triumph Over Mustangs 6-0

Playing in a game under less than ideal conditions, the Smiley Eagles won over the Mustangs by a score of 6-0, winning their homecoming.

Smiley's score came in the second quarter when, after an Aldine punt was blocked by Smiley's Larry King, Lonnie Sprarberry went over for "six".

Aldine had drives down to within and about the 10 yard line, but were forced to kick, or lost the ball, on downs each time.

With ten minutes left in the game, Aldine took a Smiley punt and marched to the 34 yard line of Smiley, but was forced to kick. Again Aldine's defense held, forcing Smiley to kick. But a few plays later, the Eagle's picked off a Mustang pass, clinching the game.

Jackie Owens runs back an interrupted pass as Paul Strother and Larry Dacus try to cut off other tacklers.

All Aboard for the Sophomore Shipwrecked Party

Under a sky of sea blue surrounded by surfboards, rowboats, and balloons, the Sophomores held their "Shipwrecked Social" in the school cafeteria starting at 7:30 and ending at 11:00 on November 12.

Teachers and students alike, were dressed as crew members, fearless pirates, or passengers of a sinking ship. The best-dressed boy and girl chosen by the judges were Don Raymond and Rose Mary Foree. Prizes received by the two were a very large comb and a ball and paddle.

Dance music and entertainment was provided by "The Caravans." Members of "The Caravans" are AHS students Ray Hadaway, Mickey Murley, Ken Rogers, and Larry Gregory.

After flower making and a treasure hunt, the Sophomore Sponsors served chips, dips, cookies, and cokes. At the conclusion of the activities, the Sophomore Sponsors termed the party a success.

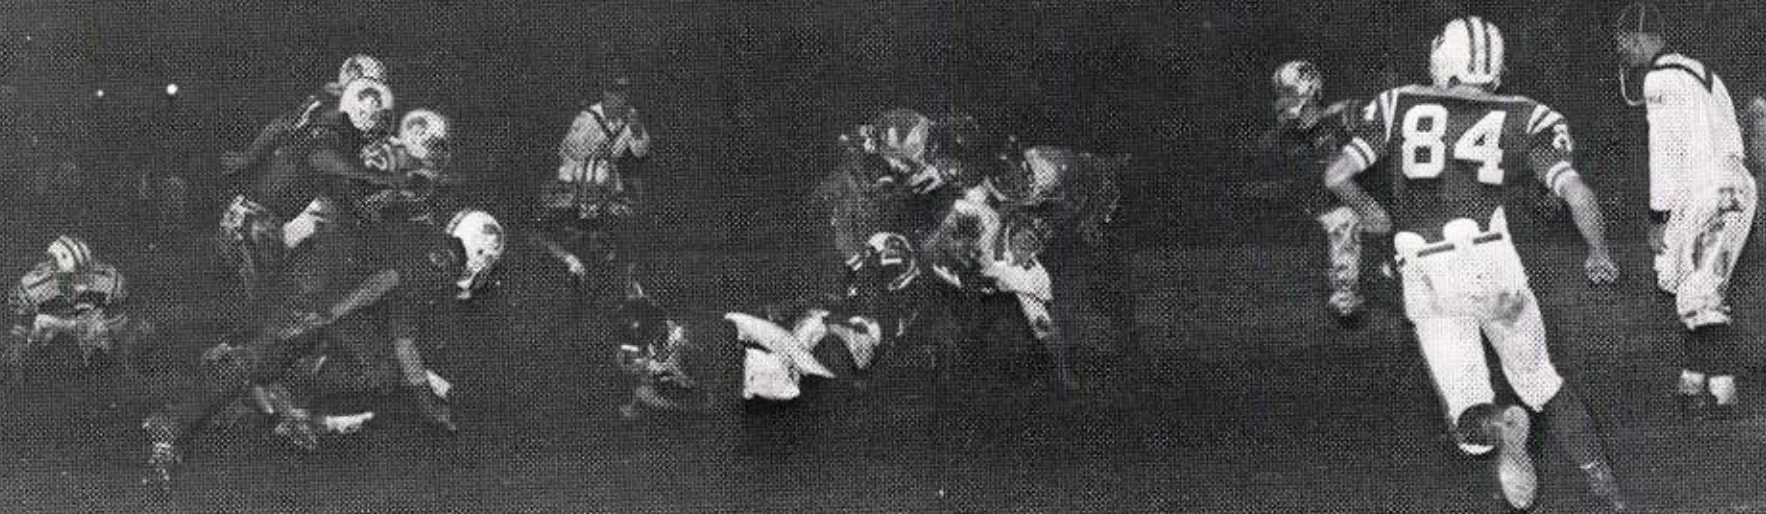

Sandra Nance and Earl Milspaps enjoy escaping the sinking ship in their "pajamas".

Memorial Triumphs Over Aldine 33-0

Memorial thundered over Aldine 33-0 on a muddy field. Memorial gained possession of the ball only three plays after the opening kickoff. Memorial rolled wide and only made 3 yds. On the next play the ball was carried to the 13. Memorial tried to find a hole and was dropped on the line of scrimmage. Memorial settled for three points on a field goal. After several more plays Memorial again kicked and led 6-0. After another Aldine fumble, Memorial scored and the conversion was kicked for a 13-0 lead. Memorial intercepted a pass from Aldine at Aldine's 46. Several plays later, they scored and kicked the conversion for a 20-0 lead. Jackie Owens and Sidney Seawright were the leading defensive men for Aldine. Dale Hill added aid in his punting.

f Homecoming

Students congregated on the eve of Homecoming to watch a blazing bonfire which aroused school spirit for the following night's Homecoming game against the Springwoods Tigers.

The cheerleaders led in many familiar Aldine songs and students joined in eagerly boosting Mustang spirit. The school prayer and fight song were played by the mighty Mustang Band and a Springwoods Tiger was burned in effigy.

Then the bonfire came to a close with the traditional snake dance and hopes that the fightin' Mustangs would be victorious the following night.

On Homecoming Night, the Springwoods Tigers, scoring on a five yard run and a five yard pass defeated the Mustang's 14-7 in the final game of the season.

As part of the pre-game activities, the band and Vaqueras performed and the Vaquera's Major, Lora Lauderdale was presented a bouquet of red roses. Then during half-time, came that highly awaited moment when the nominees for Homecoming Queen were presented. The nominees were escorted onto the field as the Mustang Band played "More". After a moment of silence it was announced that Mary Frances Galloway had been elected the 1965 Homecoming Queen.

Crowning of Queen Highlight

With the crowning of Homecoming Queen, the half-time activities of the Aldine vs Smiley football game were brought to a climax. After the nominees were escorted onto the football field, it was announced that the Homecoming Queen of 1965 was Mary Frances Galloway. As Queen Mary Frances glowed with happiness, she was crowned by Bruce Larson, Vice President of the Senior Class. Then, Larry Parker, President of the Student Council presented Queen Mary Frances with a bouquet of red roses. Then as Mary Frances Galloway, Homecoming Queen of 1965 made the traditional walk off the football field, approving spectators gave her a standing ovation.

Also, runners-up for Homecoming Queen, Judy Bass and JoAnn Koeler were presented with charms. Then, head coach, Mr. Larry Rice, introduced the 1965 Mustang football team to the spectators. The thirty-first annual Homecoming Dance climaxed a day that was filled with excitement. This year the exes and seniors danced to music which was provided by the Gaston Ponce Orchestra. During the dance it was noticed that there were a great number of exes attending who graduated in the fifties and sixties rather than the earlier graduating classes. Between dancing and conversing, the guests helped themselves to punch and cakes which were served from the patio. The dance came to a close with many high school friendships revived; with these happy moments came the end of Homecoming 1965.

Round-Up Staff Faces First Deadline

"I know I put that picture in here!" exclaims Yvonne Petty as she and Mary Foree look for a lost picture.

"Are you sure?" asks Don Sims as Dale Hill explains the technique of drawing sports layout.

As the first semester drew to an end, the ROUND-UP staff rushed to meet their first deadline, January 1, 1966. They started in May, 1965, by selling ads. Each person was required to sell $200.00 apiece. The book is published with this money as well as that received from selling yearbooks and booster ads, and the annual Coronation, which is sponsored by the ROUND-UP staff.

Staff members must learn to organize and put together a yearbook. Each member learns to use the camera. New terms, such as bleed-off, gutter, and reverse printing, present themselves to be learned and used. Talking to students and teachers to gather the facts, writing copy, and meeting deadlines are part of the staff's activities throughout the year. Learning and doing keeps ROUND-UP staff busy the whole year.

"Gotta make that deadline, gotta make that deadline, gotta make that deadline . . ." thinks Karla Richardson as she hurries to finish her work.

"Our Town"

OUR TOWN, by Thornton Wilder, was presented by the Aldine Chapter of the Thespians. Mr. Wilder is quoted, in the playwright's note, "It (the play) is an attempt to find a value above all price for the smallest events in our daily life . . . Emily's joys and griefs, her Algebra lessons and her birthday presents—what are they when we consider all the billions of girls who have lived, who are living, and who will live? Each individual's assertion to an absolute reality can only be inner, very inner . . . The climax of this play needs only five square feet of boarding and the passion to know what life means to us."

Main characters in the play were portrayed by: Melanie DeMent as Emily; Clarence Standlee as George; James Standlee as the Stage Manager.

Assisting Mr. K. Thomas, director was Mr. J. Williams and the Production Staff. Pam Stone and Debbie Gibbs headed the Costume Committee, Jeanne Baxter was in charge of the Lights and Properties, and the Make-up Crew was headed by Pat Calaway.

Emily (Melanie DeMent) reaches back as she tries to grasp the life she has just left.

Character, service, leadership, and scholarship are familiar words to students of the National Honor Society. "Being a member of this organization is one of the highest elected honors a student can achieve at Aldine High School." Along with this honor goes many responsibilities. Students of the Honor Society should be of only the highest character and should be a good example for other students both scholastically and morally.

The National Honor Society is a service organization also. During part of the year, honor society students sell Christmas cards to raise money for a scholarship given to one senior each year. Also the organization furnished plants to help brighten up the rooms and twice a week volunteers watered them. For the first time this year, the National Honor Society provided a tutoring service for students in the school who needed extra help with some of their subjects. According to the chairman of the committee in charge, Pat Belinowski, "students did not take full advantage of this service." These are only part of the services rendered by Honor Society members each year.

Library Student Assistants Help

Nancy Rhode, while replacing books on the shelves, checks the condition of the older books for the reader's benefit.

Carol King helps Bruce Larson check out a book while Margie Miller files cards of the checked out books.

As one of twenty-five organizations in Aldine High School, the Library Club gives aid to the students by helping them find good reading selections, and by aiding in research material. Library assistants are students who have the interest of the readers in mind. These students try to promote more interest in reading, and encourage the reader in his field of interest.

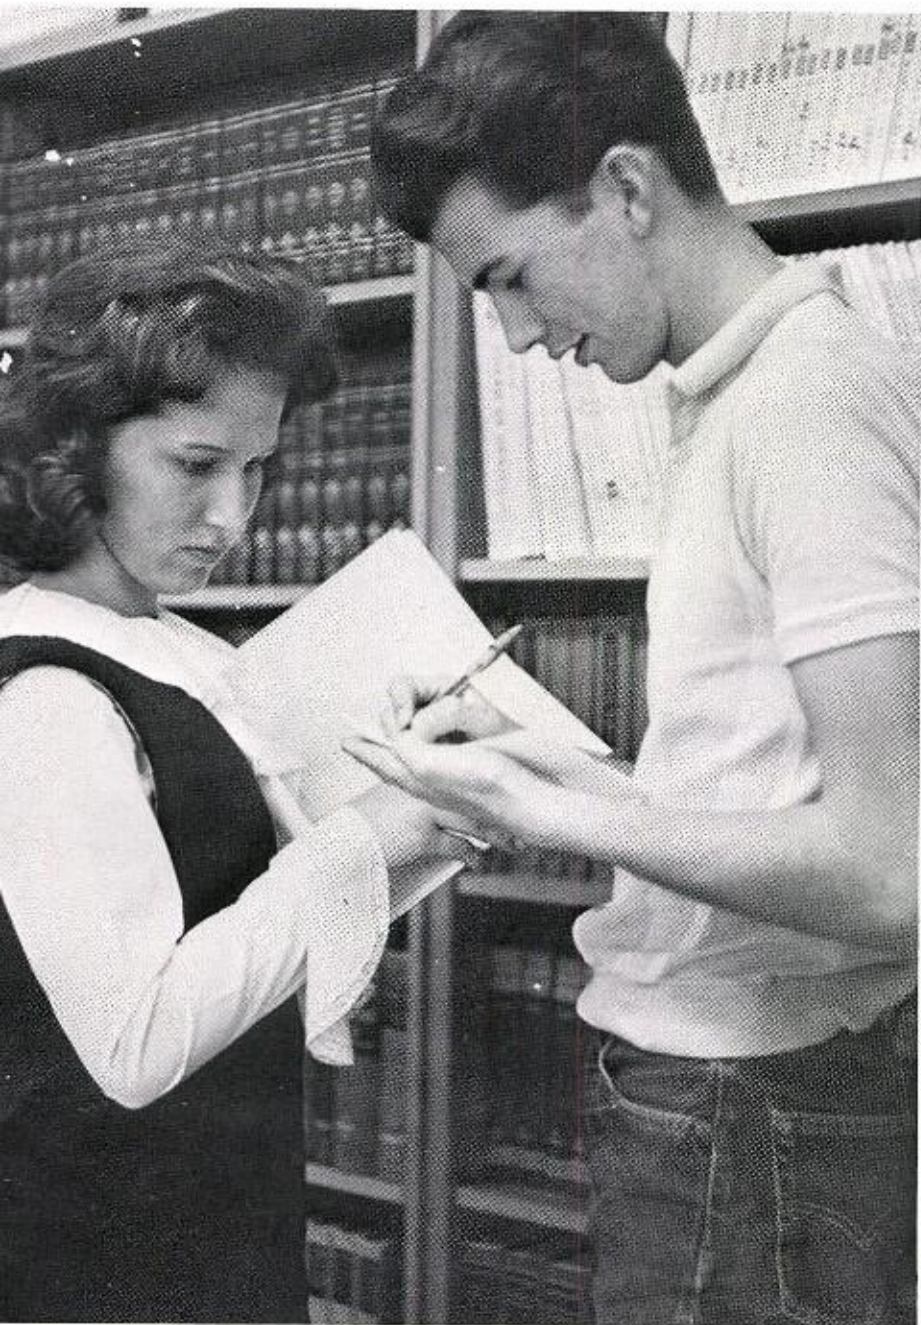

Being a library assistant brings about certain duties to these students; they must feel free to help a student with any type of library problem, be willing to help find material requested; keep the library in correct form for the convenience of the reader, and being courteous and helpful to all students. These things are quite important in making Aldine's Library successful.

"This past year the Library club has been quite effective. They have attended the district meeting for Library members to promote better understanding of the duties of library assistants. Also, the Library Club is planning to send the officers of this club to the State Meet this spring, so stated Mrs. Castle. She also remarked that "Peggy Linsey, president of the club, and others as well, has worked quite hard throughout this year to improve the club as a whole. She has been one of the best presidents we have had in this organization."

In the periodical room, Linda Christoph finds the complications begin when information is misplaced.

Future Nurses Participate in School Projects

As a student service, the F.N.C. keeps records for the Tuberculosis X-Ray unit each fall.

Future Nurses Club, with a total of 35 active members, form an organization for girls in the nursing field.

"Nursing is a good occupation to enter. It has many fields in which you may choose, and it gives you a feeling of satisfaction by helping others," stated Mrs. Phyllis Campell, both school nurse, and sponsor of the club.

"There are volunteer jobs in the nursing field throughout Houston to encourage girls who want to help in hospitals and clinics," remarked Mary Jane Buske, President.

Aldine's F.N.C. participates in many of the volunteer campaigns to help the diseased and the afflicted. In October, as a service to the students and faculty, the Future Nurses kept records for the Tuberculosis X-Ray project. Later in early December, the club gathered old toys and clothes that were in good condition and remade them for their 'adopt one' family.

"This is one of our major projects each year, and we feel that gathering old things and remaking them for the less fortunate helps to make our Christmas complete" replied member Brenda Murray.

Linda Clarke and Linda Paul place the collected toys under the office tree.

Mrs. Campell, assisted by Willie Consford and Eunes Tamez, pack the 'adopt one' toys for distribution.

A.H.S. Choir Adds to the Spirit of Christmas

Members of the choir anxiously await the moment for their performance.

Practice for the Christmas Choir Concert begins early in the month of September and extends throughout the fall months. According to Mr. John King, sponsor and director of the A.H.S. choir, "These students dedicated a large amount of their effort and time practicing during and after school, so that they would be ready for the presentation of the concert in December".

On the night of the concert, awards were presented to the seniors, with letters with stripes designating their number of years of participation in the choir.

As a tradition of the organization, the awards of choir beau and sweetheart are also presented on the night of the concert. This year the award of choir sweetheart was presented to Judy Mars, and the choir beau award was presented to Jerry Martin.

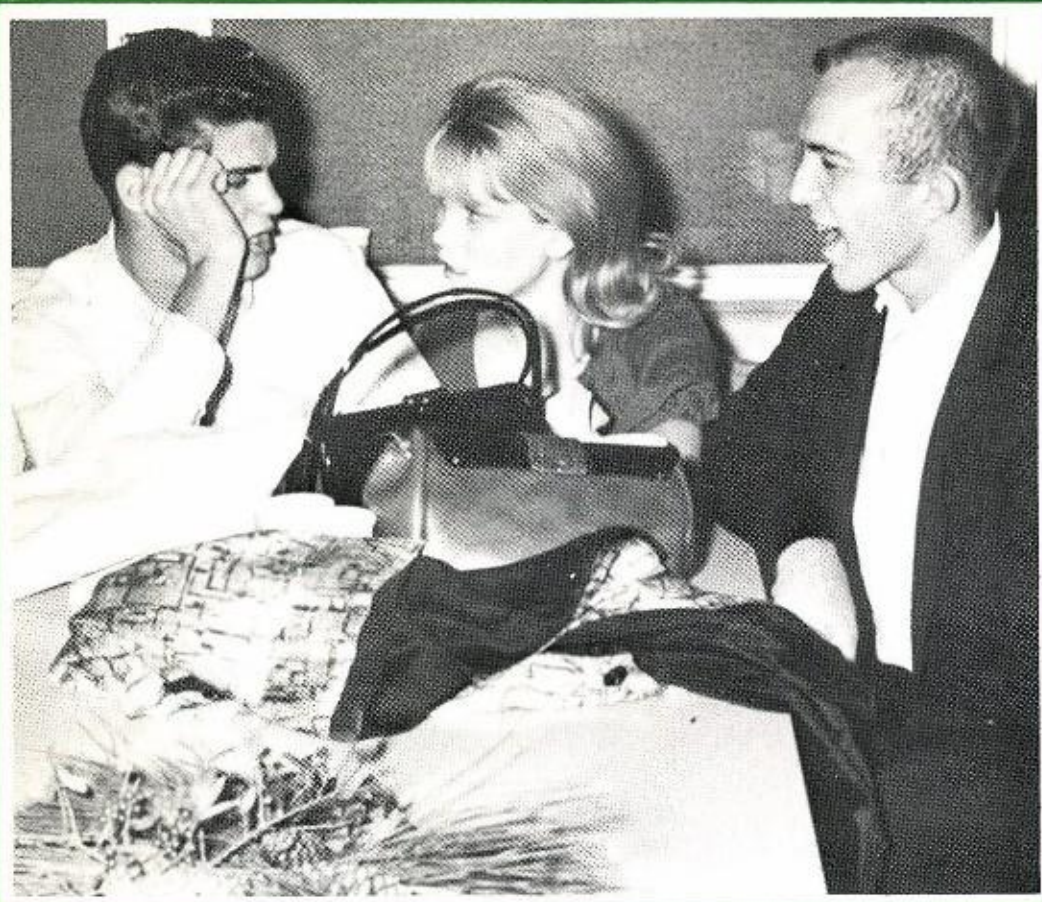

Seventy-five members compose the A.H.S. choir and forty-three of these members compose the concert choir.

John King conducts the A.H.S. choir at their traditional Christmas Concert.

Mr. Tiggeman presents Patty Lovell with a letter for her years of choir participation.

Kenneth Oswald, Gay Chastain, and Gene Gregory converse while sitting out a dance.

With the joy and merriment of the Yuletide season, the Student Council once again sponsored the annual school-wide Christmas social on December 17.

This year preceding the dance, a talent show was held in the auditorium. Following the talent show the students proceeded to the cafeteria for the dance or to the gym to participate in volleyball or basketball.

The cafeteria was gaily decorated with red and green crepe paper streamers, Santa Claus faces, bells, and a traditional Christmas tree which was placed in the center of the dancing floor. The music for the dance was provided by the Coachmen. Also, refreshments of punch and cookies were served.

At the close of the dance, the principal, Mr. Thomas Miksch commented that this had been one of the better parties of the year with the largest turnout of students.

January brought the new year, semester exams, and colder weather. Winter set the atmosphere, but students came prepared with coats and sweaters. Students were also trying to come prepared to pass semester exams at the same time. It was a familiar sight to see students chewing on erasers and watching the clock closely during exams. The rainy, cold weather continued and the chili sign became a favorite place for many during lunch.

All survived, however, and many seniors began to make plans for college or careers. Post graduates returned to Aldine and advised those enrolled in college as to what to expect.

Edna Dunn, editorial director, and assistant editor, Ray Graham, try to think of a headline for a story.

"Hey Babe, whatcha doin' Saturday night?" This appears to be the question Bruce Larson is asking Sharon Baker, advertising editor on the "Mustang".

Linda King proofreads her story before she turns it in to the editor for final inspection.

"Sell those ads!, Get that story!, Meet that deadline!" These are a few of the familiar orders given to the members of the "Mustang" staff. The Aldine High School paper is in its thirty-first year of publication. It was previously called the "Mars Comet", then the name was changed to the "Comet", and now is called the "Mustang". This year seventeen issues of the paper was published, at 160 dollars per issue. This is one of the reasons why the nine members of the staff have to sell ads, to help pay for the production of the Mustang. In order for a student to be eligible to work on the Mustang staff he must have had, or be taking journalism. Every year, the staff is judged by the Interscholastic League, and they follow the League's recommendations in gathering information for their stories. The main purpose of the Mustang is to try to promote general welfare of the school, students, and faculty. When gathering material for their articles, the staff members try to cover all departments and activities equally. According to Mrs. Rowena Lightfoot, sponsor of the Mustang, "The one thing that the staff always has to remember, is to show the commendations of students, teachers, and administrators that deserve recognition, in a style that is most appealing to the readers."

Mardi Gras was the theme of the first Junior social of the year and perhaps one of the gayest which was held on January 20 in the cafeteria.

All students were supposed to come in costume and masks were given at the door to those who weren't already wearing them. Many different characters could be seen at the party. There were surfers, baseball players, the girl from "Goldfinger", a clown, and even a member of the Ku Klux Klan.

The highlight of the evening was a parade, typical of the real Mardi Gras, in which each club was represented by a float that may or may not have held together during the event. To help the others keep in step, Richard Murray, a member of the band, led in his camouflage suit, beating a base drum.

During the parade, judges looked over the various costumes and chose the best-dressed boy and girl. Shirley Simkins as Mary Poppins and Earl Chessher won first prize.

Ping pong was played in the student lounge, while in the cafeteria, students danced to music by "The Golden Spades". Refreshments were also served in the student lounge.

Aldine vs Memorial

1st GAME: Memorial surpassed Aldine 78-59 as they held their place as number one team in district. David Young pounded in 24, with Ernest Biscamp running in 17 and J. C. Davis, Bruce Larson and Mike Harvell each adding 6. Ernest Biscamp, Bruce Larson, and J. C. Davis pulled down together 13 rebounds out of 21.

2nd GAME: Memorial cagers romped over the Mustangs at their home court 108-60. David Young and Mike Harvell led the scoring with 16 and 12. Bruce Larson, Ernest Biscamp and J. C. Davis add to the cause by scoring 8, 7, and 6 respectively. Mike Harvell led the rebounding with 8. J. C. Davis, Larry Parker, and David Otwell added respectively to the rebounds 6, 4, and 3.

Girls Prepare for Future Through F.H.A.

Helping to prepare the girls so they will be able to cope with the future is the main aim of the F.H.A. as sponsored by Mrs. Rutledge, Mrs. Yeaman, Miss Moffett, and Mrs. Rollins. To be in F.H.A. a girl must have taken or must be taking homemaking. In the minds of these girls there is only one goal; to help individuals improve their personal, family, and community living. In planning for the year's activities the girls in this organization work hard to prepare such activities as the Style Show and the Family Buffet. They also send cards to various hospitals and fill food baskets for the needy. These are just a few of the things the F.H.A. does.

Many of the F.H.A. girls are appreciated and rewarded for their time, effort, and work which they put into promoting the aims of this organization. By doing hard work the girls are rewarded with receiving either a Junior, Chapter, or State Degree.

February 22, brought the football banquet which was the climax to a disappointing football season. During the banquet, the Master of Ceremonies, Mr. Don Washburn, kept the guests amused and entertained. After the meal was completed, the head coach of Texas A.&M. University, Mr. Gene Stallings, spoke to the guests on the development of a boy's character to become a good athlete. Later, Mr. Stallings introduced Mr. Jack Hurlibut, the assistant defense coach at A.&M. who was a former Aldine quarterback in 1959. Afterward, the twenty-three varsity lettermen and the twenty-three members of the sophomore team were recognized. Then, head coach, Larry Rice, presented a trophy to Jackie Owens, "Most Valuable Player" of the 1965 season.

V.I.C. Sponsors "Get-Together"

As part of the activities sponsored by the VIC Club a social is held every year. This year the social was given by the Cosmetology Chapter. This social was held in the cafeteria starting at 7:30. There were games played and refreshments served. There was also dancing. This social concluded the yearly activities of the VIC Club and was held mainly for the purpose of getting each chapter better acquainted with each other. In consulting several students about this "Get-Together" it was learned that fun was had by all who attended.

It seems that Sandra Golden, Kathy Craddock, Geneva Whatley, and Vonnie Freiling enjoy just sitting and keeping time to the music.

Aldine Vs Smiley

1st GAME

1st GAME—Smiley rose above Aldine 53-51. David Young, senior, was the high point man of the night with a total of 17 points, followed closely by Earnest Biscamp with 9 points for the night.

2nd GAME—In the second game with Smiley the Aldine cagers lost it with a score of 53-50. David Young was once again high point man. Because of David Young's outstanding ability to play basketball, he made second team all-district.

This game with the Smiley Eagles marked Aldine's first district loss. For both games the starting lineup remained the same, consisting of David Young, Ernest Biscamp, Mike Harvell, Larry Parker, and Bruce Larson. This line-up remained the same until Bruce Larson guard was unable to play because of a broken ankle.

Coronation Highlight February

With the change of color pattern in the kaleidoscope, came the month of February. The pattern was gold and red. These colors stood for Valentine's Day and the Coronation of Aldine Senior High, the theme of which was "Golden Fantasy".

With the change of color also came an agenda of new activities. Seniors were busy ordering Senior Invitations and having their Senior group pictures taken. All students enjoyed the holiday for the Fat Stock Show Parade.

The month also brought the renowned whistler, Mr. Fred Lowery, for a Southern Assembly Program. Many new faces were also seen around Aldine, one being that of Mrs. Marilyn Mallory, who teaches typing.

Aldine Vs . . . Springwoods

1st GAME: "Aldine played an exceptional defensive game," stated Coach Courtney, but the Springwood's Tigers edged by Aldine 53-51. Earnest Biscamp led the scoring with 24 points. J. C. Davis and Mike Harvell added respectively to the scoring, 13 and 12 points. Mustangs were high on the boards that night as they brought down 20 rebounds.

2nd GAME: Mustangs were on the boards this night as they brought down 29 rebounds. Although the Mustang's defense was working, the Springwood's Tigers rolled over Aldine 96-58. David Young led the scoring with 17. Mike Harvell and J. C. Davis added 13 and 10 respectively.

Being formed to promote interest and to develop skills in the field of drafting, one of the main objectives of this organization is to place students in industry or on the job after completion of the course. This has been the first year that Aldine has had such a course; therefore, the members have demonstrated their abilities and skills in district and state competition to gain the respect of the student body.

"President, Paul Nielson, replies that he is quite proud of the achievements of this club, and feels that the Vocational Drafting Club has quickly been accepted as one of the best VIC Clubs in Aldine. But he also feels that without the help and endurance of Mr. L. E. Acker, both teacher and sponsor, the Vocational Drafting Club would not have made the accomplishments we have made."

Bears Take Two From Mustangs

Aldine Vs. North Shore

1st GAME: The Aldine Mustangs victoriously defeated the opposing North Shore Mustangs by a score of 86-57. The Mustangs previously defeated North Shore in the Aldine Lions Club Tournament by a score 96-65 which gave them the momentum to come back with another victory. David Young led the game with a total of 27 points, Bruce Larson also pumped in 19 points to help the Mustang cause. The Mustangs had an exceptional night from the free-throw line hitting 83.3% and hitting 49.2% from the field.

2nd GAME: In the second game, which was played at North Shore, the Mustangs were led by Mike Harvell with 21 points, most of which was made in the first half of the game. David Young came back into the game in the second half to score 14 points. The final score was 57-54 in favor of the Aldine Mustangs.

Mary Frances Galloway

Participating in many activities has given Mary Frances Galloway the respect and admiration of her fellow students. As a sophomore, she was chosen as the most beautiful of her class and as the Most Beautiful of Aldine Senior High. She has also represented the school as cheerleader for two years. During her junior year, she was elected Jetera Queen and parliamentarian of her class. Then as a senior, she was selected as Basketball Sweetheart, Homecoming Queen, Treasurer of the Senior Class, and Most Popular and Best All Round Senior. After graduation she plans to attend Sam Houston State Teacher's College.

Larry Parker

Leadership and participation in athletics are qualities which helped elect Larry Parker as Mr. Aldine. Throughout his years in high school Larry has participated in the athletic program. He has played varsity basketball for three years and served on the varsity track team for two years. Also, leadership is a quality which he possesses for he attended the Attorney General's Youth Conference and was chosen as a Junior Rotarian of the month. He also served as a member of the National Thespian Society and as President of the Student Council. Upon graduation Larry plans to attend Sam Houston State Teacher's College.

Coronation Night Filled

February 25, brought an evening that was filled with excitement. The program began as Master of Ceremonies, J. B. Harvell, senior, announced to the audience the members of the Royal Court. The Royal Court was made up of the organization representatives, Most Popular of each class, and the Most Beautiful and Most Handsome candidates. After the Royal Court was introduced, Larry Parker and Mary Frances Galloway were crowned Mr. and Miss Aldine. Then Patti Jones, Editor of the Roundup Staff, presented the yearbook dedication to Mrs. Ruth Jones, math teacher. After this, a highlight of the night's activities came as Rita Phillips, senior, and Kenneth Oswald, junior, were announced to be Most Beautiful and Most Handsome of Aldine for 1966.

Master of Ceremonies for the evening was J. B. Harvell, senior.

Brenda Cherry provided entertainment for Royal Court and the audience as she performs a modern jazz routine.

The audience gives Mrs. Ruth P. Jones, math teacher, a standing ovation as she walks to the stage to accept the yearbook dedication.

Crowning of Mr. and Miss Aldine Highlights Coronation '66

With the crowning of Mr. and Miss Aldine, came the highlight of the evening's activities. After the traditional walk down the aisle, Mary Frances Galloway and Larry Parker ascend up the stairway to take their place among Aldine's royalty. This year, Mr. Floyd Tiggeman, assistant principal, crowned Larry Parker as Mr. Aldine. In turn, Larry then crowned Mary Frances Galloway as Miss Aldine. After being crowned, the King and Queen took their place upon the royal throne. As entertainment, the Choir sang several religious selections; also, individual entertainment was provided by Brenda Cherry, Maria Eaker, Gloria Villareal, Judi Jones, George Varnell, and Danny Clausen. The Coronation came to an end as the royal procession was led from the auditorium by the King and Queen.

Mary Frances Galloway, senior, waits patiently at the doorway before she walks down the aisle to the stage where she will be crowned Miss Aldine.

After being crowned by Mr. Floyd Tiggeman, Mr. Aldine (Larry Parker) crowns Miss Aldine (Mary Frances Galloway) Queen for 1966.

Aldine Vs. South Houston

1st GAME: On January 25, the Mustangs traveled to South Houston where they were defeated by a score of 63-51. South Houston pulled ahead early in the first quarter and maintained a leading margin throughout the game. Aldine wasn't able to cope with the shooting of South Houston, but kept alive with shooting by David Young and Bruce Larson, scoring 17 and 11 points respectively.

2nd GAME: Seeking revenge for an earlier loss, the Mustangs defeated visiting South Houston 67-61. Scoring was close in the first three quarters with neither team having the lead for any time, but during the last quarter, the Mustangs pulled ahead and maintained the lead. Scoring was led by David Young with 22 points. Larry Parker contributed 18 while Milton Prewitt hit for 12.

Girls Train for Business Future

Sharon Burnaman and Dorothy Griffin transcribe using dictaphones to help prepare themselves for the business world.

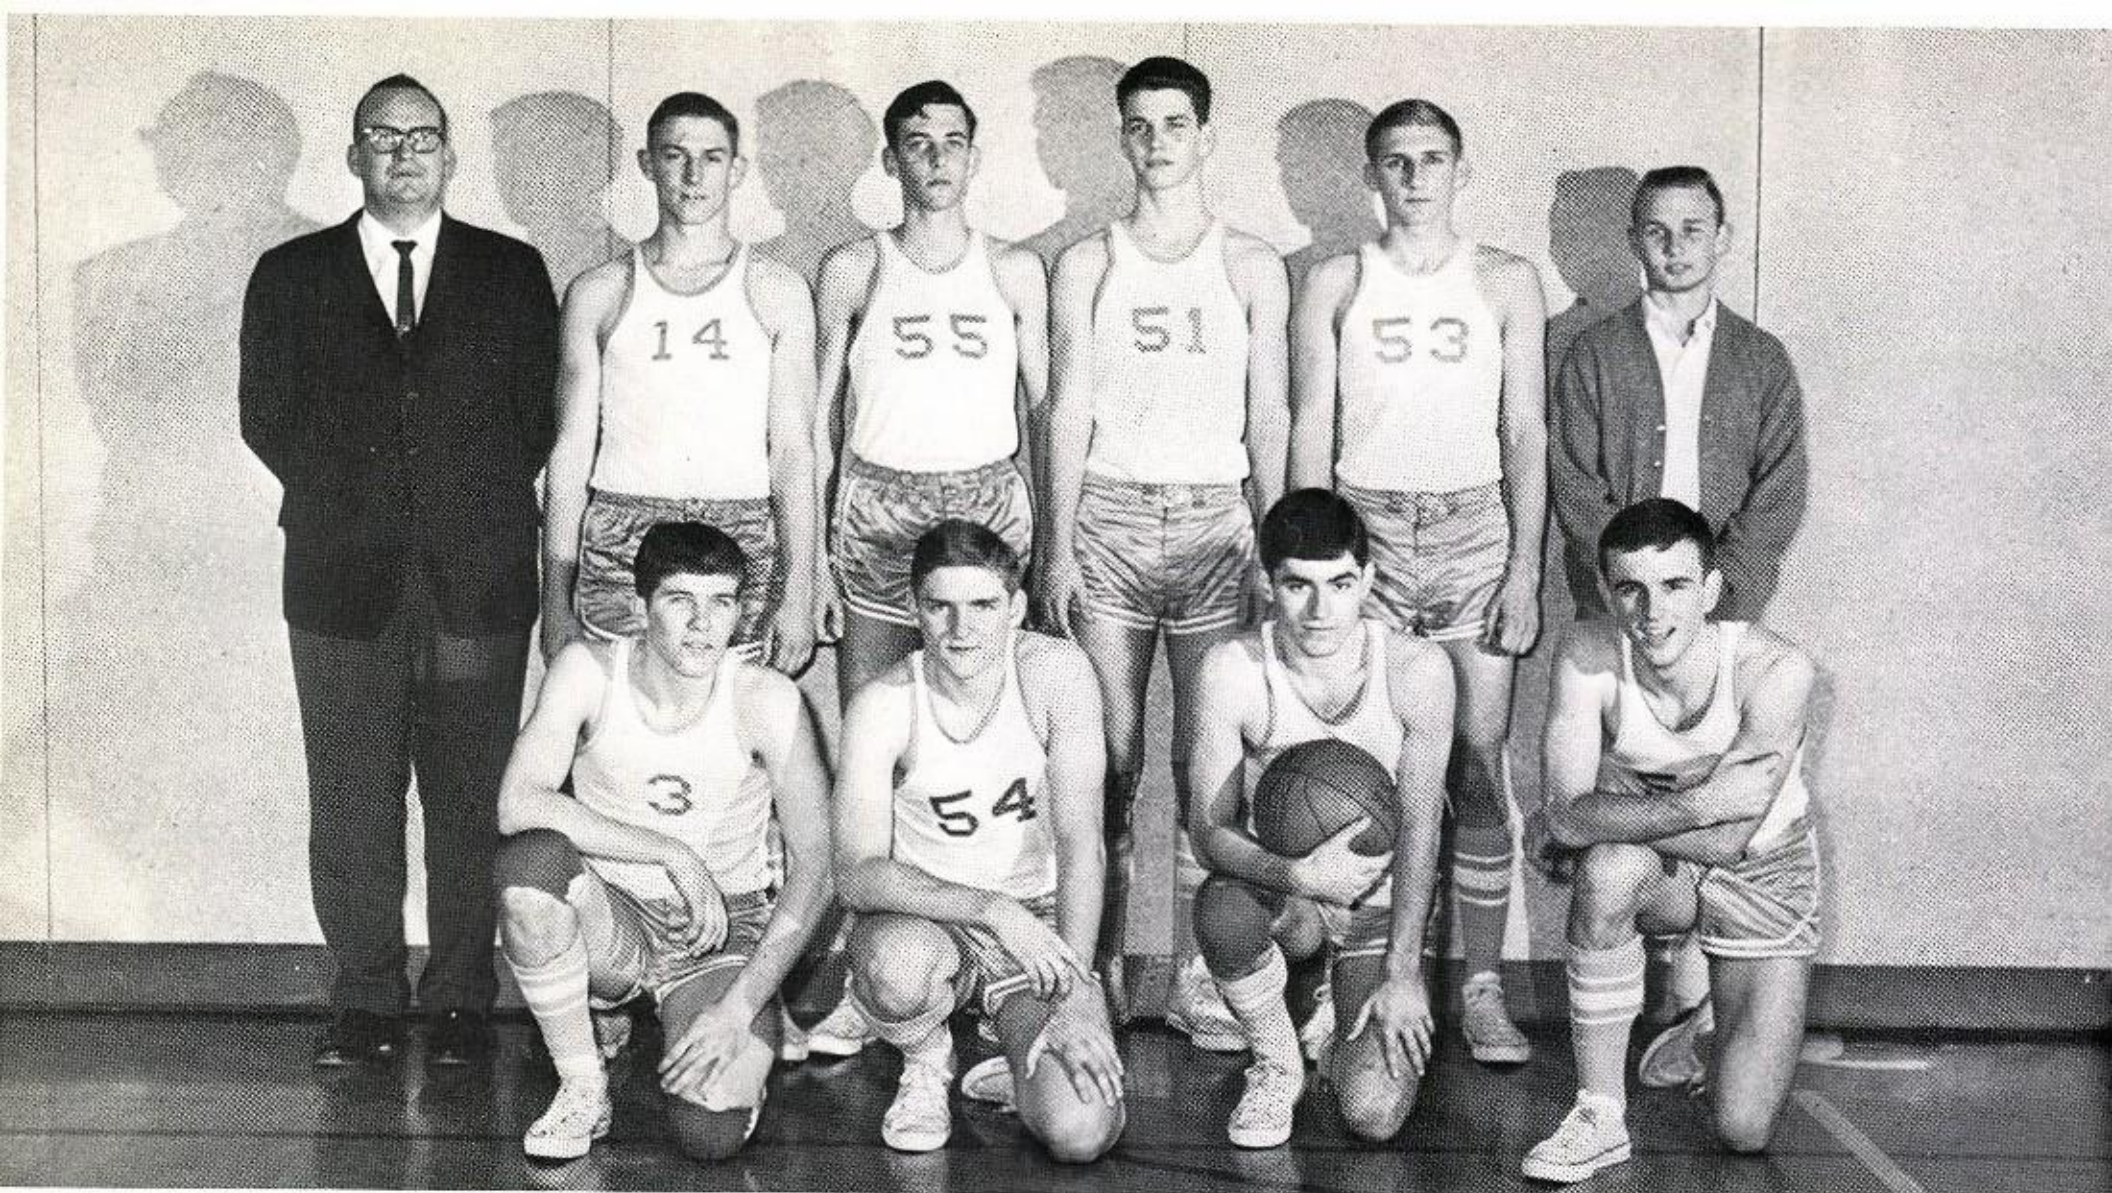

"I believe in the future which I am planning for myself in the area of office occupation . . ." Thus begins a meeting of the Vocational Office Education Club. Organized in Aldine High School for the first time this year, the club seeks to promote democratic principles of private enterprise and competition. The club meetings consist of programs planned to help the members when seeking their future occupations. Members are urged to participate in the discussions. By giving their opinions on various matters, other members may benefit by forming opinions of their own.

The club participates in various projects, one for charity. A club social and banquet also heads the list of activities.

The organization is made up of members of the Business Office Practice classes and is sponsored by Mrs. Barbara Martin, business teacher.

"Let's go big team, let's go," yells Nancy Deaton and Cindy Thomas as they try out for cheerleader.

Posters and Banner

Mrs. Rushing's girls basketball team and Mrs. Strait's team battle for the championship before an all-school assembly.

During the month of March, the halls of Aldine were decorated with posters and banners announcing the candidates for cheerleader. The try-outs were the first step toward elimination. The final run-off was held in which Judi Jones, Cindy Thomas, Nancy Deatin, Cindy Rice, and Gay Chastain were elected cheerleaders for '66-'67.

Election of cheerleaders was not the only activity heading the agenda for March. The girl's P.E. classes were seen battling for the championship. The two teams participating in playoffs were the following: Mrs. Rushing's third period and Mrs. Strait's fourth period. They played before the school with Mrs. Rushing's class winning the title.

The Seniors prepared themselves for graduation by measuring for caps and gowns. Also, all classes enjoyed a holiday for Texas' Independence Day. Therefore, March was filled with a variety of activities which kept the student body busy during the month.

Affiliation With JETS Increases Math & Science Club's Activities

With their affiliation with the national organization, Junior Engineering Technical Society (JETS), the Aldine Math and Science Club greatly increased their activities. The club participates in ISL and UIL contests as before, but they also participate in competitive tests with other schools in the Gulf Coast area, Texas, and the nation.

JETS is an extra-curricula club-type organization for high school students who like mathematics and science and have an interest in exploring their applications in the world about them. The program provides a common meeting ground for the high school student, the high school math and science teacher, and the engineer. JETS stimulates the students' interest in technology and engineering by providing an opportunity to apply the principles learned in high school courses to actual engineering and technical projects.

This year the JETS State Conference was held at Texas A&M University. Twenty members, along with students not in the club but who excelled in math, science and mechanical drawing, attended. George Ingram, president of the Aldine Chapter, received 1st place award in the area of Technical Papers on his paper entitled "The Study of Heat Transfer in Porous Media."

Dean Benson, the Dean of Engineering, at Texas A&M, presents the first place award for technical paper to George Ingram at the state JETS Conference.

JETS Honor and Thank Retiring Math Teacher, Mrs. Ruth Jones

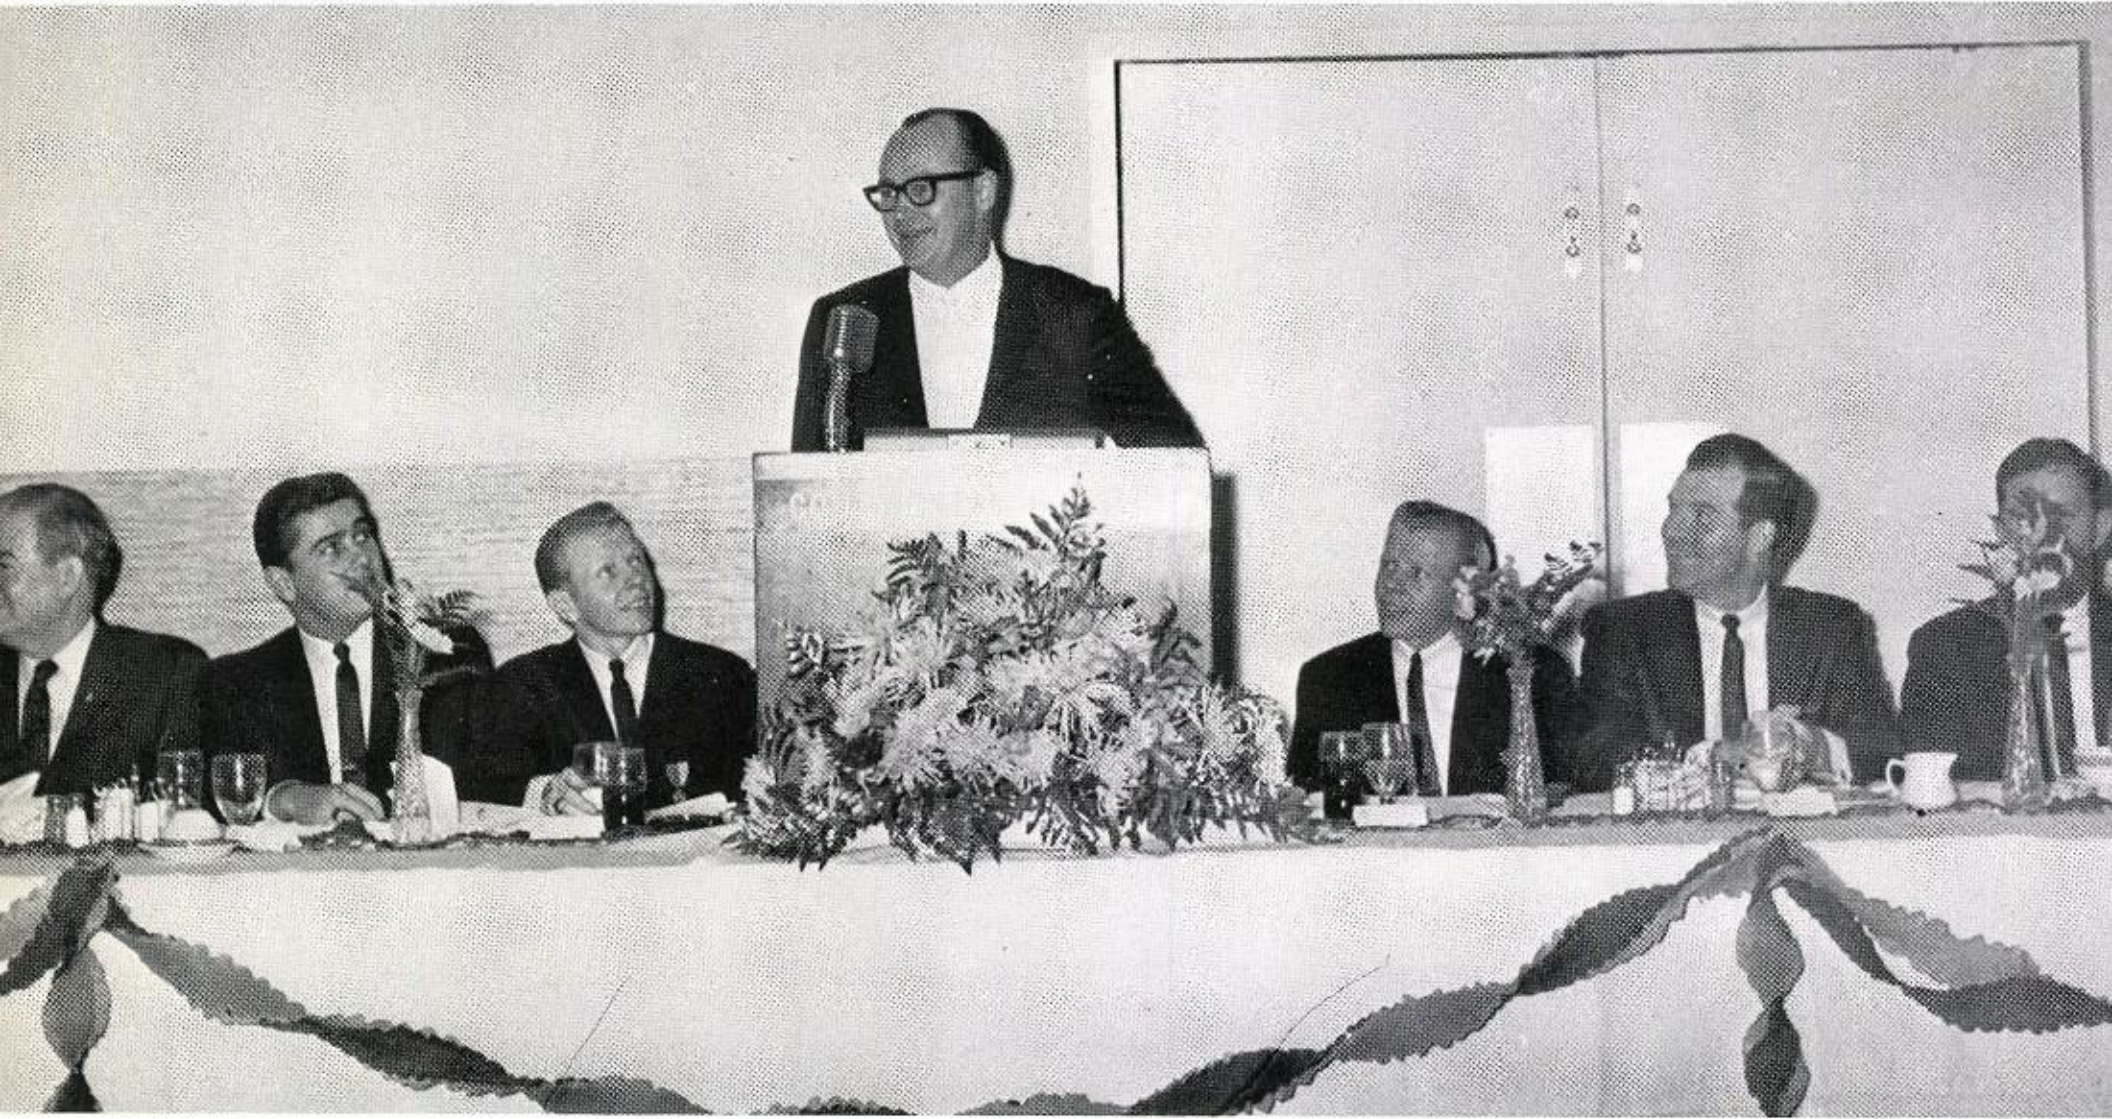

Mrs. Ruth Jones

"Mrs. Ruth Jones, the JETS would like to take this opportunity to thank you. This year you will retire after eleven years of service at Aldine Senior High. You will always be remembered by all of us. You have helped each one of us at one time or another. Your willingness and sincere desire to help any student at any time will be one of your virtues that will stand in our minds."—The JETS

Mrs. Jones was honored by the JETS at a special meeting on Friday, May 27. Jeanne Baxter, secretary of the JETS, presented her with a silver candy bowl and a corsage of yellow rose buds. Cookies, cokes, and punch were served. About twenty-five members of the JETS were present at the surprise party.

Banquet Highlights Year

Mr. Bud Hadfield, executive assistant to the mayor of Houston and guest speaker of the D.E. banquet, gives his opinion of the goals young people have set for themselves.

Donna Wright's employer, Mr. Innis, seems to be questioning the freshness of his dinner roll.

or Distributive Education Club

On March 1, 1966, promptly at 7:30, the D. E. Members met their employers at the Continental Houston Hotel for the annual D.E. banquet. The banquet, held primarily to honor the employers of the D.E. members, was called to order by Arnold Wright. After the meeting was called to order, Rodney Shook gave the invocation. After the invocation, Arnold introduced the members of the head table. After this introduction, each member introduced their own employer. Donald Wright then introduced the special guests and Rodney Shook then introduced the guest speaker, Mr. Bud Hadfield, who spoke on "What Goals Have You Set for Yourself?" This topic concerned the planning of the future, and the importance of setting a goal.

The highlight of the evening came when Brenda Cherry did a modern jazz dance.

In concluding the banquet, Arnold Wright, on behalf of all the D.E. members took the stand to thank Mr. Dunkin for "being such a good teacher throughout the whole year." Thanks also went out to Mrs. Dunkin for her sincere hospitality in having the D.E. students out to their home so many different times for different occasions.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Miksch express their approval of the food served at the banquet.

IS this really MR. DUNKIN, "our dignified" D.E. sponsor?

The entertainment of the evening was provided by junior, Brenda Cherry.

This year the Thespian Club has forty-one members.

Thespians Present Last Play of Year

"THE HERITAGE OF WIMPOLE STREET", was presented to the student body, on March 15. The play is about Elizabeth Barrett Browning after her death and about her embittered father. An interesting feature of the play is that it portrays what might have happened if Edward Barrett had lived to see his grandson. The play takes place about 1856, around five o'clock on a winter evening. The scene is the drawing room at 50 Wimpole Street, London, England.

Clarence Standlee played Edward Wimpole, master of Wimpole Street. His grandson, Robert Barrett Browning was played by Johnny Davis. Brenda Cherry played Henrietta Barrett, Edward Barrett's daughter. Melanie DeMent portrayed Arabel Barrett and her daughter. Sandra Albritton was the maid Jane.

Henrietta Barrett (Brenda Cherry) defies her father about his standing or having men callers, as her sister Arabel (Melanie DeMent) listens.

Robert Barrett Browning (Johnny Davis) listens respectfully as his grandfather Edward Barrett (Clarence Standlee) reprimands him.

Band Festival Concert Highlights Spring

Band members prepare to play a selection by Bach, "Fantasia In G Major", conducted by Mr. Goodman.

Band members rise, as Mr. Goodman enters onto the stage to mark the beginning of the Band Festival Concert.

Each year to welcome the spring season, the Aldine High School band gives a spring concert. This year the band presented three of their contest numbers to the audience and to the clinicians, who were judging the band's performance.

The Pre-Band Festival concert was given on a Friday evening, and then on the following Saturday morning, the Band Festival Concert was given.

One week after the concert, the band was judged, and rated first, by the Interscholastic League, in which twenty schools participated. This league determines the enrollment of different schools and classifies them as B on up to 4A.

When asked the importance and significance of placing first in the League, Mr. Goodman, director of the band, replied, "This is very important. To make first in the League, is higher than above average. It is SUPERIOR, indeed!"

One month after the Band Festival Concert, on April 29 and 30, the Aldine Mustang Band then journeyed to Corpus Christi, Texas to participate in the Buccanneer Music Festival. Participation in this Festival is by invitation only. The Band received a Division I in concert ability. The flute quartet also scored a first division.

Aldine Hosts Jetera Relays

Seven records were broken in the Jetera Relays as Sam Rayburn H.S. took first, Sam Houston second, and third, by Robert E. Lee. Records broken were the following:

- (1) High Jump 6' 11¼"—Tim Schailer of Sam Rayburn.
- (2) Discus 162' 8"—Gerald Kirby of R. E. Lee.
- (3) Broad Jump 22' ½"—Jerry Martin of St. Thomas.
- (4) Pole Vault 14' 9"—Dickie Phillips of North Shore.
- (5) 880 Yard Run 1:56.4—Doug Varga of Sam Rayburn.
- (6) Mile Run 4:25.9—Leonard Hilton of Austin.
- (7) Mile Relay 3:23.1—Laurence Owens, Robin Lowe, Wilburn Johnson, John Carey of Sam Houston.

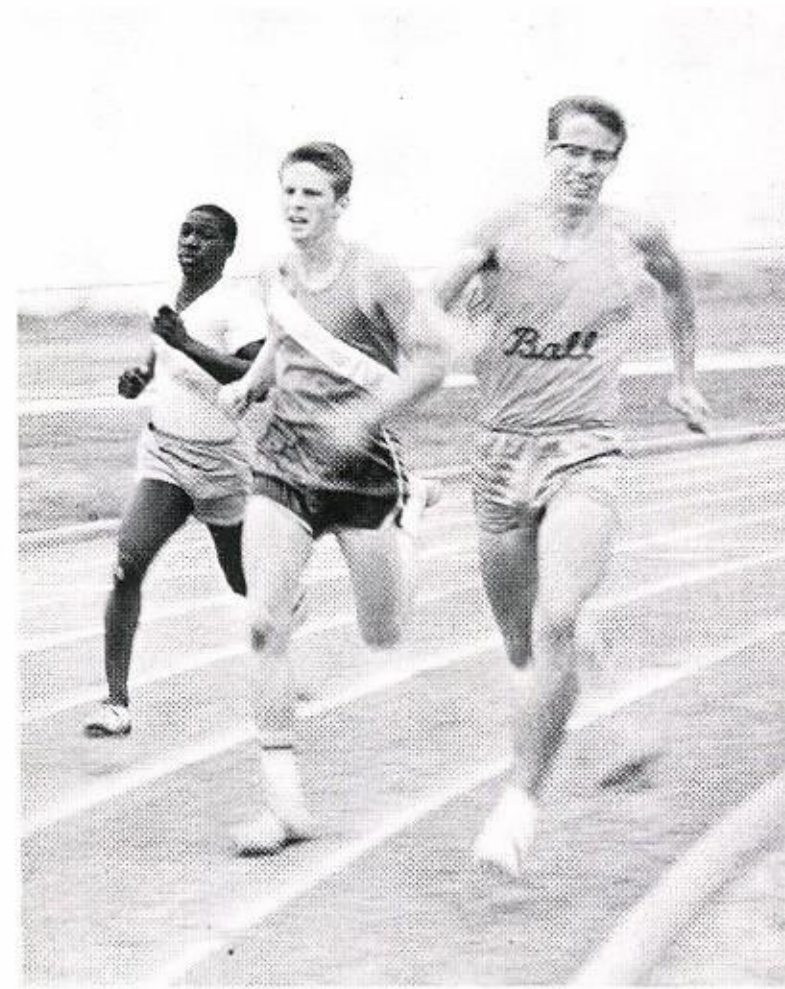

Aldine won places in three events. Butch Daniels placed third in pole vaulting, and William Bellinger second in the mile run. The 880 yard relay composed of Jess Bergeron, Mike Reynolds, Bruce Aldridge, and George Millen placed fourth.

Jeff Bergeron relaxes for the start of the 440 yard relay.

As auctioneer Charlie Harris calls the bids, Kenneth Oswald prompts his steer for bidders.

Norman Roberts and Charles Kebodeaux listen to the bids for Norman's hog at the auction.

uture Farmers of America

March 31 through April 2 were busy days for the Aldine Future Farmers of America Chapter. The annual Project Show climaxed a year of raising and caring for livestock of many varieties.

This year's events included a new event, Western Pleasure. This event gave F.F.A. members an opportunity to compete with their horsemanship skills. Norman Roberts took this new event.

Following the traditional Barbecue, on April 1, the F.F.A. Project Show Auction started with Charlie Harris as auctioneer. The sale of member's livestock by auction is held to help offset the cost of raising some of the animals for the show. Each member with a fat animal entry—steer, barrow, fryer, rabbit, lamb, or broiler—obtained a commitment from a sponsor for the first bid, thus the assurance of a buyer.

Competition is not urged only in fields of their projects. Trophies were given to the exhibitor who kept the cleanest stall or pen, to the best dairy entry, and to the student who showed his steer the best. The sportsmanship trophy was awarded to the boy who groomed and exhibited his animal the best.

Building Trades Club Work

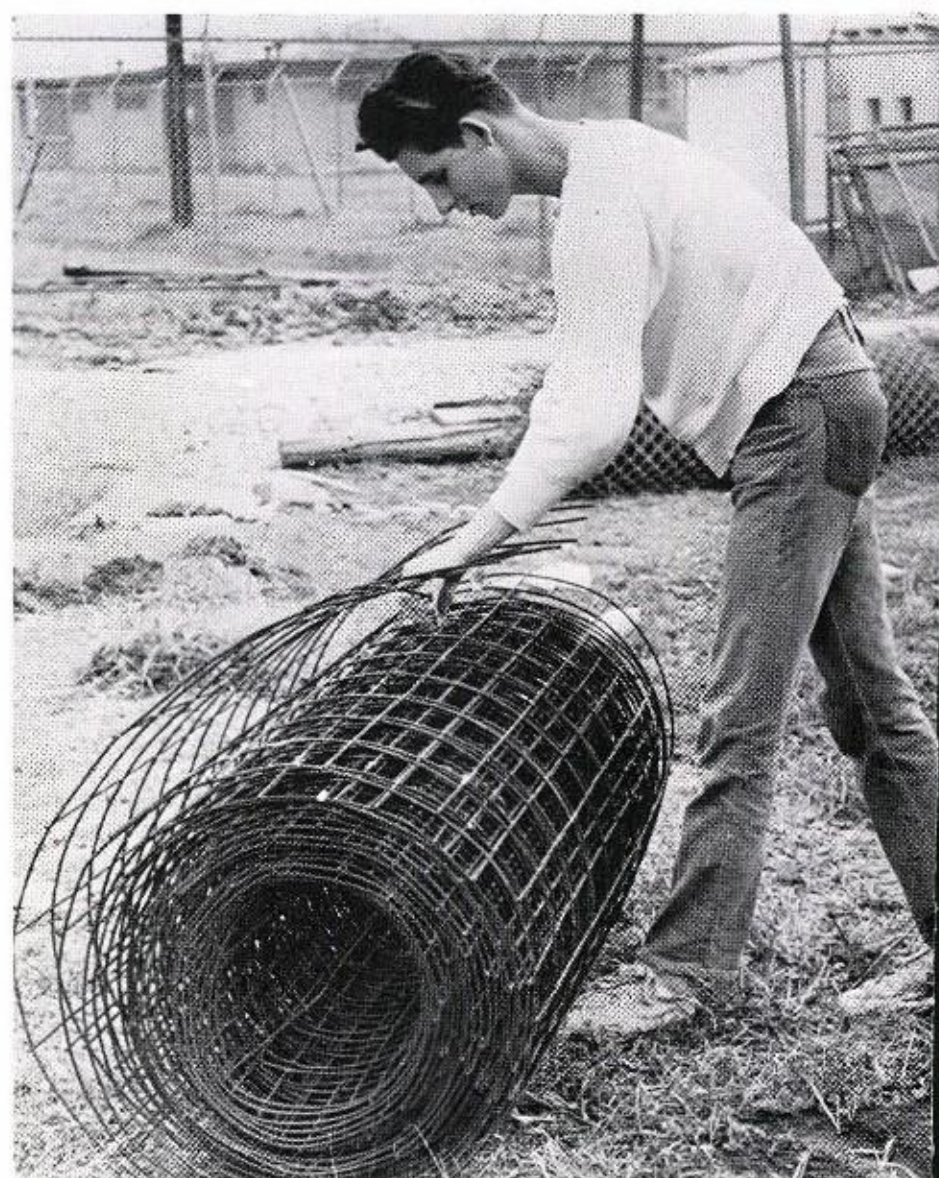

Jerrell Lawson, Jimmy Upchruch, Gary Hodges, Charles Zibiliske and Carlos Taylor, all prepare to start the first procedure of the building, laying the foundation.

Pounding hammers, the sound of skill saws, and the smell of fresh paint are all signs which informs one that he is approaching the Building Trades Club area of Aldine Senior High School. When asked the purpose of this club, Mr. George Schiro, sponsor, stated that, "The purpose of this club is to teach young boys leadership and also, to develop good citizenship in a democratic way."

This club is designated to prepare high school youths for employment in several different industrial trades or occupations of the community, and by providing training in the basic skills and technical knowledge of the trade through shop and laboratory experiences.

During the nine months of the school year, the boys learn the basic skills and requirements for the construction of modern buildings of the future and present. This knowledge is broadened during their training by working on projects at school and in various parts of the community.

This year the twenty-six boys that compose this club worked on a spring project, which started in the middle of March and extended throughout the school year. Their project was a storage building for discarded goods from all the schools in the Aldine district. This building was constructed on the back campus of Aldine Junior High School.

One of the first steps in laying a foundation is the cutting of wire mesh, such as Charles Calvert is doing.

Spring Music Festival

Juniors select and pay deposit on senior rings.

With the month of April came many showers and preparations for the Junior-Senior Prom, April 21 at Sylvan Beach. Although the weather was far from perfect, it was one of the best attended proms Aldine has ever held. Amid moonlight and roses, couples danced to music of the Phil Gray Orchestra and the Chancellors Unlimited.

Also in the month of April came the annual event of ordering rings. Seniors of '67 chose and paid a deposit on Senior rings after closely examining the ones available to choose from. Seniors of '66 received graduation invitations later in the month.

New Student Council officers were elected on April 27 after two weeks of campaigning by candidates. Officers elected were Bill Hamilton, president; Walter Truett, vice-president; Mary Jane Ando, recording secretary; Donna Stevenson, corresponding secretary; Pat Bosko, treasurer; Marlene Kent, reporter; and J. D. Davis, parliamentarian.

Included in the month's activities were a golf and tennis tournament, a track meet, the one-act play contest, a choir clinic, and the Spring Music Festival. So with the close of April came the end of many annual events.

or "Roundup" Staff

With the first days of spring came flowers, sunshine, and a party for the "Roundup" staff. Yes, on April 2, staff members and their guests gathered at a picnic area provided by sponsor, Mr. W. G. Wilson to have an old-fashioned wiener roast. As the guests arrived, they were all sent toward the trees to collect wood for the fire. After gathering logs and branches, the tired guests sat down to rest, as the "fearless leader", Mr. W. G. Wilson, began preparing the food on the table. When through eating, everyone sat around the campfire and talked of old times and the '66 Roundup. Then, as the fire grew dimmer, the guests thanked their host for an enjoyable evening, and quietly left homeward bound.

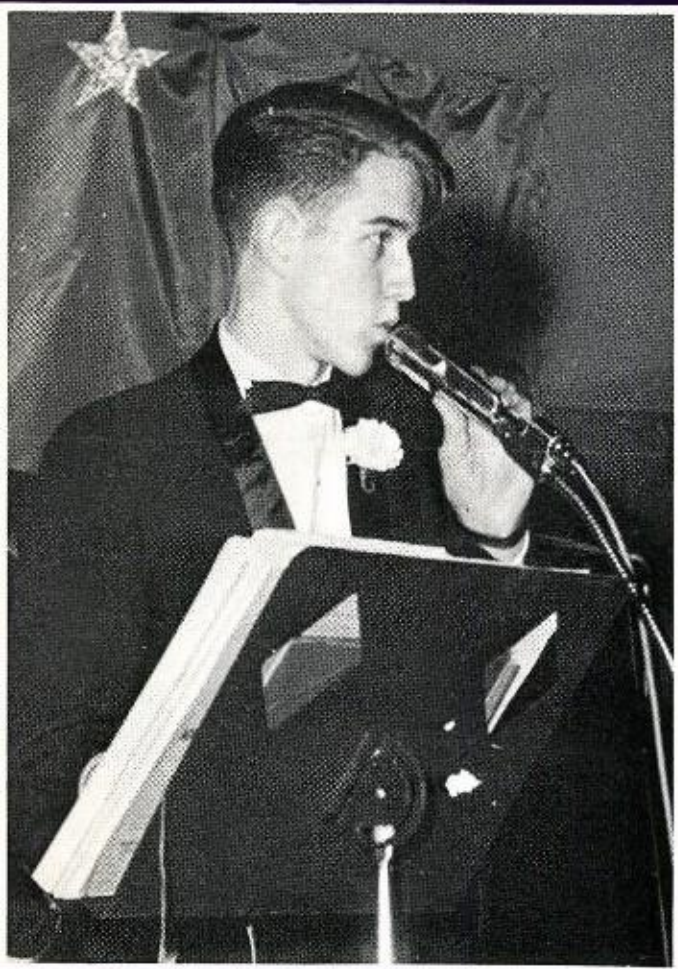

"That's really funny," exclaims Sylvia Seawright and Mary Frances Galloway as they laugh at Gary Greer's 'corny' joke.

Are these pioneers of the west? No, it's just Gary Greer, Linda King, and Mary Frances Galloway, as they carry logs and branches from the woods.

The night of April 21, proved to be an exciting evening as the Junior Class presented "In The Misty Moonlight" for the Senior class and their dates and for the Junior class and their dates. This year, the Prom was held at the Sylvan Beach Ballroom. The theme was carried out well since the guests were able to look out over the ocean. Also, silver colored stars and moon-shaped ornaments were used as decorations. Music for the dance was provided by a rock 'n' roll band and a dance orchestra. As the dance grew to a close at 12:00 P.M., many of the guests were seen at Jimmy Walker's Restaurant or to parties which were being held on the beach.

Some of the chaperons of the dance preferred watching the students to dancing.

Library Club Aids Student Body

The officers of the Library Club are as follows according to the office: President, Peggy Lindsey, Vice-President, Kaye Lenze, Secretary, Sandra White, Treasurer, Linda Harvel, Parliamentarian, Shirley Schlag, and Reporter, Ray Graham.

Being a club that serves the student body in many ways, the library club has successfully achieved the respect of the student body of Aldine High. There are thirty-six members in the library Club that serve diligently throughout the year. Some of the duties of the library members are: to keep the books in order and to help any student who has difficulties in searching for material.

Library assistants must meet certain qualifications before obtaining membership in the club. They must be taking library at the time requesting for membership. They must be passing all subjects, and maintaining a passing average throughout their membership in the club. They also, must work before or after school in the library upon request.

The Library assistants are as follows: (SEATED) Ray Graham, Linda Harvel, Kaye Lenze, Peggy Lindsey, Sandra White, Shirley Schlag. (FIRST ROW) Mrs. Anna Castle, sponsor, Nancy Rhode, Kathy Sampsel, Judy Spillman, Janice Studer, Hermila Garza, Jo Ann Lewis, Elizabeth Schiege, Wendy Propes, Margie Miller, Nella Burch. Campaign Speeches Given for Student Council Offices

Judy Pierce, campaign manager for Janet Roan, explains the duties of being a Student Council Officer.

Campaign speeches are the basis for the election of the Student Council officers each year. These speeches are presented in a school wide assembly by the student running for the office and his campaign manager. These speeches must be well organized and be within a certain time limit.

Since the Student Council is the backbone of the school its officers must be well-chosen. The purpose of the campaign speeches are to bring out the student's qualifications, which are very hard to meet, and to state his aggressiveness and determination to work. Not only do the speeches portray the qualities of the student, but they also state his intentions of administration in the Student Council.

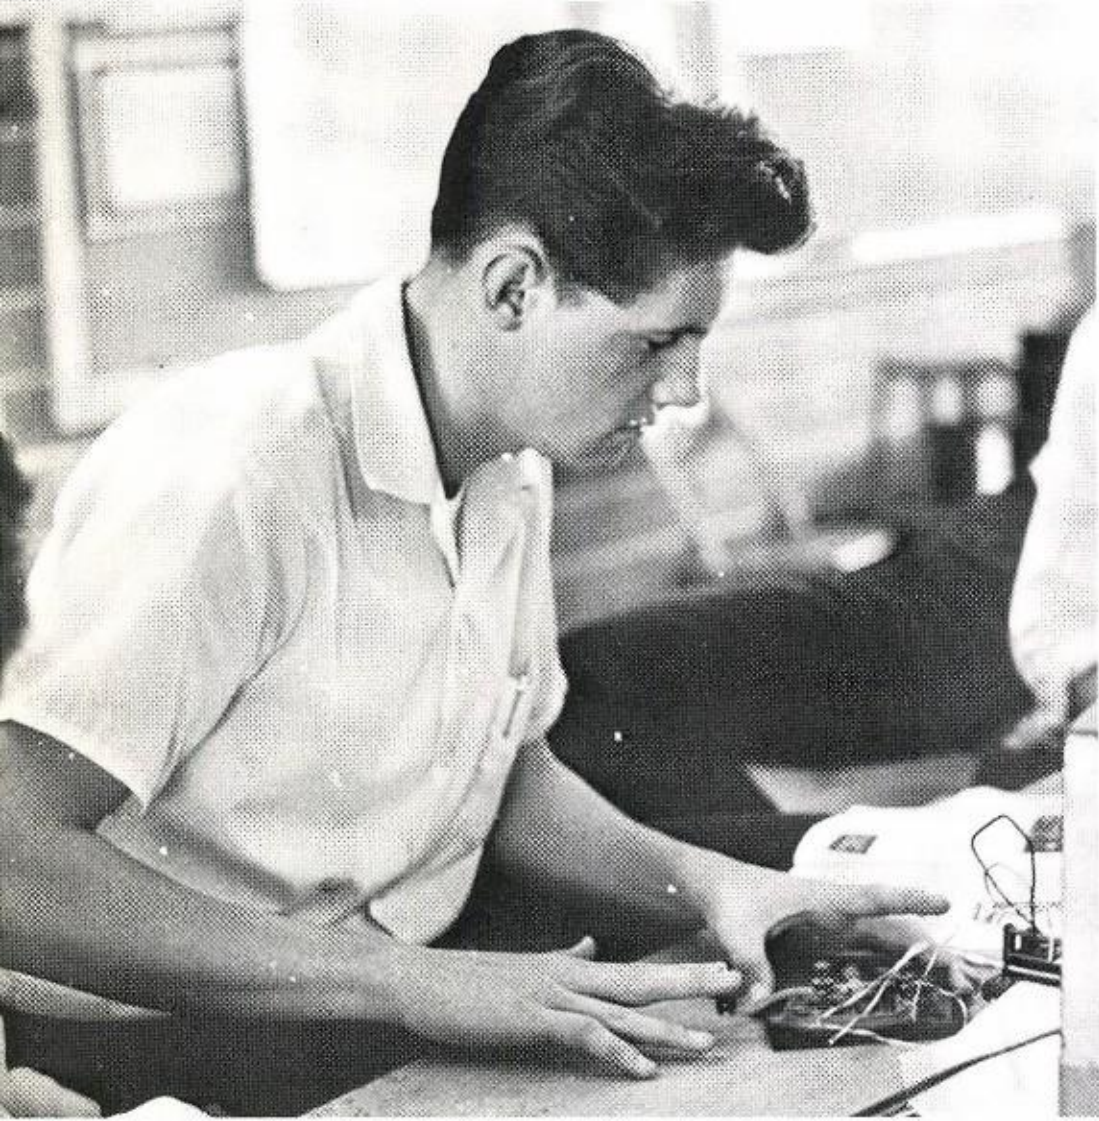

Linda King gives a brief summary of the qualifications of Jerry Wells, candidate for vice president of the Student Council.

Danny Claussen, candidate for president of the Student Council explains briefly his plans for next year's Council if elected to the office.

Learning of electronics to prepare the members for a future in radio-electronics, the Radio-Electronics Club is designed to provide the students with a way to express their electrical ability. Each student learns responsibility as he is entrusted with expensive equipment; leadership, with proper guidance, is stressed and developed through inter-school competition; and their knowledge and interest in radio-electronics is broadened.

Mr. Marion T. Hill, sponsor, explains that he tries to help his students develop an ability to get along with people. "This is necessary for anyone to get along in life and I want these boys to know it." As a part of their course of study, each boy is given the book, How To Win Friends and Influence People, to study.

But all work and no play hardly describes the club. They have several parties throughout the year. They went to Galveston and Huntsville, and had some parties at Mr. Hill's home.

Billy Sheffield calls out a play during spring training to tackles. Jeff Draper, Don Raymond, and Sidney Seawright.

For the students of Aldine High School, May brought the end of school activities and the beginning of summer activities. Seniors were busy preparing for graduation and college. On slave day they bought sophomore and juniors as slaves to carry books and do many other tasks. Then on May 27, they received their caps and gowns for cap day. The seniors held Baccalaureate Services with the Reverend H. A. McNair as guest speaker. The last few days of May were filled with preparation for semester tests. For Seniors it was their last semester tests in high school. After semester tests, school closed. Then the Seniors had graduation exercises in the stadium to end the 1965-66 school year at Aldine.

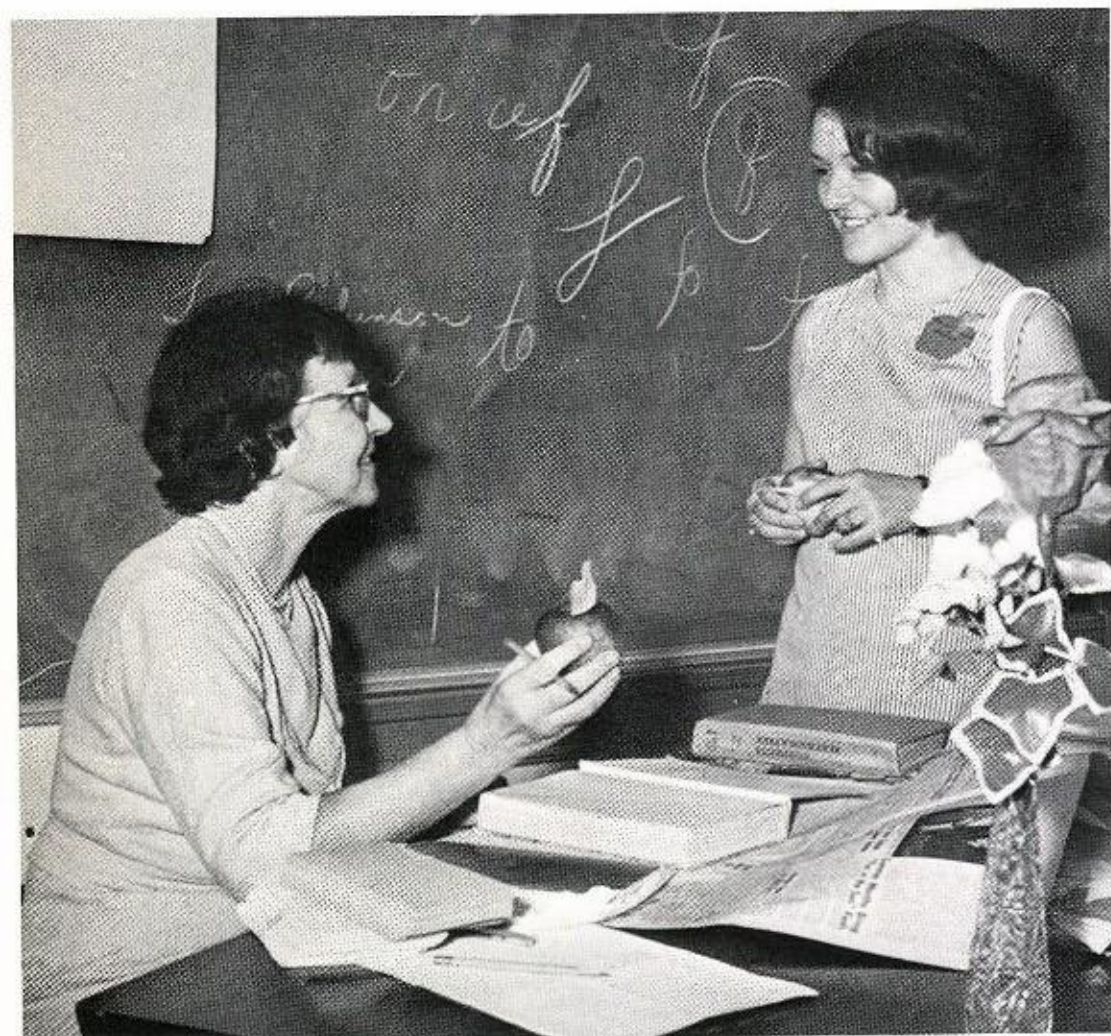

During May, the chemistry students mixed many chemicals which perfumed the halls!

F.T.A. Ends Year With Teacher Appreciation Week

"An Apple For The Teacher" was the theme of Teacher Appreciation Week, sponsored by the Aldine Chapter of the Future Teachers. April was Teaching Careers Month, and by coincidence, the last week was National Teacher Appreciation Week. The club sponsored many activities honoring the faculty. Teachers were served cookies and cake in the lounge. The first day, a sheet cake with a large red apple, in connection with the theme, and the words "Teacher Appreciation Week—sponsored by FTA" was served in the Teacher's Lounge. An announcement was made each day honoring teachers and the teaching profession. On Wednesday, members presented each teacher with an apple. A verse and the teacher's name had been tagged on each apple.

There were student committees for each day of the week. These committees saw to the refreshments in the Teacher's Lounge. There were also committees for announcements, purchasing apples, tagging apples, and presenting the apples. Mrs. Mitchmore, sponsor, said, "It has been a very successful project. The members have enjoyed it as much as the teachers. I hope we will continue this each year."

F.T.A. member, Peggy Parker, presents an apple to Mrs. Hibbitts during Teacher Appreciation Week.

Mrs. Daniels congratulates and talks of future plans with Cindy Milstead, recipient of the Aldine Teacher's Association Scholarship.

International Fashions Go Abroad

Getting ready for summer fun, Linda Christoph models her presentation at the International Style Show.

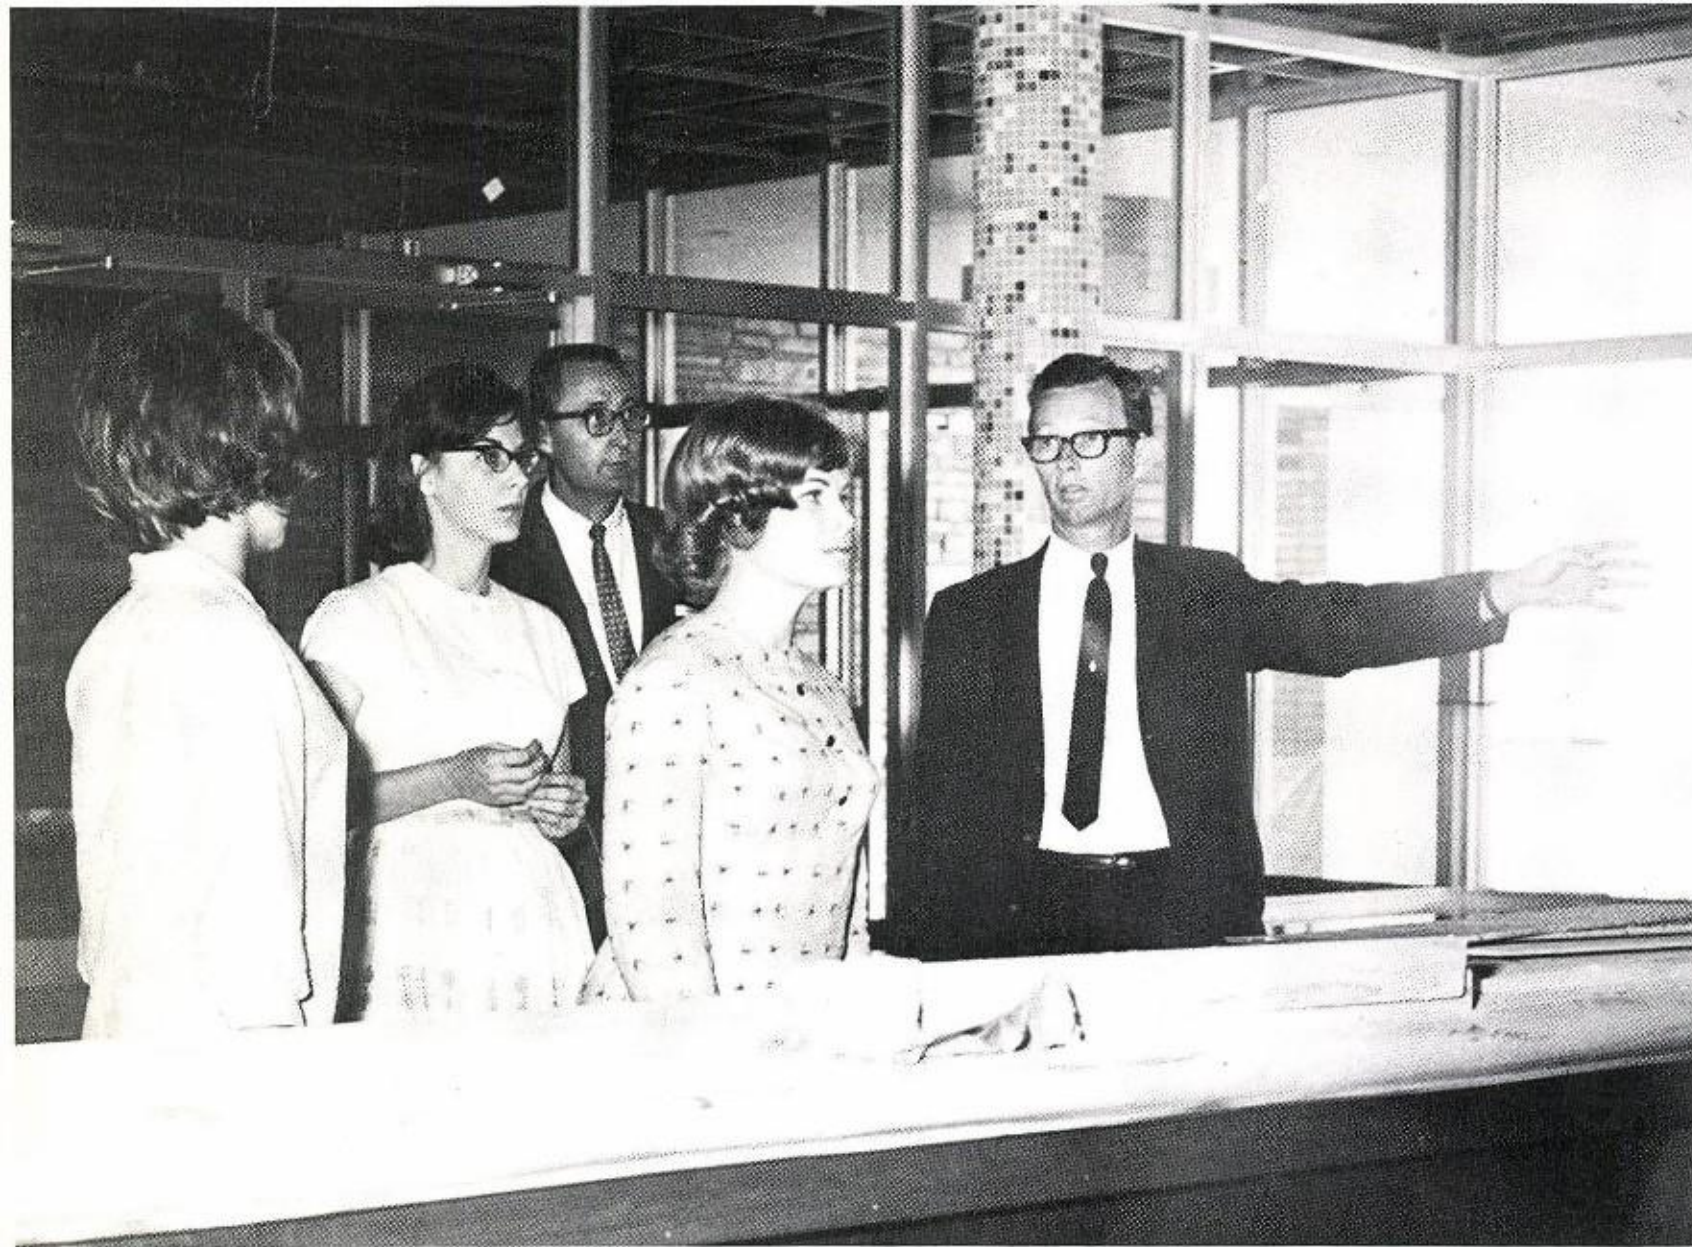

Going very "chic" Judy Duncan models one of her own creations.

Fashions went abroad when the F.H.A. girls presented an "International Style Show" in the auditorium on May 10. Each girl that participated modeled apparel ranging from formals to bathing suits. Describing each ensemble, Miss Ford, a student teacher, did a very thorough job. In preparing for the style show, a lot of hard work was put into the preparations of decorating and practicing to make this the best show yet. To highlight the event several girls modeled their formals.

Sandra Nance and Brenda Bowen show exciting fashions which go abroad.

The staff members also visited with the school board. They discussed the future plans of the school system and viewed art work on display at the administration office.

By visiting with the members, the staff has become better acquainted with the school system.

Slave, Debbie Lowery feeds slave owner, Bill Spivey, while slave James Hubbard shines his master's shoes.

Slave, Hope Capre, obediently carries her mistress, Mary Jane Buske's, books to class.

It seemed as if the ante-bellum days of the south had returned as the students of AHS participated in the second annual Slave Day. The Seniors were dressed as southern belles and plantation owners as they played the roll of the "rich Southerner". However, the Juniors and Sophomores were not as lucky, for dressed as slaves, they were obligated to carry books, shine shoes, shine senior rings, and purchase lunches for their masters. This year, the price of the slaves rose from fifteen cents to one dollar. As the school day closed, the weary slaves happily went home to rest for Monday's normal school day.

travels to Dallas

As the year draws to a close, the Roundup staff takes time from their many duties to go on a trip to Dallas. On this trip, the staffers were given a tour through the Taylor Publishing Company. On this tour through the publishing company, the staff members and guests were able to view how the yearbooks were published. Also, they were able to examine yearbooks from all over the United States. After the tour, the staff was served dinner furnished by the company. Having had dinner, the staff happily went on their pleasure trip to Six Flags. At Six Flags the staff rode such rides as LaSalle's Expedition, the Train, The Log Ride, and the Astrolift. Exhausted, the weary staff members prepared for the trip home.

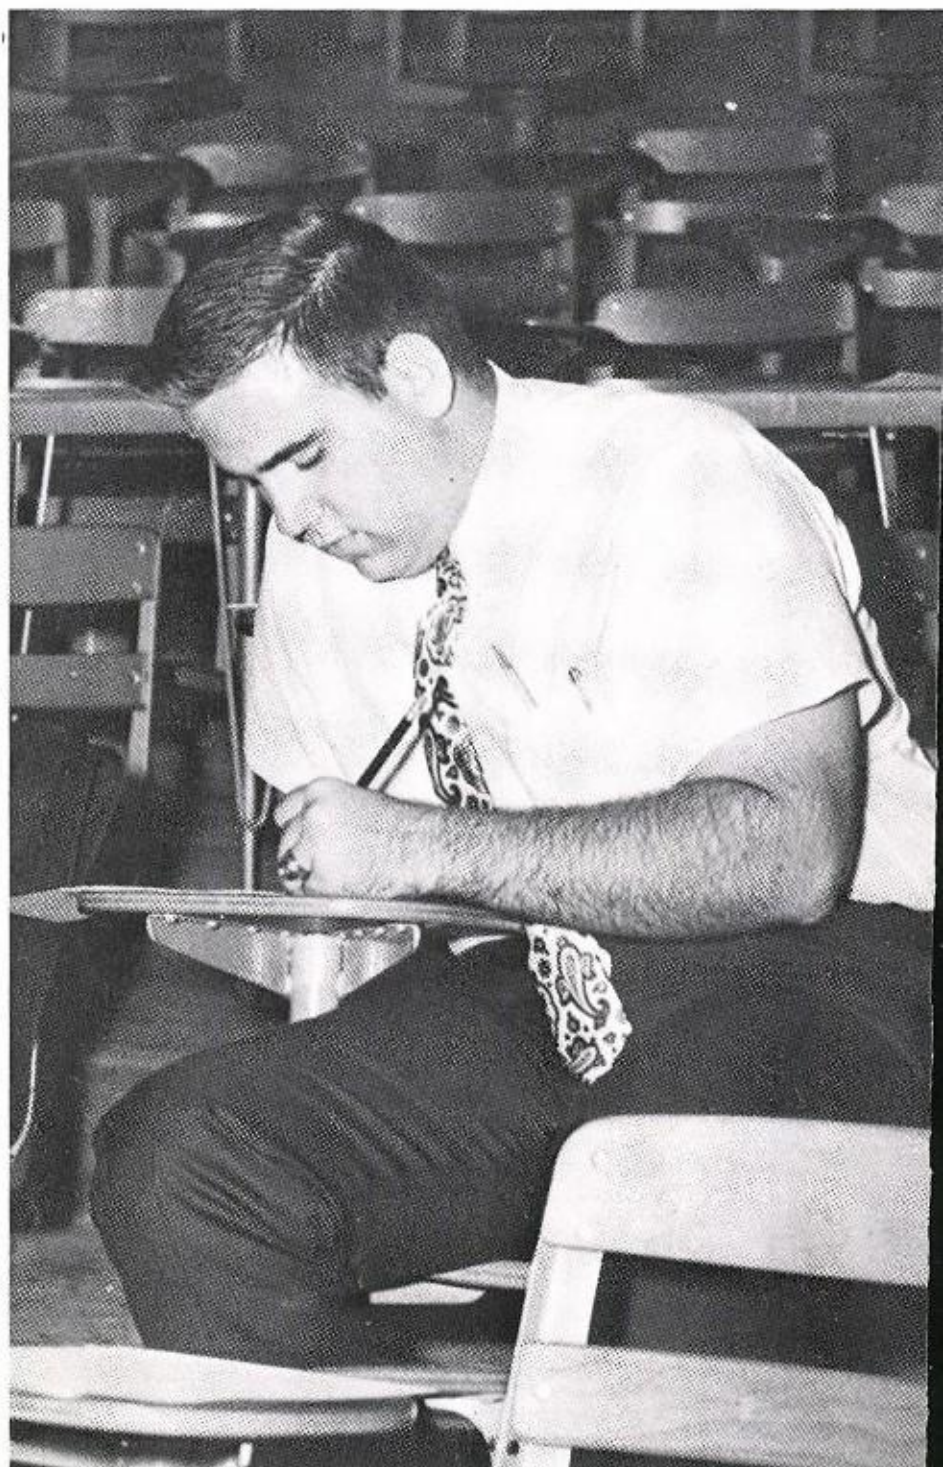

"Well, here we go!" exclaims Linda Nash as she grips the tub while riding through the Wonder Cave at Six Flags.

Awards Received at Vaquera Banquet

Receiving their awards for contributing their time and effort these Vaqueras await their awards.

Next year's officers are enjoying a friendly chat about the duties.

Throughout the year the Vaqueras led much of the school spirit at the pep rallies and at the games and spent a lot of time, effort, and patience in trying to make the spirit of AHS one of the best. Towards the closing of the year, on May 14, at their annual banquet, each Vaquera was rewarded for the work she put into this organization.

At the banquet the officers for next year were announced. The Vaquera sponsor, Mrs. Bondurant, presented the various awards given out.

For Lora Lauderdale's great contribution and enthusiasm to the Vaqueras Mr. Miksch awarded her the "Outstanding Vaquera" award.

The D.E. Club is an organization which teaches the student to be able to get along with other people in the business world and to be able to take on the responsibilities of holding a job. By joining D.E. one learns how to cope with the problems of the outside world. Through D.E. each student is found a job. In this way the student practices every fundamental taught in D.E.

During the year the D.E. students have several parties in which they get together and get better acquainted. To close the yearly D.E. activities each member and his employer attend a banquet held in their honor.

Cosmetology Girls Prepare for

At the District Meet Linda Taylor represents the Aldine Chapter.

Every year the Cosmetology Club enters many contests such as the District Meet. In participating the Cosmetology girls took part in various speed skills, notebook contests, parliamentary procedures, business procedures, photo panels, and ceremony conduction contests. In preparing for this meet the girls work hard practicing such things as trying new hairstyles, getting the scrapbook up to date, and preparing the notebook for judging. Each year the Aldine Chapter comes home with many ribbons which they won by competing with other schools. The purpose of having these meets is so that the girls will have a chance to practice and prove all the fundamentals taught to them during the year.

Preparing for the District Meet Rita Phillips finds something very amusing.

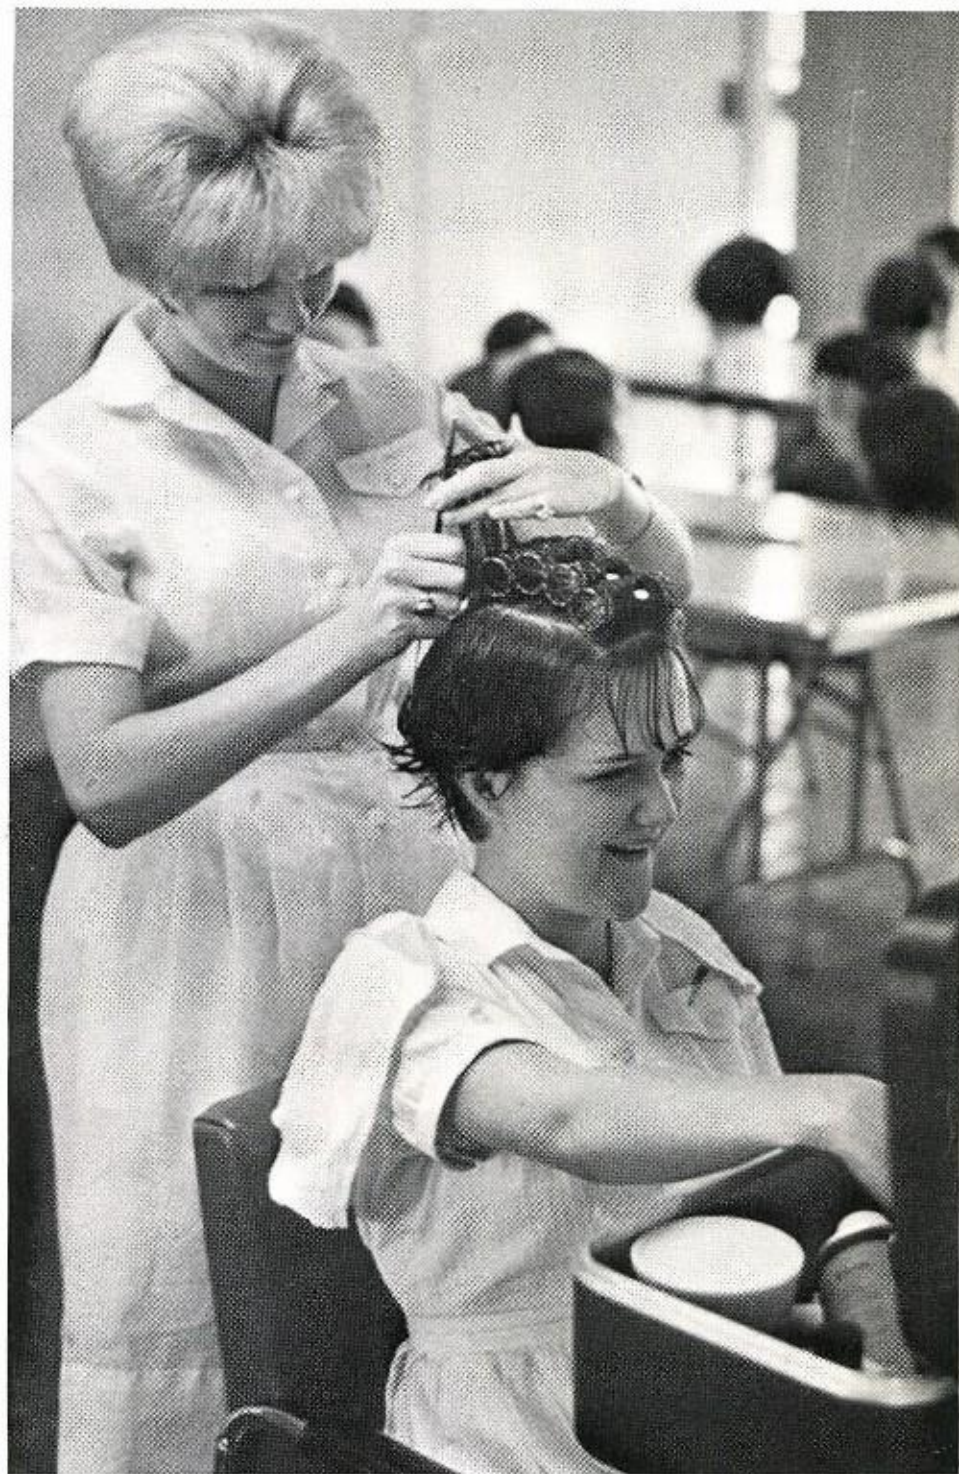

Preparing the scrapbook for the final show Diane Garrett and Brenda McMannes arrange some pictures into their correct places.

The Vocational Club of Texas is composed of local chapters established in public schools offering vocational industrial education. One such organization is the Cosmetology Club. The girls enrolled in this course constitute its active membership. The advisor of this club is Mrs. Jackowski. Every student enrolled in a regular vocational day trade shop class is eligible for active membership.

The Cosmetology chapter meets both during school and after school hours. These meetings give the girls a chance to take part in educational, social, recreational and vocational activities. The greatest benefits to the girls come from the activities of the local chapter. These activities develop leadership and fellowship, self-confidence, personality and poise. The activities also help members become productive citizens by teaching them the proper attitudes and building their character.

The dues for Cosmetology are $2.25 per year. There are 41 active members in this organization.

Mary Jane Buske, president, awards Kathy Bynam her Future Nurse's pin at the last meeting of the club.

Being one of the many clubs in Aldine trying to encourage students into a particular field of work, the Future Nurses Club promotes girls to further their interest in nursing and the activities surrounding the atmosphere of nursing. Being a Candy Stripper and a Nurse's Aid are the main objectives in the club; since the members are giving their time to help in hospitals and clinics throughout Houston. They receive credit toward their club pin for this outside work. In order to be awarded a Future Nurses pin one must attend all meetings, do outside work, serve on committees, and help or work outside of school. These qualifications for the club pin are quite thorough and complete. This has been the third successful year for the Nurses Club in Aldine.

'66 Marks First Year for Air Conditioning Club

"The Air Conditioning and Refrigeration Club is a very good organization. It gives the boys a willingness to learn, and also provides them with competition between schools. Since this is the organization's first year at Aldine, it needs some improvement, just as all new organizations do." This was the statement given by G. K. Pennington, president of the Club. The twenty-five boys which compose this club find themselves involved in "meets" during the school year, which are held in competition with other schools, and which allow these boys to show their skill and knowledge in the course.

According to Mr. Jack, sponsor of the club, "The purpose of this club is to give the student of a vocational class something to show for his effort put into the class." The club officers rule over the meetings and convey the will of the members to the district and state officers.

On May 20, the Seniors of Aldine participated in their last class social. This year the seniors were given a buffet supper. The food at the banquet included roast beef; fish; green beans; green salad; tea; rolls; and apple pie for desert. Judy Mars provided entertainment for the guests. The seniors were given a small glimpse into the future with the reading of the Senior Prophecies by Judy Pierce and Johnny Davis. After the prophecies were read, the dance began; by eleven o'clock the weary seniors left with the memories of their last school sponsored social.

Baseball had its ups and downs this year. The season started on a wobbly note as the Mustangs tied their first non-district game with Sam Houston by a score of 7-7. The Mustangs broke into the victory column against Cypress Fairbanks with a 4-0 shutout pitched by Colon Brown. The Mustangs did fairly well in Non-district play compiling a record of 4 wins, 2 losses, and 1 tie. In district play there were few bright spots as the Mustangs compiled a record of 3-9 against their district rivals. One of the bright spots was the pitching of Mike Edwards. Though his district record was only 3-4 he pitched superbly in five of the games by allowing only six runs while winning three. The most memorable night for the varsity came against Spring Branch at their park. Heading 2-1 behind the pitching of Colin Brown, Spring Branch came to life in the seventh as they tied the score on a triple by Don Wigginton. Mike Edwards came in to stop the rally and for the next six innings both teams were on edge as neither could cash in on breaks. Finally in the 13th inning, Gary Frieling hit a hard grounder up the middle to score Walter Truett, and Mike Edwards blanked out the Bears half of the inning to make the score stand Aldine 3—Spring Branch 2.

Fred Taylor anxiously awaits a throw from the pitcher.

Aldine's Junior Varsity ended on top with a winning season. Out of thirteen games they won three out of nine Jr. Varsity games and three out of four Varsity games played. Out of all the teams in the district, Aldine ended up in first place.

"The Junior Varsity was made up of a dependable and well trained group of boys," stated Junior Varsity coach Bob Brezina. The Junior Varsity had Gary Elliot, leading batter, with Bobby Hatler, Bert Vanden, and Eugene Cook leading the pitching.

Sophomores Lead Students With All A's

Making all A's all the year is a difficult task to perform. However, Charlotte Baker has accomplished it. Besides studying Charlotte plays volleyball and will attend the F.H.A. Workshop. She plans to attend Stephen F. Austin College and become a teacher.

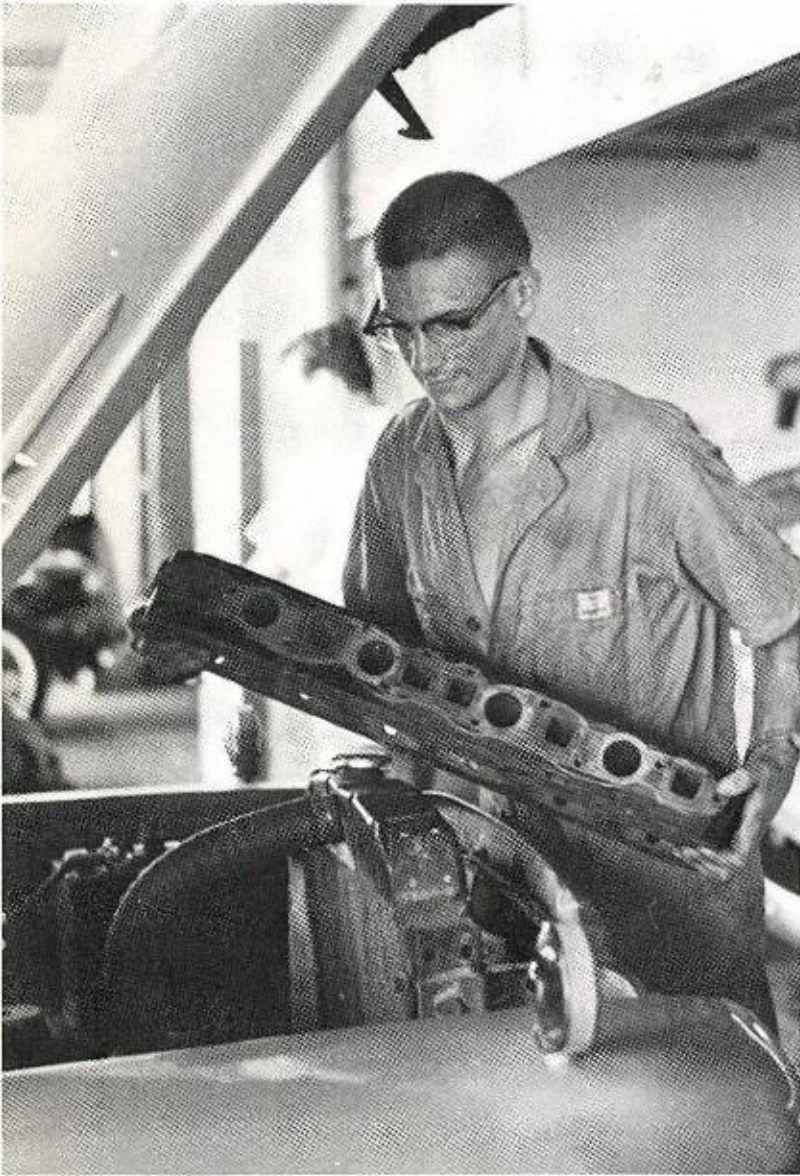

Also making all A's for the year was Emily Okabayashi. Emily enjoys horseback riding and tennis and is a member of the AHS Band. Emily would like to become an executive secretary.

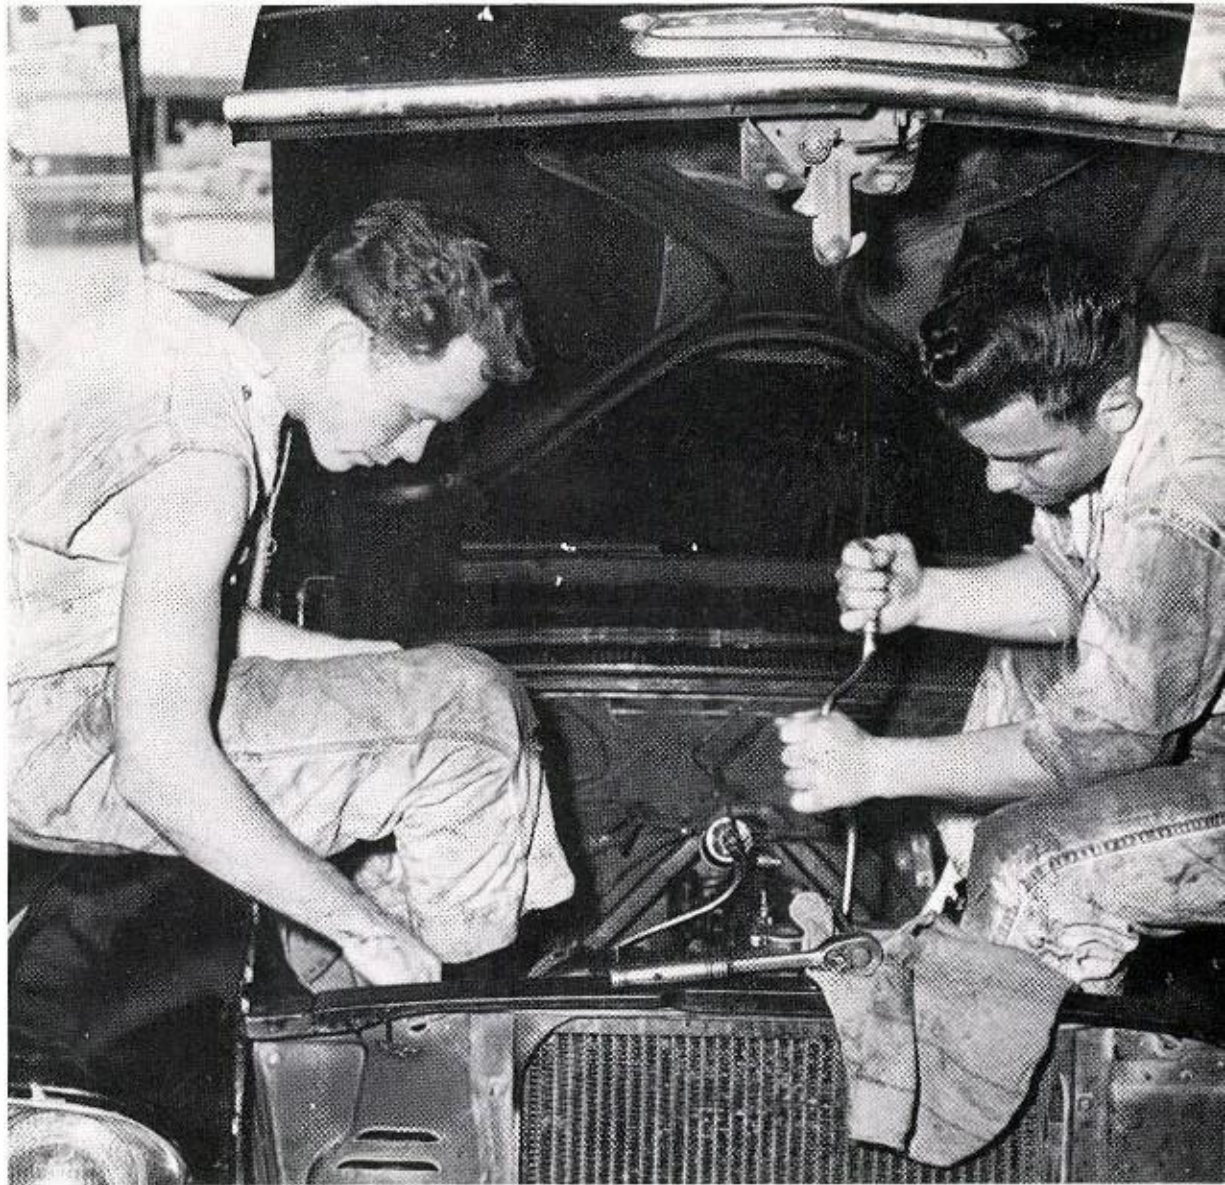

Those students making the honor roll for five consecutive six-weeks are: left to right, Billie Feuerbacher, Pat Belinowski, Donna Hearne, Charlotte Baker, Emily Okabayashi, and Kathie Bynum.

Auto Mechanics, being a club to train students for future occupations, helps many boys improve their interests and their skills as well as their ambitions. This club is formed in order to promote better class projects and to gain ideas for the organization from the members.

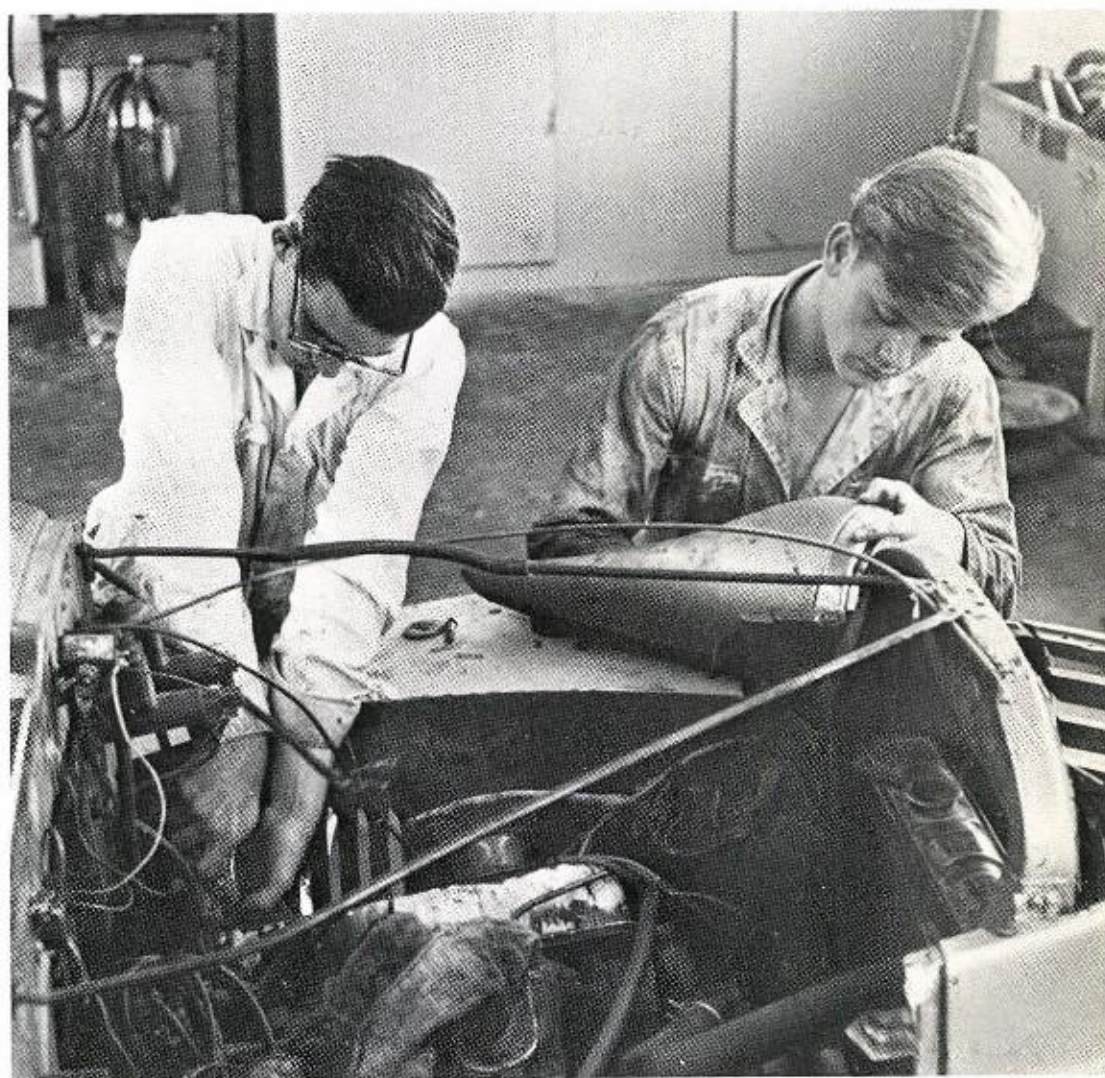

Auto Mechanics is a two year course for Junior and Senior boys that have the intentions of being mechanics after graduation. The club is sponsored by Mr. Bob Barnes, and there are a total of twenty-nine members in the club.

F.H.A. Installation Honors New Officers

On May 24, the installation of the new officers was held in the auditorium. The old officers gave their speeches on how they enjoyed holding their offices. The intentions of the new officers was read by the old officers holding that position. The new officers, then, had to accept the duties. In the installation, roses were used to signify each officer's position. Each rose used had a definite meaning. Each officer put her rose in the vase then read her part. After the installation the members of the F.H.A. presented Mrs. Rutledge, Miss Moffett, Mrs. Rollins, and Mrs. Yeaman with a corsage of roses (club flower) to show their appreciation for being such good teachers. According to Linda Cook, "This year the F.H.A. was a lot more active and it has done a lot more for the homemaking department."

Next year's President, Charlotte Baker, thanks all the F.H.A. members for electing her as their president.

Giving the intentions of Brenda Murray, Linda Cook gives her speech.

Judy Bass Reigns as F.F.A. Sweetheart

Judy Bass, senior, came away with the honor this year of reigning as FFA Sweetheart. Judy's club is designed to help boys develop skills in farming, livestock raising, and in getting along with people in competition and in general. The students compete in a school project show as well as in interschool competition. Each member works on some project through the year. In April, the projects were judged and displayed for the benefit of other students and faculty members. This project provides usage of the skills the boys learned in class.

This year, the chapter has grown into one of the largest clubs in Aldine. With over one hundred members, the club plays an active part in the school's activities.

Judy Bass, F.F.A. Sweetheart, models the sweetheart jacket presented to her by the club.

The Future Farmer's of America have grown to a size of over one hundred members.

Most Outstanding in Various Departments

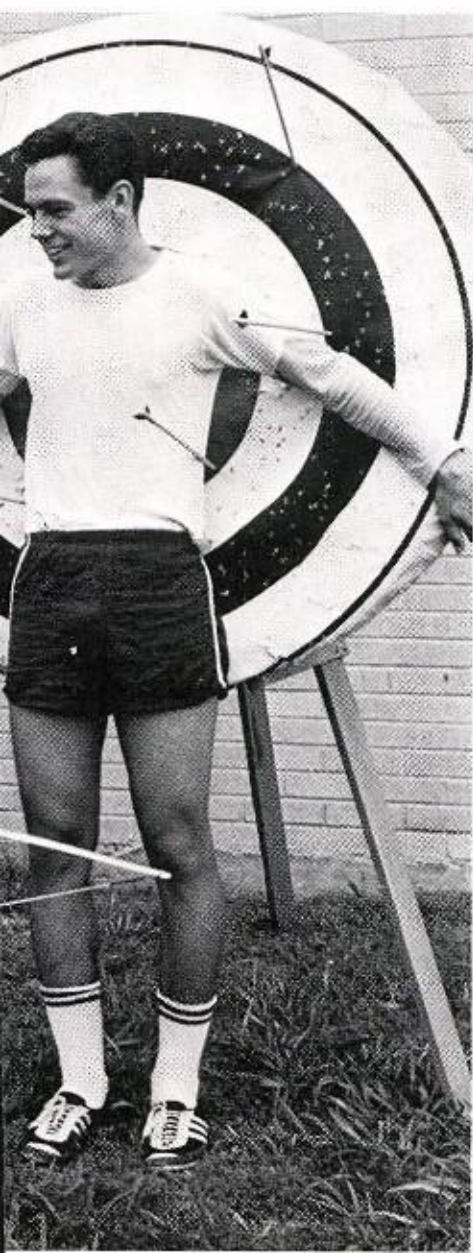

Who's Who

Nine seniors were chosen by the teachers to be outstanding in various departments. They were chosen in the latter part of May by the teachers for their outstanding achievement. This is one of the most outstanding honors to be bestowed upon the students. The students were chosen upon their leadership, over-all ability, initiative, and exceptional attitude during both semesters of the school year.

Top Students of Senior Class Honored

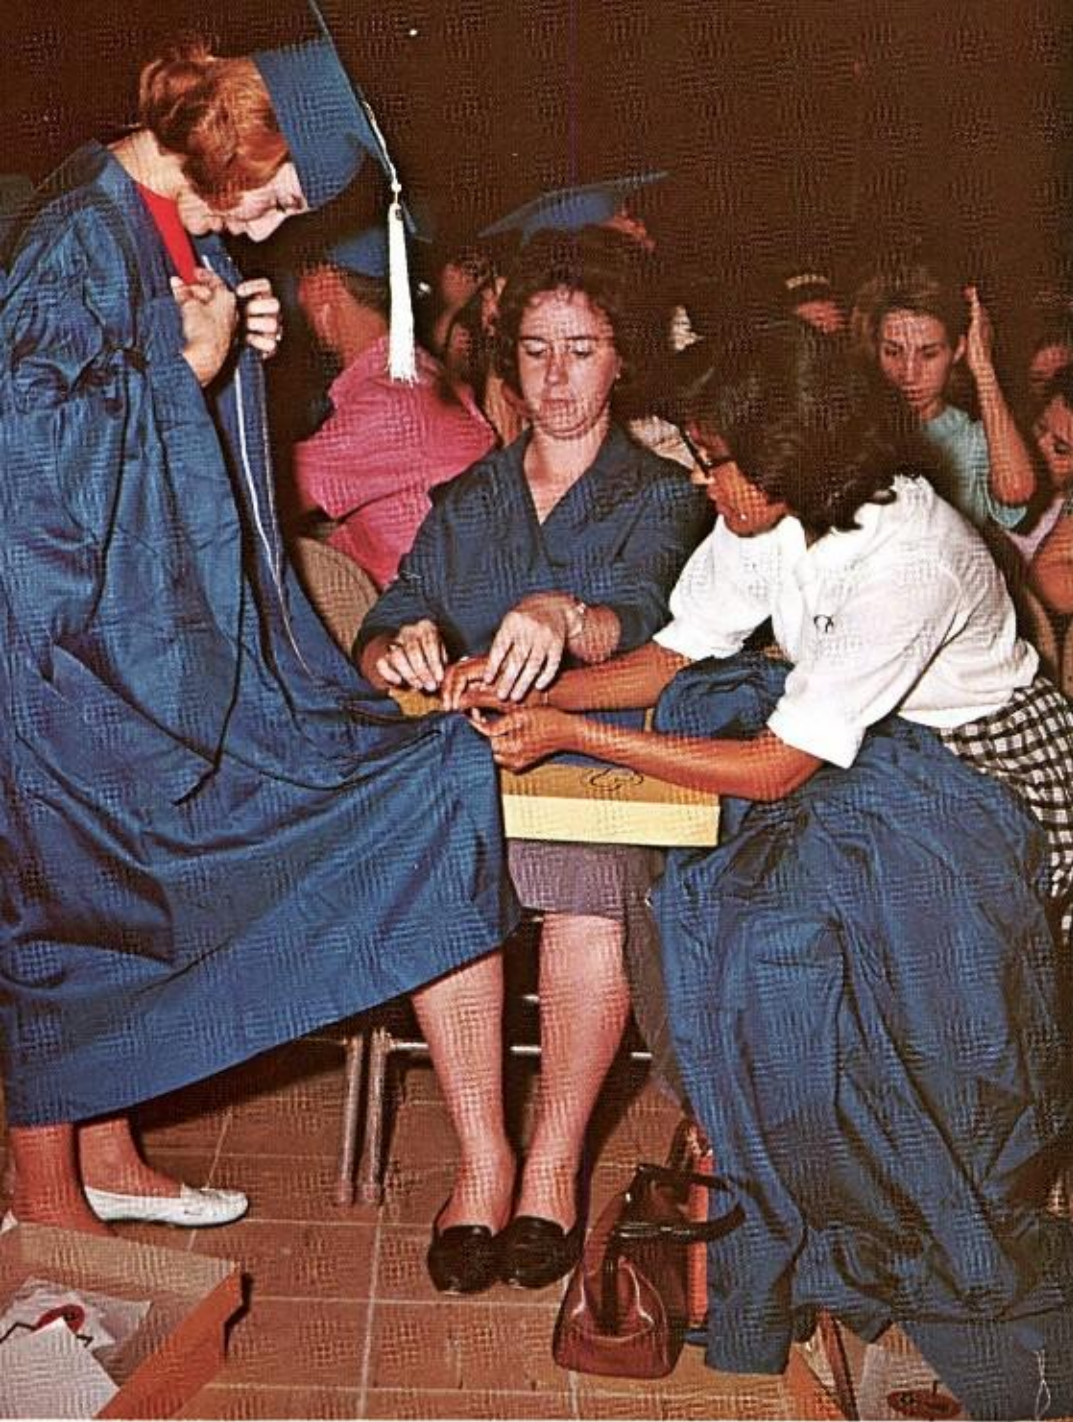

VALEDICTORIAN Billie Feuerbacher will graduate with an average of 95.06. Billie has been a member of the National Honor Society for two years and has actively participated in the band. She enjoys sewing and volleyball. For the future, Billie plans to get married.

SALUTATORIAN John Gaubatz who will graduate with a 94.16 average has put forth a great deal of effort while at Aldine High School. He is a member of the National Honor Society and enjoys sports such as baseball. John plans to attend Stephen F. Austin College and eventually become a doctor.

Seniors Receive Caps and Gowns and Practice Baccalaureate

Excitement prevailed fifth and sixth periods as seniors received their caps and gowns and practiced for the Baccalaureate Service to be held Sunday, May 29. A great amount of talking and laughing filled the auditorium as seniors made comparisons, used hand mirrors and the help of their neighbors to try on the long anticipated caps and gowns. By the end of the sixth period seniors headed home anxiously ready to show parents the traditional symbol of graduation and the fact that the end was almost near.

Seniors Recognized on

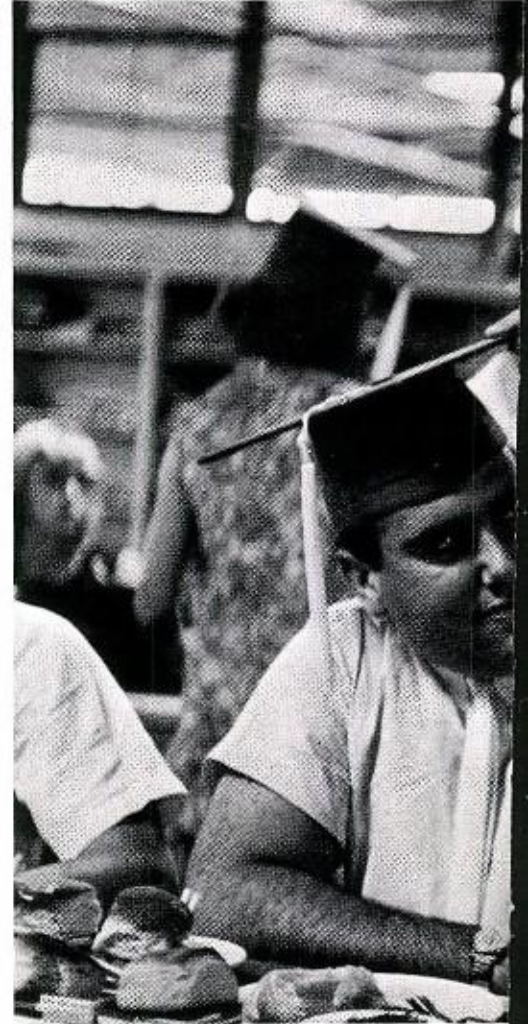

An advantage of being a senior on Cap Day was that you were able to take cuts in the lunch line.

I wonder who the seniors are, was a remark heard often from the underclassmen who were trying to be funny.

Dressing for the occasion brings tired feet for Kathy Nabors and Judy George as they find time to study with graduation nearing.

ap Day

Cap Day, on Monday, May 30, gave recognition to the graduating Seniors; for on this day the Seniors were able to wear their graduation caps and the underclassmen were "green with envy." The seniors proudly walked to class with their heads held high and that "confounded" tassel dangling in their face. Since this was the 'senior's' day they were able to take cuts in the lunch line and receive their lunch first. However, as the day drew to a close the Seniors marked Cap Day as one step closer in the direction of graduation.

The dangling tassel doesn't present a problem to Jimmy Walton while she eats. We wonder why?

"Well, be careful as you touch that cap!" exclaims Bryant Harris to a homore girl, who waits for the day she can wear a graduation cap.

"How can we see each other with these 'confounded' tassels?" asks Maria Eaker and Judy Butler.

to attain.

Tears and anxiety were the emotions of three hundred and twenty eight graduating seniors as they gathered for a final assembly as a class at Aldine Senior High School on June 3 for Commencement Exercises. This night will remain a milestone in the life of each senior as he goes out to face the world on his own.

The invocation was given by Salutatorian John Gaubatz. The choir then joined in with "Now the Day is Over" as a symbol to all the seniors. Billie Fuerbacher, Valedictorian, then gave an inspirational speech to her class. The guest speaker, Mr. Joe H. Reynolds, addressed the senior class to remind them graduating is not an ending point but a starting point for their life ahead.

The diplomas were then presented to the seniors by Mr. M. M. Morris, president of the Board of Education. Then, for the last time, they joined to sing their School Prayer. They were then dismissed, marching out to the strains of "Proud Heritage" played by the high school band.

Seniors

As we, the seniors, look back on the past years, we see many difficult and trying times. Somehow, however, we have conquered them. This, our final year in high school, will always be remembered. We will never forget the day we received our senior rings or the night of the Coronation. The last Homecoming game will also forever be in our memories. We will always have fond memories of our high school years.

This year has been fun and often difficult, but it was well worth every struggle for the reward will come. We have had Baccalaureate Services and have taken and passed out final examinations. We have practiced for graduation night and the last day of school has come and gone. Now, all we lack is the diploma. But, on June 3, even that will be over. Then, there will be nothing left but memories . . .

and the future!

Juniors

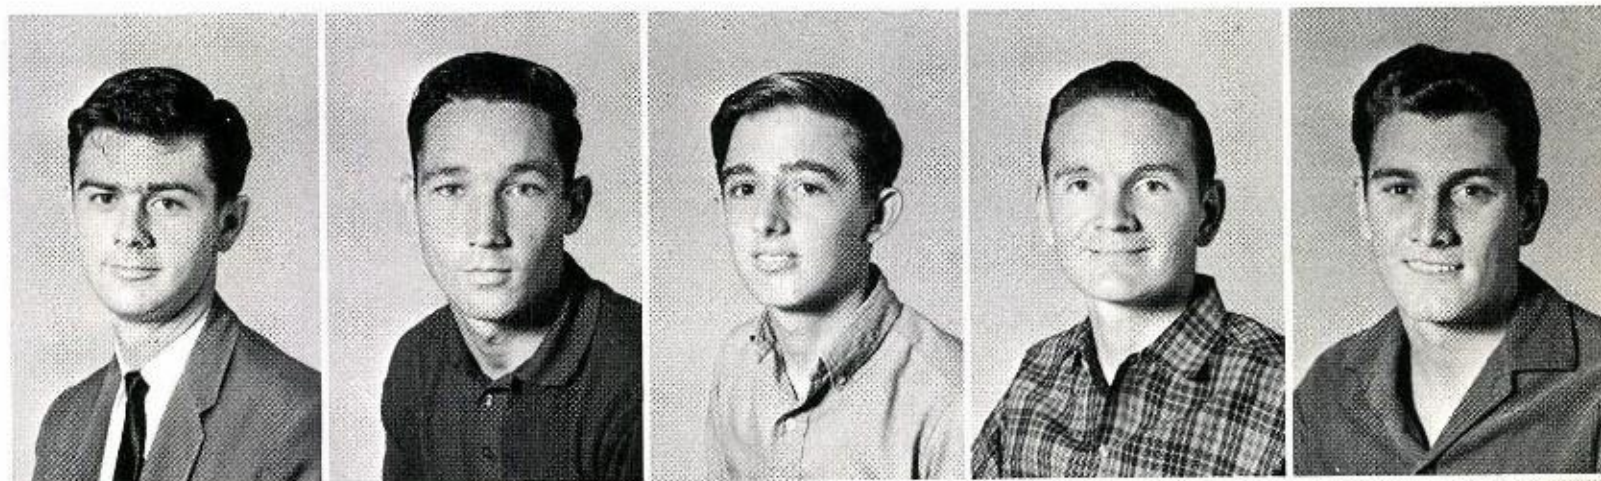

As juniors, 405 of us entered the new year of A.H.S. this year. The first few weeks of school were spent attending football games and cheering for the home team. There were a few sore throats while competing for the home team. In a rather trying campaign, we brought in money to the junior class by selling home team merchandise. The money earned from this campaign helped bring about a new home team. We attended our junior-senior prom at Sylvan Beach. In our other free moments we attended socials, watched "Batman", cheered at basketball games, went to track meets, sat through club meetings, finished homework during assemblies, and watched baseball games. Then came the day we were auctioned off to the dominant seniors on Slave Day. There were a few scheduled dates on our social calendar that provided time for studying. After much anticipation we ordered our senior rings. The end of school meant exams, but we somehow got through them. With sadness we watched old friends graduate and said farewell to many of our classmates who will attend the new MacArthur Senior High School. But this sadness did not last long for summer had at last arrived and we looked forward to our senior year.

Sophomores

In September, a record number of approximately 749 Sophomores, entered Aldine for the first time. Here they found new friends and instruments to use for achieving their goals. They found another world that existed under a microscope—a world of micro-organisms. Then, with books they learned and took imaginary trips to places they may never see.

At first there was confusion and getting used to high school; however, as the year progressed, the Sophomores settled down to a school year at Aldine.

The End

Dear Helen,

"Can You Believe?" We finally made it. Seniors at last. With the exception of English 74B, I think this year will be fine. I can't wait until our rings come in, then other things. Last but not least, Graduation!! What a fine day that will be.

Seriously now - I really enjoy being a friend of yours. More than you'd ever know. I won't mention how grateful I was to you on the last day of my Jr. Year. Yet not only that, but lots of other things.

This Year I hope to become better friends with the rest of the "Gang." But none will ever be like you! Don't forget that!!

I can't hardly wait until we go to College together next fall. That will be tough! Can you imagine us two finally living together? So much fun to come in the future Year.

Well, Lot of Luck with Robert Always and May God Always Be your strength -

Love Ya!

Looking forward to working with you in 7th grade next year. It's nice to have students like you.
 Michelle

Everyone that reads up ahead is a real sweet, reliable person, who I have enjoyed since last year. We are glad we got to be friends in Geometry class last year. I hope that we have more classes together again next year. We have had so much fun and I hope we can continue it. Like Erik, and I am very glad you are going with him. I hope you can stay as happy with him from the future as you are now. I hope that we can all get together this summer I hope we will all each other and have a blast together with you Erik and my?? Well anyway have fun in the summer. Hopefully means is your description from yesterday. Can't!

Helen - you're a girl
 but you're a pleasure to know.
 I'm surprised you do
 as well as you do in school - all that running around you do. However, I'm sure you'll do

 I know you will make a fine president in F.H.
 Best of Luck always.
 may the Lord bless you & keep you. I have really felt it a privilege to be acquainted with such a fine girl.

DEAR HELEN,

What would I have done that first day of school? I've told you this many times, but I want you to remember it always. If you hadn't of seen me on the bus, I might have gotten lost. ha!

Helen, in the sixteen years I have been living, I've had many friends, yet you've been the best and most dedicated person I have ever know. I really want to thank you and you know I appreciate you.

A real sweet person as you, Helen, I just can't imagine what it would be without you.

Yes, it took us long enough to become friends. But what friends we've finally become. This may seem stupid, but you are a person that I am really proud to know. I couldn't ask for a sweeter girl to know. I imagine Robert Wayne knows that also. Anyone can tell what a person you are by your personality.

We've had some great times ^{unofficially} officially, yet even better times "officially!" What a change for the best that first date with Robert made between you and I. I'm really glad it didn't happen any sooner, yet I'm more than glad it didn't happen any later. Robert doesn't know that he has an important part in our friendship! Yet he can never hurt us up

I wish you luck, I wish you
joy, I wish you first baby boy, and when his hair begins to curl I wish you then a baby girl, and when her hair is straight as pins, I wish you then a set of twins, and when they are the age of four I wish you then a dozen more!

May the Good Lord
Bless and Keep You.
